

The Ashland Collegian

Editorial Staff

EDITOR J. Weldon Hoot

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

Geo. K. Stone Arthur Petit
Fred Schmuck Charles Mayes

SPECIAL REPORTERS

Y. M. C. A. Ralph Landis
Y. W. C. A. Ruth Lewis

BUSINESS MANAGER John C. Wissinger

ASSISTANT BUSINESS MANAGERS .. Herald Lower, Jesse Tarrh

Official Publication of Ashland College

Published thirty times a year by the students of Ashland College.
At the Brethren Publishing Co., Ashland, Ohio.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1922

Entered at the postoffice at Ashland, Ohio, as second class matter.
Issued Thirty Times a Year.—Price $1.50.

All editorials are written by the Editor unless otherwise signed.

A GREAT DAY

The Home Coming celebration was the biggest day that Ashland College ever had. The single fact that there were from twenty-five hundred to three thousand spectators is enough to astound the person who was not in attendance. But more than this there is a larger fact which must be appreciated. It is this—Of that three thousand crowd every one was a rooter and a booster for the College on the Hill. Two years ago or even one short year ago it would have been impossible to gather such a body for an Ashland College football game.

The meteoric rise of this institution to prominence is little short of miraculous. The small number of Alumni present points to the fact that former students here are as yet unable to appreciate the rapid and unheard of ascent that Ashland College has made in the past two years. It is certain that in another year the Home Coming Day will bring at least a hundred graduates to their Alma Mater.

WE THANK YOU BUSINESS MEN

It is with especial earnestness that the Editor expresses the profound appreciation of the College authorities and of the student body for the loyal support and enthusiasm which the business men of Ashland gave to the College upon the event of the first Home Coming Day.

Business men are indeed to be congratulated who are willing to close the doors of their stores and attend en masse the game which

Parnassus Breezes

BY G. K. STONE

RONDEAU

At Pinkapoo, where castles high
Uplift their towers against the sky
Idyllic vistas rise to view,
But to recede, as such things do
When curious travelers draw nigh.

There Aphrodite's jewels lie
Where iridescent sunsets die—
By boundless oceans, filled with dew,
At Pinkapoo.

In vain do earth's poor splendors vie
With such proud marvels, and we sigh
For this fair land beyond the blue
Where mermaids gambol, two by two,
And fairy-laden ships go by—
At Pinkapoo.

OUR BI-FORTNIGHTLY JOURNAL

One of the outstanding features of this week's news is the culmination of Kaiser Bill's recent love affair in holy matrimony. The significant thing is that his chosen one is a widow of non-imperial rank. On account of this fact we are inclined to voice a weak cheer for the Kaiser and to compliment him upon having done a comparatively wise thing. In the first place this action bears evidence of the fact that Wilhelm has definitely given up the hope of ever returning to Berlin in his former role, inasmuch as by this action he shall have alienated all the old hard-shelled reactionaries who are in the habit of postulating that their kaiser can do no wrong. In the second place he undoubtedly realizes that his days upon the earth are numbered, and that, in view of the fact that his present possibilities of spending an enjoyable existence in the next world are none too reassuring, it would be a good idea to have as much fun during the remainder of his earthly days as possible. In fact, when viewed from this perspective, he actually appears almost human.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

If there are any petrified idiots in the audience who might find some pleasure in learning that Dr. C. Farr is an optometrist in Mt. Carmel, Illinois, we suppose that they ought to be served. The information is hereby awarded.

IN REPLY TO P. G. D. Q.'S INQUIRY

Q. Who is the author of the following quotations: "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, "There is no dog so bad that he will wag his tail."

Ans. Art Petit.

RUBAIYAT OF AN UP-TO-DATE CYNIC

Ah, gracious Omar, well didst thou succeed
In making Wine the Wise-Man's primal

HUB'S TAILOR SHOP

Made to Measure Clothes
DRY CLEANING & PRESSING
Russell Tallentire

22½ West Main Street.

Phone 1133.

Corona Typewriters For Students

Substantial, light weight, simplicity an unusual number of up-to-date features as back-spacer, adjustable paper fingers, platen release, two-color ribbon, escapement, throw out, and absolute-visible writing. A practical machine and easier to operate than writing with pen or pencil.

COME IN AND TALK IT OVER
Sterling Shop

Palace Programme

MONDAY, OCTOBER 30

Herbert Rawlinson in "THE MAN UNDER COVER"

TUESDAY, AND WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 31, NOVEMBER 1

Richard Bartholmess in "EXPERIENCE"

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 3, 4

House Peters and Virginia Valli in
"THE STORM"

COMING:

Thomas Meighan in "If You Believe Its So Its So"

FRANK B. DOWNS

We are showing many new styles in Jewelry,
Silverware and Glass

SEE US WHEN IN NEED OF GIFTS

Frank B. Downs

BURRIS & FASIG Tire Hospital

327 Orange St. VULCANIZING Ashland, Ohio

Phone 110 for Tire Ambulance

We will call for your tire, repair and replace it on your car