The Rector having reported to the Vestry the arrival of the new Organ for the Parish, and that had been generously sent out by Mess.rs Thomas Daniel & Co. from London in their Ship the Berwick of expence, and that the freight if charged would have amounted to the large sum of eighty four nds sterling: the Vestry taking the same into consideration, and feeling the highest sense of igation for this instance of generosity and kindness towards the Parish, do unanimously Order that the thanks and acknowledgments of the Vestry be returned to Mess.rs Thomas Daniel & Co. for their very liberal donation to the Parish of the freight of the new Organ in their Ship Berwick; a favor which they acknowledge the more gratefully, when they consider the largeness the sum thus generously given up in a time of war and increased expence; and which they are sible they derive solely from the Liberality and public spirit of the Donors. And they do further uest the Rector to avail himself of the opportunity, which the sailing of the fleet from hence now offers, ansmitting to the Gentlemen this testimony ~~of~~ of their acknowledgments.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Vestry of Saint John.

Dear & very worthy Friends/

The deplorable State of my health for the last three Years particularly the increase of Indisposition for the last fortnight, have induced me to yield to the earnest recommendation of Doctor Jones, to try a change of Climate, under the favourable circumstances of going with particular Friends and of leaving the Parish in charge of a Gentleman so well known and respected among you, as the Reverend Mr. Pinder.

A movement of this kind cannot possibly be made without much exertion on the part of a man who has never basked in the Sunshine of Fortune. Born to no patrimony, brought up on a [illegible] Income little else can be looked for, then a comfortable subsistence, and unbenefited for nine years [illegible] thankful to Providence for, enabling me in that time to support myself and my family.

and comfort and some reputation. When the benevolence of a kind friend presented me to the living of Saint John, I considered my lot had fallen in a fair ground, nor have I been disappointed. If twenty years of zealous service in the care of the Parish and the promotion of the cause of Religion and Vi[illegible]ve gained me the approbation, attention and regard of the Vestry and my Parishoners at large, I esteem it as the chief ornament of my life, and it will ever be my consolation to the moment of my dissolution. Trusting then on that liberality of sentiment which I have always experienced from you, I presume at this particular moment, when perhaps the preservation of my life for a few years longer among you, may be the result of it, to throw myself on your bounty and to request your assistance to enable me to make Mr. Elder a proper recompence for his services in whatever proportion you may think consistent with your kind inclinations towards myself and the duty which you owe as the public Guardians of the Parish. Should health beam once more upon me, I shall return with redoubled zeal to resume those sacred offices which have hitherto been the pride of my life; but should the chilly hand of death, be not far removed, and the Day that bears me from Barbados seperate me finally from all I hold most dear in it, I hope I have learnt to profit myself from those lessons I have preached to others, and that Submission and Resignation to the Will of Heaven, is the duty that I owe as a Creature to my Great Creator and that I shall still live in your regard and leave behind me the remembrance of a good name. Whether living or dying it will always be my wish and endeavour to prove myself

Dear & worthy Friends

Your affectionate Rector and Friend
