THE COLLIERVILLE HERALD

"COLLIERVILLE, THE DAIRY TOWN"

Vol 1

Collierville, Tennessee. Friday, September 20th. 1929

FACTS and FICTION BEING

A Little Bit About Anything

Read not to Contradict and Confute, or to find Talk and Discourse, but to igh and Consider."—Francis Bacon.

How wise is the owl? Well wise enough to keep quiet most of the time, and to amuse himself by attending to his own business.

There are 250 species of this bird of pray, and they are most useful since they depend for their a short distance, when it again food upon small rodents, harmful leaves and tak a new route. to the farm crop.

Owls swallow their food whole, all bones, hair and undigestible

What this country needs is to have this question of whether to reach for a Lucky or a Sweet definitely settled.

Hoover meets a Hill Billy, head. lines the Pathfinder. The president may need to meet several million hill billies between now and 1932.

Instead of scientest trying to perfect an earthquake detector that will go off like an alarm clock We would like to see an alarm clock that would go off like an earth quake.

A 19 year old Belgium girl admits to having married 50 husbands. That's an endurance will likely try for.

is at Great Falls, Mont. It is 506 feet in height. This is just a little below the Washington Monument.

Clarence Darrow says he is against prohibition because he wants to take a drink. "I want to mi id my own business', he

But there is where the trouble starts. A fellow taking a drink of this modern day stuff is not a very good judge of what his "own business" really is.

The Library of Congress, housed in one of the most beautifut build. ings in the world - contains 3,800, 000 volumes. It is the third largest Library in the world, being surpassed only by the British Museu m.

The Vatican, official home of the pope, contains 11,000 rooms. It is claimed the pope has not left his resident- prison in 50 years There is no occasion for his leaving. It would keep him busy hunting his hat, if he should forget in which room he left it, like most of us do.

B. Y. P. U. Social

The lawn of Miss Katherine Burchett's home was the scene of a lovely party last Friday evening, when 58 members of the Intermediate Senior and Adult BYP U met for a real frolic. Much merriment was created by the games that had been prepared by Misses Aileen Mo-Candless and Katherine Burchett In spite of the mixed crowd from lowing number of bales had been young boys and girls to old men ginned; and women, the evening was full of fun for each one present, show ing there can be clean fun tor all

No less interesting and delight ful Were the delicious refreshments of homemade ice cream and cake served at a fate hour.

Highway Department Working on New Road

Construction Work on State Line Road Begun from Shelby Co. Line

Construction work on the new State Line road, from the Shelby County line through Fayette county, began last wark with a large crew of men under the sup rvision of J L Carruth, of the Highway Department. They began at the county line and will follow the old road as far as Piperton, then the new road turns off to the survey, coming back into the old road at Rossville for

Considerable progress has been made with this part of the grade and later eject from their mouths construction during the past week With a competent orew of thirteen men, Mr. Carruth is constructing a good road bed. A feature of the work that has attracted much attention, is the four Euclad road machines, a new type of grader. Pulled by tracters these machines the latest of their kind, move over five yards of dirt each round

Traffic has not been interrupted during the work, as Mr. Carruth has so arranged the grading as to keep part o the road open at has had a arew of men here for in the Gymnasium. sometime building additional toll Miss Louise Williams, chairman The tallest chimney in the world strung and several new circuits year, with 5th grace winning. cut in. A crew of eight men to complet- this section of work within another week.

Building Additional Toll Lines

Another One Put Out of Business

Following a tip, City Marshall A Lowe and W B Mebane, U.S. Deputy Game Warden, assisted by Warren and Manay of the Pro hibition Force of Memphie, made a raid Wednesday evening and siezed a 100 gallon still and 11 barrels of mash. The still was lo cated about 31/2 miles southwest of town and was brought to the ing to a close, and before the de City Hall and destroyed.

Christian Church

Sunday School 10:00 A. M Preaching, 11:00 A. M. 7,30P M. Sunshine Endeavor '5:30 P. M. Senior Endeavor 7:00 P. M. Prayer Meeting, Wed. 7;30 P M Reception of new members on Sunday morning. The Revival at Kirk's Chapel closed Wednesday night. There were ten additions. These were bapaized after services Wednes day night. Regular services ac Kirks on Sunday at 3:00 p. m. F. A. Coyle, pastor.

