Trinidad. Two days out, he was taken by a French

privateer who took out the mate and one seaman, leaving on board Captain Blunt and four seamen who were feigning sickness.

After the privateer had sailed away, Captain Blunt and the four seamen found the prize crew in one of the cabins gambling.

After a brisk fight, the vessel was recaptured and the prize crew forced to put to sea in a boat.

On April 10, 1823, Charles E. Blunt, owner and master of the Brig ALERT had his vessel at Matanzas. Boarded by pirates, the vessel was rifled, Captain Blunt, stabbed and ^{thrown} ~~thrown~~ into the sea. He was rescued by the crew.

During the Revolution, Mr. Ladd built the 20-gun ship HERCULES. In a Halifax paper, an^{ad} appeared to the effect that this ship would be sold on a certain date, and the vessel was captured and sold on the date advertised. He was the sole owner of the Privateer Bg. GEN. SULLIVAN of 14 guns and 100 men, which vessel captured the Ship MARY of 8 guns and recaptured the Ship HARRIET that had been cut out of Gloucester by the enemy and taken to sea. He was also sole owner and master of the Privateer WHITE OAK of 6 guns and 15 men.

He also built the Ship ARCHELAUS of nearly 500 tons at Exeter in three years. The largest vessel built in this section for fifty years. Sold to Scott of Boston and lost off Cape Cod.

SHAPLEY, Reuben.

Portsmouth.

As Importer:

Reuben Shapley was one of the most important figures in New Hampshire's commercial circles. In 1791, he imported 272 gallons of molasses, 16,000 pounds of sugar, 9,000 gallons of rum, and 15,000 pounds of coffee, 1,600 pounds of cotton and 500 gallons of wine. Another big year was 1796 when he brought in 107,000 pounds of sugar, 5,500 gallons of rum and 70,000 pounds of coffee from the West Indies and South America, and merchandise from Europe valued at $14,000. He reached his height in sugar in 1811 when he imported 275,000 pounds. After the War of 1812, he traded with the West Indies until 1824 but he did not reach his former place.

During the War of 1812, was captain of the Portsmouth Privateer THOMAS, capturing the DROMO valued at $325,000 and the DIANA valued at $203,000. He also captured the Nova Scotia Privateer LIVERPOOL PACKET which was doing considerable damage along the New England coast. He, in turn, was captured September 29, 1813, by the British Frigate NYMPH off Cape North and held prisoner. Released, he assumed command of the Privateer PORTSMOUTH of 270 tons and was recaptured November 7, 1814. His greatest prize, possibly was his passenger Rebecca Sampson when he landed at Portsmouth July 6, 1824, ^{shortly} for ~~shortly~~ after, she became his wife.

He was made Captain of the Revenue Cutter PORTSMOUTH in 1830 and served until 1833 when he became captain of the Revenue Cutter MADISON on being assigned to the Portsmouth Custom House. Thomas M. Shaw died April 6, 1836.
