Y. M. C. A. THROWS STAG PARTY

Girls Excluded In Big Men
Only Affair

Thursday evening, September 14 marked the institution of another annual event of the college year in the form of a Y. M. C. A. Get-Acquainted and Stag Party. Under the direction of Barnard and Cashman about thirty upperclassmen and Freshmen enjoyed themselves with games and an abundance of eats.

For some years, it is said, an attempt has been made to establish such a party so the freshmen may come to better know their classmates and upperclassmen. The successful institution of this event is merely another epoch in the irresistible onward sweep of Ashland College.

The event brought forth results immediately. First year students forgot their old sorrows in the midst of jollification and games and drowned their troubles and homesickness in the lemonade barrel. Perhaps the most significant event of the evening was a tug-of-war between the Upperclassmen and Freshmen in which the latter won easily.

Upon departing, many Freshmen expressed their gratitude to the Y and hoped that the event would be an annual affair. "The party has been a success," Mr. Barnard declared after the eats had been served.

Church Entertains College Students

Delightful Entertainment
Held In Chapel

One hundred College students were entertained at the Chapel Wednesday evening, September 20 by the local Brethren church. A means of making the people acquainted was afforded by the Christian Endeavor Society under George Pontius. All those in attendance were divided into four groups, depending upon the locality from which they came. The states of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, and Kentucky were the first group, Ohio the second, Indiana the third, and all the states west of the Mississippi made a fourth. The purpose of these groups was to note the chief excellencies of their own locality and to enumerate the defects of some other. Members from various states made speeches, but despite the fact that Indiana was said to be the garden spot of the world, it was also found to be the dumping ground for Pennsylvania. It was also noticed that a large number of Indiana students have come to Ohio, the educational center of the world, to gain an education. The students from California, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Texas were skillful in defending the cause of the west. After an hour of pleasure thus spent each found a partner and enjoyed a lunch with hot coffee. The church proved itself capable of making both old and new students feel completely at home.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good, the men who are bad
As good and as bad as I.

Then why should I sit in the scorner's bench,
Or hurl the cynic's ban?
Let me live in a house by the side of
the road
And be a friend to man.—Foss.