Ginning Report

Up to Thursday noon the fol

nea;
H W Mann	204
Swift and Co.	72
Forest Hill	110
Cayce	124
Raswille	220
Bailey	50

Good Bye

P.T.A. Meeting

The first meeting of the P. T.A was held Sept 12th in the school auditorium, with Mrs Chas Dean. President, in the chair. After a few years of absence from the work Mrs Dean comes back with renewed zeal and interest, desiring to do a bigger, better work for the school and community and with the co-operation of everyone the year's work will be a credit to the co.nmunity.

The year's objective of the P. T.A. is to finish and equip the lunch room. Mrs L P Pearce will direct this work and on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 25th from 2 to 4, The American Tel. and Tel. Co. a lunch room shower will be held

Ala. New copper wire has been 68 new members, 27 above last

Miss Leath reports a good atunder the direction of RTTurner, tendance at the Mothers Chorus are working out of Collierville, last Tuesday afternoon. On the setting new poles. They expect 30th of October, the Senior Class will have charge of the Halloween Carnival. In November a play, 'Imaginary Invalid' will be giv en dire ted by Mr Jacobe.

> The program, following the bus iness session was as follows: Dorothy Hinton Piano Solos Mrs E F Farley and E eanor Fleming by Mr Williamson

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

With the vacation days drawparture of Misses Ruth and Ann Russell, the lovely daughters of Mr and Mrs B J Russell, who as sisted their mother in entertaining the Womans Missionary Society, Monday afternoon at their home. Members of the Society enjoyed a most delightful afterhe Social half hour a refreshing of work. Lie course was served to 25 mem bers and Mrs T E Watkins. guest.

Who Has A Book?

iamson will appreciate anyone glad to j in then in their service donating copies for use of the Sat, night. Everyone come and students: Maebeth, Hamlet: Ju help make Sat, night their largest lius Ceaser, and Merchant of Ve crowd. The Federation wishes to nice. If you have a copy you congratulate the people of have no use for the school will be Germantown on their beautiful glad to get them.

New Methodist Church Dedicated at morning and evening, conducted by Pastors of various churches of Memphis and this section. The Senior Class of Collierville High School attended the services on Tuesday evening, hearing a splen did sermon by Dr Chappell of the First Methodist Church Memphis and wonderful singing, led by Walter Jenkine. The last of the services will be held on Sunday night with Rev W L Drake, pastor, doing the preaching.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday School record that few American girls lines from Memphis to Decatur, of the Membership Drive, reports Preaching at 11 a.m and 7:30 p.m $1.50 you may secure the Herald Junior League Senior League B. J. Russell, Pastor.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTICE

Sunday School	10 a.m.
Preaching	11 a.m.
B, Y. P. U.	6;45 p.m.
Preaching	8 p. m,
Rev.J. P. Ho	rton, pastor.

Episcopal Church

Services every Sunday mornng at 11 o'clock conducted by Judge Marsilliot of Memphis. No services at evening hour.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sunday school at 9:45 every Sunday morning. Preaching ser vices, each 1st and 3nd Sunday.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NOTES

C. E. workers are planning a ncon. After the devotional, led busy Fall. We have several plans by Mrs L P Pearce, the program for building up our Socity and was give 1, consisting mostly of helping our church. And Christinformation in regard to the Chi- ian Endeavore always work their neese homes and the training of plans, too. Our first step in the their boys and girls and how ne Fall work will be our election of cessary it is for us to help in officers the last Sunday in this every way to carry on the work month. But be present Sunday in foreign fields. A short busi- night and help in nominating the ness ression was held. During officers and hear the new plane

The Federation , which was to have met at the Collierville Christian Church, will meet Sat. Sept 21 at the new Germantown M.E church. The Germantown The following books are needed church is having their Dedication n the school library and Mr Will week and the young people are new church building.

D HERALD MESSENGER SCHOOL LIBRARY FUND CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

of Collierville School

In order for this School to main tain its rating as a first class accredited high school, and retain its membership in the Southern Association of Accredited Schools it is necessary for us to add not less than $150 a year to the Li-over $500 during the school-year 1927-28, this went to bring the Library up to the standard demanded at that time. Last year 1928-29, we did not meet the requirement.

Fortunately for us at this time we have the opportunity of rais-The new Methodist Church of ing the money needed for our Li-Germantown is being dedicated this week [with services every morning and evening, conducted management of the Collierville Herald is offering the School space in the first issue each month enabling us, in this way, to keep our school paper, "The Messenger", without any extra cost to the school.

