A Fifty-Fifty Proposition

I wanna go back to the circus
'Cause the life's got under my skin;
I wanna go back 'cause it's callin'—
An' houndin' my soul like a sin.

I wanna go back to the sawdust,
An' the smell o' the bales o' hay;
Paradin' along in the mornin'—
An' at night time stealin' away.

So I'm goin' back to the circus
To live like a prince or a sheik,
For they say that my wife on the trapeze
Is makin' a hundred a week!

"It's raining cats and dogs outside."
"Yes, isn't this beastly weather."

Tell me not in mournful numbers,
College is but waste of steam;
For although they make some blunders,
College men have got the "bean."

All enjoyment and not sorrow,
Is the student's life today;
Work put off until tomorrow,
Gives new life and time to play.

Art is long and science tedious,
And our hearts though brave and stout;
Like unmuffled Fords are beating,
When the X reports come out.

Lives of graduates all remind us,
We can throw away our time;
And some day can leave behind us,
College life, the all sublime.

—Tar Baby.

Darnation!

I know it's nothing but it chafes
And wounds my spirit more'n a knock;
It cuts me deep, so I must stop
And darn that hole in my left sock.
