

Y. M.--Y. W. HANDBOOK WILL BE PUBLISHED THIS SUMMER

Will Contain Every Feature of Interest About College

An Ashland College handbook for the information of new and old students will be issued by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. this spring. This book will contain everything of interest about Ashland and will be on the order of handbooks issued by the Christian Associations of other Colleges.

All student activities—Publications, Clubs, Organizations, athletic schedules, the school calendar, improvements, College history, information and rules for freshmen, football, basketball, baseball, songs and yells, in fact everything that any person entering or considering entering here would wish to know will be listed and explained.

Ida Weaver and Harold McAdoo have the work of putting out this new Ashland publication in their charge.

This new step is certainly a step in advance and will aid greatly new students who will enter Ashland in the fall. Heretofore students who came to Ashland had little information about student life. This handbook will have everything from A to Z for the new student and will also be of interest to present students. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are to be congratulated upon this new step.

UNIQUE PARTY AT HOME OF MR. AND MRS. BRADFIELD

In Honor of Engaged Couple—Twenty-nine Present

On Wednesday evening, May 29, twenty-nine young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Landis R. Bradfield on College Avenue in honor of the engagement of Miss Ferne Hartzler and Mr. Russell D. Barnard. The party was a surprise for the newly engaged couple. A number of beautiful and useful gifts were presented to the honored ones.

Refreshments and unique games in the nature of "mental gymnastics" helped make the evening pleasant and enjoyable.

The fun was held in the basement which was tastefully decorated with Japanese trimmings, lanterns, parasols, fans, flowers, and the Japanese flag. Colored electric bulbs shed a varicolored glow over the room. Lilies, chrysanthemums, snowballs, clusters of apple and cherry blossoms, with the odor of sandalwood and incense lent the exotic atmosphere of the orient to the occasion. Oriental music heightened the effect of this scene.

Many words of appreciation for the pleasure of the evening were directed to the host and hostess. Words of felicitation and good wishes were received by Miss Hartzler and Mr. Barnard.

PROGRAMS GIVEN AT HIGH SCHOOLS IN VICINITY

Trips have been made to surrounding high schools this week in the interest of the college by a group of students and members of the faculty.

Several towns have been visited each day and programs and speeches given. Ruggles, Rittman, Nova, Spencer, Homer, Polk and Savannah were visited up to Wednesday night of this week. More trips may be made.

A quartet, Shirley Price, Miriam Croford, Harriet Becknell and Mildred Liethy was carried on some of the trips and on others Ruth Beckley and Lauretta Bockley entertained. Albert Wood, Marion Baylor, Arthur Petit, Coach Arthur Murray and Prof. H. H. Wolford were used on the trips and made speeches about college advantages and activities.

An announcement, which came as a surprise to many students who were not acquainted with the principals, is that of the engagement of Mr. James A. McConihe, '23, and Miss Esther J. Wiens of Lorain. Miss Wiens is a sister of Harold F. Wiens,

SIGNIFICANCE AND SACREDNESS OF PRACTICE OF COMMUNION

Sermon By Dr. R. R. Teeter Last Sunday

At the regular Sunday services here this Sunday morning preceding the Communion services held in the evening Dr. R. R. Teeter, the business manager of the Brethren Publishing Company, delivered the sermon. Dr. Teeter as was fitting to the particular occasion gave a message appropriate to services preparatory to communion. He gave the significance of the communion services. He pointed out the benefits to be derived from this service to Christians. He also eulogized to some extent the sacredness of this practice of the Church.

A male quartet composed of College men was an addition of note to the Choir. A selection rendered by the quartet was worthy of praise. A number of visitors were present for this service.

CARD OF THANKS

Thru these columns, Hesperian Literary Society wishes to express its sincere thanks to Mr. John Sperry for his kindness in allowing the organization to hold their annual hike on his premises.

The Rubylat of Hizz Ker Chew

He wooed her four expensive months,
She was a heartless dame,
Frigid to his least advance
Her name remained the same.

At last one night, in moonlight bright
She changed her chilly tone
As she told him how she loved him,
How she longed for him alone.

Her rich, red lips she raised to his
Her lashes slightly fell,
He took her in his eager arms—
But the rest I hate to tell.

Poor lad; he missed that longed for kiss
Her lips he did not press.
The waiting maid did not receive
Her lover's fond caress.

He shivered like an aspen tree
Before the wintry blast,
His eyes grew wide, while at his side
His arms did fall at last.

He lost his loving attitude
In fact he seemed to jeer.
His lips took on an ugly curl,
He turned and seemed to sneer.

With eyes ablaze she tossed her head,
"Then you refuse my kiss?
And after all that you have said,
You turn away like this?"