They furthermore offer to give the echool 50 per cent of all monsy raised in a subscription campaign--this money to be used exdusively for Library purposes.

Beginning today, Friday, Sept. 20th, the Student Body of Collier ville School will go out for the purpose of escuring subscriptions to the Collierville Herald. For 5:30 for one year, in eight issues of 7:15 which will be "The Messenger" Woman's Society, Monday, 3:00 edited exclusively by the Student Prayer Service, Wednesday, 7:30 Body, ... and at the same time you will give 75 cents to the School Library.

We can't afford to mies this chance of raising $150 or more details of this School , need and for our Library.By your subscrip the school will appreciate any cotion you can help our local paper, operation given the Teams, in the get a year's subscription to the School Paper, and give 75 cents to the Library.

We must have the money to seep our school's rating. Here is an easy method to raise the amount. We believe you will give your subscription, and help us put over this campaign for your school.

Yours Very Truly, Harry Williamson, Prin.

Of course, you want to subscribe for the Herald and help Your School Library.

MICKIE SAYS-

IF THIS IS TH' MRST COPY OF OUR GREAT FAMILY JOURNAL YOU'VE SEEN, LOOK IT OVER - LOSAL NEWS -VICINITY POINCE - GENERAL HEWS - ENTERTAINING PEATURES - PROTURES -HUMOR - FARM HOTES -MONEY CAVING ADS - ALL FOR A SUM SO SMALL TO FER NOTHING! NOW IS THE TIME TO GUSSERIBE!

the Patrons and Friends Herald Takes Over School Paper. Teams Will Solicit Subscriptions

"The Colliervill Herald in every home"is the slogan of the Herald-Messenger - School-Library Fund Campaign which begins today and continues two weeks. The High School paper, The Messenger, which has been published by the students for the past two Although we added something Herald, which will furnish space in the first issue of the month for the continuance of The Messen-

The Collierville Herald is enter ing into its eighth month and is becoming well established thruout the entire section, giving its readers a 'good country weekly newspaper." The subscription list has grown steadily and the co-operation has been splendid. all of which the management appreciates. But we want more subscribers and, in keeping with our policy to keek the money in our territory, we are starting a campaign to-day. Instead of employing outside talent -- buying prizes for contestants -- - paying a company to put on the campaign, the Herald is using this plan: One hundred and fifty dollars is needed for the School Library and the students wish to continue their school paper, 'The Messen ger''. To make this possible, two teams have been chosen, the Reds and the Blues and they will solic it subscriptions to the Herald, one half of the money received to be used for the Library Fund and the first issue of each month will carry The Messenger, edited by the students.

A letter from Mr Harry Williamson in this issue gives further. soliciting. If you know of anyone who is not taking the Herald, ask him or her to subscribe NOW.

The standing of the two teams and a list of subscribers will be published. Pick Your Winner and Help Your Team Go Over The

With The Cooper Motor Co.

Mr Barney Thompson of New Albany, is with the Cooper Motor Company, in the mechanical department. Mr Thompson is a mechanic of several years experience, having recently specialize ed in Ford Service. The addition of another mechanic in the department has enabled them to turn out work much faster and still maintain the same high stand ard of first class work. Mr Coop er reports many sales of the New Ford the past month and with the plant at Memphis assembling 300 cars per day, he anticipates no trouble in being able to supply the demand for this popular car. He is of the opinion that this is going to be a good business season for Collierville, in all lines.

Dinner Party

Mrs J B McFerrin entertained with a dinner and movie party on Tuesday evening in honor of her little daughter, Grace Ward's eighth birthday.

Eleanor Flaming, Jane lebell, and Lila Sigreet were the gueste.

OUT O' LUCK!

Mother's Cook Book

Our climate is a series of surprises, and among our many prognostics of the weather, the only trustworthy one that I know is that, when it is warm, it is a sign that it is going to be cold. -Ralph Waldo Emerson.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

THIS is the time of the year when the housewife looks up the favor-Ite recipes for putting up things for winter.

Pepper Hash.

Take twelve each of red peppers, green peppers and onlons the size of a small egg; three pints of vinegar, two cupfuls of sugar, three tablespoonfuls of salt. Peel the onions, remove the seeds and white fiber from the peppers and chop all very fine. Let stand five minutes and drain. Cook the vinegar, salt, sugar; add the peppers and onions and boil up once. Turn into sterilized jars and seal well.

