

SPLENDID PROGRAM AT MONTHLY STUDENT RECITAL

Chapel Too Small To Accomodate Audience

The Student recital, held Monday of this week in the Chapel was a success from every point of view. Perhaps, at no time this year, was a better recital from the context and delivery points of view, given. Each student handled his or her part to the very best of his or her ability. A large crowd packed the room and standing room was at a premium. B. C. Smith, of Tennessee, Miss Catherine Teeter of Dayton, Ohio, and Miss Lauretta Bockley of Ashland, received the greatest ovations and won the admiration of the entire audience.

APPEAL FOR APOSTOLIC FAITH IN BAME'S SERMON

Wisdom of Accepting Religion of First Century Stressed

Dr. Chas. A. Bame filled the pulpit of the College Brethren Sunday morning. The subject of Dr. Bame's sermon was "Twentieth Century and First Century Religion." In the course of his sermon Dr. Bame pointed out how that Spiritism, Russellism, and Christian Science differed from the religion that Christ brought to the world. He pointed out how that we must go back to the first century for our finest examples of art, architecture, sculpture and such orators as Cato, Demosthenes, and for philosophers like Socrates and Plato. If we need to go back to the first century for such things why not for our religion? He made a ringing appeal for apostolic faith in his conclusion.

The student body and church always appreciate the messages of Dr. Bame. He always comes with a living and vital message. He is here at the present time in the interest of Educational Day in the Brethren Church. The offering that is given on that day will go to the College and Dr. Bame is anxious to make that offering the largest that the Brethren Church has ever taken.

PHILOMATHEANS WILL GIVE MOTHER'S DAY PROGRAM

Large Audience Attends Original Playette Last Week

Philomathean Hall was packed by a very appreciative audience last Friday. The big attraction was the humorosity of Martha Schultz. It took the form of a playette. Very vivid were the pictures of the old red school house life presented to us. The last day of school exercises as worked out by Miss Schultz and her actors met with hearty applause. An original poem on "Philo that is and Philo to be" was given by Miss Gongwer.

This week the program will be a Mother's Day Program. Many special features have been woven into this evening's entertainment. A record breaking attendance is expected at this meeting. Out of respect for Mother all are urged to attend.

The financial committee reports that all small bills have been paid and part of the bill for the redecoration of the hall. It is the expectancy of the Committee to have all dues and assessments collected by the last of next week. A recent visitor at the institution remarked, "Philo Hall is the most attractive room in the build-

"SCRIBES" ANNUAL PLENARY SESSION IS WELL ATTENDED

Forceful Papers Read By Barnard and Pfeleiderer

The second annual plenary session of the "Scribes" was held last Thursday night in the College Chapel before a good sized attendance.

Two papers were read before the assembly and a twenty minute discussion held upon each. The chief speakers in the discussion were members of the organization but visitors joined in at the urge of the members.

The first paper was a fair and comprehensive discussion of the Ku Klux Klan by Mr. Barnard entitled, "What of the Fiery Cross?" The second was a forward looking paper by Mr. Pfeleiderer upon present tendencies in the Christian churches and in the religious field at large. It was entitled, "The Future of the Church." Upon this last paper a warm and lively discussion ensued and there was much diversity of opinion evidenced.

Members of the organization are meeting this week for the election of new members.
