His Mistake

He longed to find the road to fame,
But not a highway bore that name.

He thought to glory there must be
A level path that he should see;

But every road to which he came
Possessed a terrifying name.

He never thought that fame might lurk
Along the dreary path called Work.

He never thought to go and see
What marked the road called Industry.

Because it seemed so rough and high,
He passed the road to Service by.

Yet had he taken either way,
He might have come to fame some day.

FOR THE FEMININES

Don't get so stuck up. Even a barn looks good when it's painted.

When Congressman Livingston, of Georgia, was in town the other day, he brought with him a joke on John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, the genial leader of Democracy on the floor of the House.

"He was making a speech down in Mississippi," is the way Livingston told the story, "when suddenly a man in the audience said: 'I've been robbed by pick-pockets.'"

"Williams first showed dismay, and then that curious smile of his began to spread all over his countenance. 'I didn't suspect there were any Republicans present,' was the retort he made, in an endeavor to use the incident as an object lesson.

"No more there are," was the astonishing and discomfiting reply of the victim; 'I'm the only one.'

"It almost broke up the meeting, but Williams finally got another grip on his audience, and avoided object lessons after that."

Frosh Manage College Sing

Unique Features Introduced

The weekly college sing which was held under the auspices of the Freshmen Thursday evening, October 26, contained some few features which speak well for Frosh Pep.

The theme of the sing was Patriotism. Patriotic songs, and the pledge of allegiance were used in the first part of the program. Milton Puterbaugh, faculty advisor for the neophytes, gave a very interesting talk on Patriotism.

The feature of the evening was the appearance of Ghosts, each of which represented a football game which had been played. Each of the ghosts told his story of how he had played well in the past and the Ghost of the Hiram game told how Ashland beat Hiram 70 to 0.

The sing was under the personal direction of Ida Weaver of Nappanee, Indiana and much praise is due to her for its success.

A flashlight picture of the Group was a failure.

On account of the many other activities, only about 50 students attended this function this week.

"Waiter," said the customer, after waiting fifteen minutes for his soup, "have you ever been to the zoo?"

"No, sir."

"Well you ought to. You'd enjoy watching the turtles whiz past you."

Timely advice to motorists: Watch closely the automobile just behind the one ahead of you.

"If you're waking call me early; call me early, mother dear."

A request like that from daughter seemed so strange, unique and queer

That a poet, overhearing, wrote a long sonorous rime

That'll thunder down the ages till the very end of time.