Mustard Pickle.

Take twenty-four small cucumbers. one quart of small onions, two cauliflowers, two quarts of green tomatoes. six green peppers, one-half pound of mustard, one-half ounce of turmeric powder, three-fourths of a cupful of flour, one cupful of sugar, three and one-half quarts of vinegar. Cut the vegetables into small pieces and let them stand over night in a strong salt and water. In the morning scald and drain thoroughly.

Mix the mustard, turmeric, flour and sugar to a paste with one plut of the vinegar; add this to the remaining vinegar which has been brought to the boiling point. Cook twenty minutes, add the vegetables and when cold place in jars and seal.

Oil Pickles.

If one likes olive oil, these will be greatly enjoyed. The oil should be of the best, nutty and sweet or the pickles will be a failure. Take one hundred small cucumbers and a dozen small onions. Slice the cucumbers without peeling-the onions quite thin. Sprinkle with salt and let stand over night in the salty brine. In the morning rinse off the salt and drain thoroughly. Place in jars, add the following: Two-thirds of a cupful of mustard seed, one tablespoonful each of celery seed and green pepper ground through the meat chopper, one cupful of olive oll and two quarts of vinegar. Mix all together and let stand for a day to season, then can in small jars. The pickles are not cooked. More salt may be needed to season-add it to taste.

What Does Your Child Want to Know Answered by BARBARA BOURJAILY

WHAT MAKES BAD DREAMST

Jos much of ANYTHING to eat, Especially sweets and pie, Will give us nightmare sure as fate-And that's the reason why.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS By H. IRVING KING

HAIR AND STORMS

THERE came into New York a Norwegian steamer several days overdue because of heavy weather. During the first half of her voyage she encountered gales and tremendous seas. which threatened to engulf her. Then. when things were at their worst, the captain mustered all hands and had their hair cut. The storm ceased and the ship had good weather for the rest of the trip. The captain said he had ordered the hair cutting because he had heard that his viking ancestors had performed the same rite in similar straits. Here is a most interesting case of "reversion to type."

It was true-his Norse ancestors bad done that same thing in the days when Odin gloried and drank deep in Valhalla. Among the ancients the hair, being considered as a peculiarly intimate part of a man-sometimes as the seat of strength-was frequently cut and offered up as a sacrifice to the gods. Juvenal says that the bair should only be cut at sea in times of danger and as a final offering to the gods; as it would offend them to cut it at other times.

In the Norse sagas Odin is repre sented as the great storm god. The vikings appeased his wrath by the propitiatory offering of their haireven as did their descendants recently on the storm-tossed Norwegian steamer. A shorn crew at a Brooklyn pier who have just sacrificed to Odin makes "the persistence of the primitive," something more than a theory.

(C) by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"TO DINE WITH DUKE HUMPHREY"

THIS phrase, meaning to have nothing to eat, comes to us from England where it has been in use for sev eral hundred years.

Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester, who lived from 1391 to 1447, the youngest son of Henry IV, was renowned for his hospitality and known around London as the "Good Duke." When he died there was talk of a monument to be erected to him in St. Paul's but he was at the time under a charge of treason, for which his wife, Eleanor Cobbam, was serving a life term in prison and this was not done. Instead he was buried at St. Albans.

According to the story accredited in England, when idlers in the abbey leaving for their dinner would ask others whether they were going, too, those who had no meal to go to would answer that they would "stay awhile longer and look for the monument for the duke." So the expression "dining with Duke Humphrey" became popular in the old days in London and has survived in the language to this day.

A similar saving the same in mean ing that is frequently used in England. but is not so well known in this country, is "to sup with Sir Thomas Gresham," Sir Thomas Gresham being a Sixteenth century financier and philanthropist among whose charities were eight alms houses.

(Copyright.)

Candid Comparison

"You have a big fortune?" "I used to think I had one," answered Mr. Dustin Star, "But in this era of merger my private accumulation looks like a very small white chip in an awfully big financial game."— Washington Star.

WHO WERE KIND

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I'VE forgotten who were rich, I've forgotten who were poor. For it doesn't matter which, Money never does for sure. Nothing matters much but this, When your glance is cast behind: When you think of friends you miss, You remember who were kind.

