

soon after scored a goal. Ashland replied with two field goals that put the Purple in the lead, 4-3. Ashland was getting far more shots than their opponents but the hoop and the leather would not connect.

Ashland shifted quickly from offense to defense and was displaying good form in getting the ball from the tipoff. The first half ended with Findlay leading 16 to 13. This first half had given Coach Murray a chance to observe the new formation which had been developed to offset the absence of McClintock from the lineup. The lineup was shifted slightly as the second period began.

Aggressive Game in Second Period

At the outset of the second period it was evident that Ashland was out to win the game. Ashland got the ball from the tipoff and started a fast offensive that soon put the leather thru the hoop. Quick shifts were made from offense to defense and the ball was handled with speed and accuracy.

Ashland guarded even tighter than in the first half. Practically no short shots were given the visitors. Kellogg was a marvel at going up and getting the ball off the backboard.

Ashland slowly overcame their opponents' lead. When the visitor's thermometer registered 20, Ashland's registered 18. Findlay made a foul for their last point and Ashland garnered one that again left them two points in the rear. With five minutes remaining time was taken out and when play was resumed Ashland scored the basket that tied the score. Hastings looped in another and McConihe, who had been sent in to replace Baylor, scored a third. This put the Purple in the lead 25-21 and another basket by Wood put the game on ice.

The playing of the Findlay aggregation was good because they were aggressive and took advantage of every opportunity. Routzen and Shaffer were the big noises for the Findlayites. Hastings led the scoring for Ashland with six buckets to his credit.

Findlay scored but 5 points in the last half as against Ashland's 14. The game was somewhat rough and the varsity distinctly felt the absence of McClintock, star forward, from the contest.

Loudonville Men Prove No Match For Spencer

Taking things easy during the entire course of the game, the Spencer crew easily conquered the warriors from Loudonville. Not paying much attention to offense and working mostly on defense, the Maroon and Grey held the southern team to no field goals and allowed them to make only two foul goals. Stuart worked best for the winners and Barnhart scored all the points for the losers.

Polk Drops Initial Contest To Rittman Five

Rittman and Polk drew the first numbers and fought for the privilege of meeting Burbank in the second round. Polk, altho completely outplayed and outscored, played a cleaner game than any other team during the day, only having two fouls called on players during the entire contest. Neither team showed much pep in the first half but Norris for Polk and Conley and Kurtz caged the leather rapidly as the game drew to a close. Ritter of Rittman and Tucker of Polk both played whirlwind games at guard. Final score, 25-11.

Last Period Rally Wins For Seville

One of the biggest upsets in the entire dope bucket happened when the Seville tossers outpointed the Ashland County Champions in a hotly contested game. Holding Sullivan to a one point lead in the first half, Seville came back with all she had in the final period and piled up a nine point margin as the gun cracked. Immel was high point man for Sullivan while Kendig and Taylor played bang-up basketball. Ely, the midget forward on the Seville crew scored three goals.

Day Shows Up Classy Stars on Many Teams

Many basketball players-in-the-making were revealed by the various events of the tourney. Perhaps the most valuable player of the day was Read from Albion. His percentage record is one which no other player in the tournament can equal. Out of the 31 points scored by his team in the two games played, he accounted for 20. His sensational shots from the center of the floor, won him the admiration of many opposing fans.

The man scoring the most points was Kurtz from Rittman, playing his first season at the sport. In the course of the day, he caged the sphere for 81 counters or an average of more than 18 points per game played.

Graber and Dodez, of Mount Eaton, scored 54 and 50 points respectively. Finding the basket from almost any angle, these two artists at the game registered points when baskets meant games.

Among the guardians of opponents' goals, few showed up as shining lights as much as among the forwards. Frey of Mt. Eaton performed his duty well. Ritter from Rittman was very efficient in this department of the game. Stuart of Spencer starred in the games in which he participated. At center, Taylor of Seville and Weisgarber of Eaton worked well.

Savannah Falls To Fast Seville Quintet

With Ringler and Forbes out of the lineup because of injuries received earlier in the season, Savannah proved easy meat for the pill passers from Seville. Seville held the Maroon and Block scoreless for one half but when she resorted to the use of her substitutes, the plucky Savannah team found the hoop for six marks.

Fredricksburg Five Surprises Tourney Fans

With only five players and not even a coach accompanying them on their trip, the bucket tossers from Fredericksburg threw a neat little surprise into camp when they held the highly touted Albion braves to a reasonably low score. The losers led by two points at the half but were forwards completely outwitted the Albion guards while the Green and White guards made scarcely any attempt to score. Mt. Eaton tried a large number of long shots, few of which went true to the mark, but constant following in, converted many of them into markers. The game was the cleanest of the tournament, only six fouls being called during the entire contest. Kurtz starred for the losers while Dodez and Graber were the mainstays for Eaton.

Mt. Eaton Eliminates Lucas In First Game

In a game which revealed no individual stars, Mt. Eaton snatched the bacon from the hands of the Lucas stalwarts. For one half, the teams ran neck and neck with neither gaining any decisive lead. The score at the half was 9-9. In the second half Hunsinger and Frey threw a wrench in the Orange and Black scoring machine while their colleagues scored ten points. Final score 19-11.
