Kent Expected to Give Hard Battle

Ashland with two games played is looking forward to the opening game with Kent Normal next Saturday on her home field. The mettle of the eleven has been proven by the showing made against two powerful Ohio Conference teams, and students can expect the team to go good on their own field.

Kent has lost two games this season but that means nothing, as Kent would rather lose every game, if by doing so she would be sure to win from Ashland. Kent has in her lineup a man who is going to give Ashland students some thrills Saturday. This man is Ryan who calls the signals for Kent. In the opinion of many sport writers he is one of the best open field runners in Ohio, besides being a remarkable punter and good field general. Equipped with the triple threat in Ryan, Kent should present a dangerous offense.

The Purple team is working hard for this game, and as several men will be out of the lineup on account of injuries, Coach Murray is busy grooming new men to take their places.

Ashland On Accredited List To Train H. S. Teachers

Ashland College of Arts and Sciences is now fully recognized by the State of Ohio for the training of High School teachers, so that those who graduate from this College and who have taken work in Education as indicated in the College catalogue, will be certified without examination.

The Normal Department is fully recognized also by the Department of Public Instruction of the State of Ohio for the training of elementary teachers, and those who complete the work are granted a temporary certificate without examination.

This does not mean that heretofore graduates from Ashland College were not granted certificates to teach in High Schools. It only means that in the past the graduates of this Institution were required

IMPRESSIVE PAGEANT OPENS Y. W. YEAR

Shirley Price--Leader

Under the leadership of Miss Shirley Price, the Y. W. C. A. started the year off right with a meeting at which the main feature was a pageant which occupied about one-third of the time, and which proved to be very fitting for an opening program. The pageant was "The Service of the Lights." About twelve girls, mostly upperclassmen, took part in the event.

The meeting under the leadership of the president was helpful. Miss Price read the scripture and tried to impress upon the minds of the girls that true worth was not found in clothes, but rather in character. The leader's talk consisted of the purpose, aims and origination of the Y. W. C. A. Margaret Schmiermund, accompanied by Ruth Beekley, played a violin solo to the delight of her listeners. Retha Dausman, LaVerda Fuller, and Esther Kendig told of the great things that the Y had done for them.

Mrs. Wolford and Mrs. Jacobs told of the things that the Y should mean to every girl. Their talks were very impressive.

The pageant which successfully capped the climax of the program was the portrayal of the spirit of the Association which was manifested to the world through the Y. W. The foreign countries and American girls were represented by costumed girls. The play was quite impressive.

New song leaflets were distributed at this meeting and some of the songs were practiced under the leadership of Hattie Beeknell.

About 50 girls were present, 30 of which were freshmen.

The boys dismissed their session of Y. M. early so that they might view the spectacle. They were evidently very much pleased with the girls' successful effort.

DEAN MILLER PREACHES AT SUNDAY SERVICES

Prof. DeLozier Leads Y. M.

Value of Time, Subject

Rev. A. L. DeLozier spoke to a group of Y. M. C. A. men Tuesday evening, October 10, 1922. The theme of the Professor's talk was the value of time. We see by proverbs and statements of great men that the subject "Time" has been discussed in almost every age. An old French proverb says, "The man who gains time wins everything." Longfellow defined time as the life of the soul, while Ben Franklin reminds us that time is the stuff life is made of.

The man with a well arranged mind is sure to have his time well arranged. The value that a man places on time shows if he is ascending or descending. The descending man has little value of time. Professor DeLozier, in closing, said, "Make every second count in preparing for your life's work, the value of these seconds is unmeasurable."

Mr. Koontz, financial committee chairman, made a few statements about the paying of the pledges and the amount of money now in the treasury. In closing President Barnard outlined the programs for the following three weeks. Charles Mayes, Vice President of the "Y," will have charge of the next meeting, October 17. The state secretary of the Student Y. M. C. A., Herb Seagans, will talk to the "Y" men October 24. On October 31 Rev. Akers will speak to a joint meeting of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. The Y. M. C. A. meetings at the college are golden opportunities. Grasp them.

Misses Zimmerman and Dively Speak

In a meeting featured by the appearance of a freshman as a speaker, Vernice Bond finished her Eaglesmere report and at the same time held the undergraduate meeting in Y. W. C. A. this week. The at-

ASHLAND STOPS MOUNT MACHINE

Game Ends in Scoreless Tie GOOD FOOTBALL DISPLAYED BY BOTH TEAMS

The Purple and Gold eleven in what proved to be one of the hardest games on the Ashland schedule, played Mount Union at Alliance to a scoreless tie last Saturday. The Ashland team played with distinction on both offense and defense.

The game, played on a slightly slippery field was spectacular. Both teams attempted and completed a large number of forward passes. In the first half the Ashland forwards outcharged the Mount Union linemen and continually forced the Mount backs to punt. Mount Union came back strong in the third quarter and threatened the Ashland goal line but the Ashland line proved their steadiness again and held until Mount passed over the goal line and failed to complete.

The game was spirited and both teams possessed an unlimited amount of fight.

Neither team fumbled more than could be expected and good football was played throughout the contest.

The entire Ashland line starred in the game. Weber made a name for himself by his long punts. Weber's punts averaged fifty-three yards and one time he booted the pigskin for sixty. Wharton gained consistently through the line and made a number of good tackles. Curry played the best all around game, making long gains running back punts and in the open field. Curry showed himself able to handle the team when a loss would have been disastrous.

Rupert, playing his first game of football, as a halfback played like an old timer. He ran good interference and was on the receiving end of a pass from Curry that netted twenty yards.

Fleming was the outstanding player of the Mounts. His runs off tackle and around end gained ground for the Alliance aggregation. Moore, the Mount Union center

SECOND QUARTER—

Mount punted 43 yards to Curry who ambled 7 yards before tackled. With the ball on Ashland's 43 yard line Wharton found a hole and went for 6. Fox made a yard at center and Curry failed to gain through left guard. Weber punted 43 yards to Whitman who returned 18 yards. A pass, Freese to Curry netted five yards. Freese threw two more passes which with several line plunges took Ashland to Mount Union's 16 yard mark. Here Freese passed again but Whitman intercepted and ran 2 yards. Whitman punted 42 yards to Freese who came back 4. Ashland passed but failed. Curry made 2 off right tackle. Weber punted to Fleming who ran 15 yards to the 40 yard line. Myers made a yard through guard. Myers passed to Harris and gained 5. Ashland was penalized 15 for alleged roughness. Fleming made 3 at right guard. Fleming tried center but flunked. Myers passed but did not connect. Myers drop kicked a weak one that fell ten yards short of the cross bar. Curry received and wallowed 6 yards upstream. Weber punted out of bounds on the 26 yard line. Myers tried another drop kick from the center of the field that went out of bounds. Half ended with the ball in Ashland's possession on the 12 yard line. Score, Ashland 0—Mount Union 0.

THIRD QUARTER—

Moore of Mount Union kicked off to Wharton on the 20 yard line. Wharton returned 5 yards and was tackled by Myers. Curry jabbed at left guard but Whitman and Mattes broke through and stopped him on the line. Fox made a yard at the same place. Weber punted out of bounds on Mount's 49 yard line. Fleming made 6 yards in two smashes at right