I've forgotten who were wise, I've forgotten who were not, For a fellow's folly dies, And his wisdom is forgot. But I never shall forget Many a friend I used to find: Of the people that I met, I remember who were kind

I've forgotten who were great, I've forgotten many men, Many men who used to hate Never do recall again. But I always find a few

In my memory enshrined: Yes, of all the men I know. I remember who were kind. (@. 1929 Douglas Malloch)

> Through a Woman's Eyes by Jean Newton

NOTHING IS AS BAD AS IT SEEMS!

IT WAS her first visit to a camp, and she was prepared for what she found.

Hot, tired, and wanting nothing in the world so much as to get out of her clothes and into a bith, she was led to a log cabin without walls! In lieu of walls there were heavy canvas awnings which, if tet down to give privacy, would have shut out at the same time the faint breeze which that day seemed necessary for life.

Three crude cots-she would have two unknown roommates-and three open shelves topped by a small, poor mirror in a bad light. And she was so hot, and so tired.

"I CAN'T let down those heavy awnings in this sweltering heat," she complained to the boy who had carried her bag to the cabin. "HOW am I going to UNDRESS in this open place! No walls! Whoever heard of such a thing!"

The boy left her, and still in her hot traveling clothes she stretched herself gingerly upon one of the cots. ready to glare belligerently upon the first passer-by who should dare to look toward her reclining form.

One of the roommates, returning from the lake, found her that way. "How," the newcomer asked frigidly. "do you UNDRESS here? How do you bathe? How do you do anything? You know I didn't expect a private bath, but I did expect a HOUSE, something with walls, with privacy, something CIVILIZED! Why, if you pull down the awnings you must suffocate. If you don't, anybody can see you-a man might pass and see you no less than if you were undressing on the street!

"I guess," said the happy camper, 'you must be very tired. We undress right here, and we don't usually bother with the awnings. The men don't breath coming in little gasps. Somecome over to this side at all. Right now there isn't a soul here, since all the girls are still on the lake. Just do as I'm doing now. Take your things off, put on a wrapper, and come into the shower house with me. You'll get a refreshing shower and feel better about everything."

And she did.

"If only," she said the next morn ing, "that boy who carried my bag and whom I abused first, didn't talk about it. If only nobody knows how acted and all the disagreenble things I said. Why, I told him this wasn't civilized! Now that I've got the hang of it, it looks so different!" Moral-Nothing is as bad as it seems and it's wise not to shoot your head off until you've given things a chance. (© by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

SUPERSTITIOUS · · · SUE · · · =

SHE HAS HEARD THAT-

If you know a guy who takes a free lunch off his finger nails and keeps them gnawed to the quick-beware, girlie, give him the "grand detour"for it is an indication that he has a biting disposition.
(D by McCiure Newspaper Syndicate.)

THE SORROWS OF JOB

ANICE REID was small and delicate looking, but her husband often said she was the biggest person of her size in the world. Certainly she poured out on brown-haired, laughing-eyed Ned all the love of a generous, devoted heart.

She and Ned had played together as children and been boy and girl sweethearts. When Smith & Reid failed and Ned, though only a junior partner, lost, all he had in the world, it was Janice who comforted, counseled and upheld him. She suggested that they start life over on a farm and a year's experience proved her advice sound They came to love the little old farmhouse, which was their new home, and did not begrudge the hard toil that made it possible. Besides the ordinary crops, they were selling cream to a dairy company, eggs and fresh vegetables to the nearest city and already their business showed a profit.

But when the first payment on the mortgage was due the young farmers declared a holiday. Early in the morning they drove to Borneville, ten miles distant, and at the small country bank drew out $500 of their hard-earned money. They were not only able to pay the interest, but to reduce the mortgage $200. To the delight of all the friendly, interested onlookers Janice reached up and kissed the proud husband and business partner.

They laughed much on the way home, chiefly at ancient Mr. Sampson, holder of the mortgage, who had refused to accept a check in payment. They had perforce got the cash and her son was to come for it that after-

"After dinner we'll sit on the porch in our best clothes and wait for Jake Sampson," they decided.

But as they were finishing the meal John Webb, their nearest neighbor, telephoned. "He wants me to come over and help him fix Lizzie," Ned explained, grinning. Janice knew that Ned and John enjoyed nothing more than tinkering with a car, taking it apart and putting it together again. "Go by all means, but don't stay long," she smiled indurgently as to a child. "Sit' on this," and he passed over the plump billfold.

A sudden twinge of apprehension shot through Janice. "Do you suppose there's any danger?" she asked. "Everybody in Borneville knows about the mortgage money."

