THE

Portsmouth • Shoe • Company.

THE largest shoe factory in the world is located right here in Portsmouth. The Portsmouth Shoe Company was organized in 1886, and commenced manufacturing thirty cases per day, or 1800 pairs. To-day their capacity is over one hundred and fifty cases per day, and it is run to its utmost capacity a greater part of the year. The plant itself is the most complete, and the management is noted throughout the trade as being the most progressive of any of its competitors. One thousand hands are given employment by this hustling industry, and the wages paid give the workmen a good living, and they are enabled to save a dollar for a rainy day. Ladies', Misses' and Children's shoes is the product of the concern, and they are sold in the United States. The shoes manufactured by the Portsmouth Shoe Company find a ready market, as they are noted all over the country as being of the best that is manufactured. Skilled shoe men are employed, and it is said by leading shoe men, that the Portsmouth Shoe Company has the best class of help in the world.

Col. Charles P. Berry, the Vice President and General Manager of the Company, is a thorough business man, and is one of the best known shoe manufacturers in the business. He understands every part of the business, and his ability has made the Company what it is to-day. All the latest improved machinery is used, and the machinery is moved by steam and electricity combined.

PORSCMOUTH SHOE COMPANY'S FACTORY

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIVE SIXTY-PAIR CASES IS THE PRESENT PRODUCT OF THE PLANT, AND THE PAY-ROLL AMOUNTS TO ABOUT $10,000 A WEEK.

ELVIN NEWTON.

SHERMAN T. NEWTON.

HON. FRANK JONES, proprietor of the ROCKINGHAM, desires to set forth without exaggeration the advantages offered by the ROCKINGHAM as a model Winter and Summer home. It is not said in any spirit of boasting that this has long been the verdict of the best informed travellers.

In reconstructing the ROCKINGHAM no expense was spared to erect a structure in all its parts adapted throughout to the requirements of its day, attractive in its architecture, and elegant in its appointments. In short, a house in which simple elegance, solid comfort, and studied attention to every possible want, however minute, from an electric bell to an elevator, should announce to the most fastidious guest a first-class hotel conducted on first-class principles.

It is luxuriously appointed, and conducted on the American plan. It is located in the fashionable residence section, and yet within a few minutes' walk of the business district of the city. Its cuisine and service are unexcelled, and the hotel offers superior advantages to those desiring quiet and elegant surroundings.

Any further information regarding rates, etc., can be had by addressing the manager, who would be pleased to call if so desired.

Advantages of Gas for Cooking.

The true value of gas as a fuel for domestic purposes is known and appreciated alone by those who have used it, and cannot well be over-estimated.

The work of introducing gas cooking ranges to the public is one of much effort, owing to the popular fallacy that its use is accompanied by great expense, and that the viands so cooked are tainted by gas. These delusions are quickly dispelled. As a matter of absolute fact, the price at which gas is now sold for fuel clearly demonstrates that it costs actually less than coal. Added to this, its numerous advantages over a coal fire make it a most desirable heating agent, as the educated public are beginning to discover. Gas for cooking recommends itself because it is convenient, clean and economical; there is no dust, no soot, no ashes, no smoke, no waste heat, and absolutely no danger.

A gas range is always ready--as soon as lighted it is prepared for work.

A breakfast, including hot biscuits, one such as is served daily in ordinary households, can be placed upon the table twenty minutes after lighting the range. This same estimate will cover the time occupied in making ready supper, while the rapidity with which a complete dinner may be prepared is short of marvellous, and truly appreciated by those using gas stoves.

It is a fact worthy of consideration that meat roasted by coal fire loses in weight fully one third, while the depreciation in cooking by gas is only one-seventh, besides which the meat will be found much more nutritious and healthful.

Bread in the oven of a Perfect gas range will bake brown evenly, top and bottom, the loaves will be twenty-five per cent. larger than if baked in a coal range, and will always be found light, porous, and wholesome.

A gas range, perfect in all requirements, is a necessary adjunct to a happy household; such is the PERFECT, a Peerless, Priceless Gem.