"Sure it's safe," he laughed. "If you see anybody lurking around phone me,

"I'm not really worried," she reassured him. "I'm just not used to being half a mile from the nearest neigh bor.

After Ned had gone Janice cleared the table and sat down to wait for the dish-water to heat. How quiet the country was! Around the corner of the kitchen a hen was clucking gently to her brood. There was not another sound. All nature seemed sleeping in the heat of mid-day.

Then Janice started. A board had creaked directly above her head. The girl was on her feet instantly, listening intently. Another faint sound, like a muffled footfall, was audible, Janice stood, her hands clasped tightly, her body was upstairs in their room, some body who had got in and concealed himself before she and Ned returned home. And she was alone with the money.

She seized the bill-fold, put it down the neck of her dress. That money was precious! If only she dared phone Ned. But the man could hear if she phoned, could see if she attempted to run; and if she locked him in the bedroom could easily get out over the porch roof. She was trapped in her own kitchen and her safety lay in making him believe his presence un-

Straining her ears, she heard another faint creak. He was listening at the door above, waiting his time. Then a desperate plan flashed through Janice's mind. Choking back her tears, she crossed the big kitchen, and with trembling fingers rang the clumsy life-saving country phone.

Short-short-long; short-shortlong. Why, oh why, didn't somebody answer?

Then came a gruff "Hello."

"Oh, John," she forced herself to speak lightly, and laughed. "I forgot to tell Ned something important. Ger him to the phone, won't you?"

An instant's wait, while she again laughed as though much amused about something. "Well?" Ned's voice was anxious.

"Ned," she said loudly and brightly.
"The funniest thing! I forgot to remind you to bring my book back that Edna borrowed. It is called 'The Sorrows of Job.' 'The Sorrows of Job,' Ned. Got that title?"

"Great heavens! What do you mean?" He spoke hoarsely, frighten-

"The Sorrows of Job,' Ned. Get it at once. Bring it-quietly-when you come home.

"I'll be there at once. Keep your nerve!" "By-by," she cooed into the receiver. With much noise she began a pretense of dish-washing, her eyes strained in the direction of John's expected approach, and with a heavy wooden rolling-pin convenient to her hand. If the man would only wait five minutes. A cup slipped through her fingers, shattered on the floor. She checked a nervous scream, then sobbed in quick relief as she saw two bentover figures approaching at a run-Ned and John. Janice began humming loudly. Again she heard the tell-tale creaking board in the floor above. The man was apparently still listening from the door of the room, but he was getting impatient. A louder creak at the head of the stairs-he was coming down!

Slipping quickly to the back door, Janice motioned frantically and the two men, panting, took their stations by the door of the old built-in stairway just an instant before it opened and a close-cropped bullet-headed individual sneaked forth.

With a yell Ned fell upon him, John helped subdue the wildly struggling man, who, taken completely by surprise, and outnumbered two to one, was quickly bound hand and foot.

"We'll all hop in Lizzle and take the rascal to jail," cried vengeful Ned. "But first, just a minute-" John cried. bewildered. "How in heck did you know he was here?"

Janice laughed shakily and Ned tightened his arms about her as he answered. "When we were kids and played Indians and pirates and such, we had a watchword that meant 'I am in danger, help me.' The watchword was 'the sorrows of Job.' When Janice said 'the sorrows of Job' I knew she was in danger, and since she didn't dare say what the matter was I knew it must be some one who could hear her phoning. Naturally I guessed there was a thief after the money.'

"Some clever little wife," declared John admiringly.

"I'll tell the world," agreed Ned. The prisoner faintly grunted.

Proof That Apes Have

Faculty of Reasoning We have said that chimpanzees sometimes manufacture implements to meet the conditions confronting them. At one time when a tempting banana was lying outside the cage beyond the reach of any of the bamboo sticks within, the chimpanzee picked up two of different sizes, inserted the smaller in the larger, and with this lengthened stick obtained the fruit.

Shortly after, when the experiment was repeated with different pieces of bamboo, the ape looked into the opening of the larger and then threw both upon the ground without trying to combine them into one. Examination showed that a nodule in the hollow end of the larger tube would prevent the insertion of the smaller.

What went on in the mind of the ape when he observed the obstruction and threw both sticks away we do not know; but be behaved as a buman being would who saw the obstruction but had no means of removing it.

The employment of boxes to reach the fruit was among the striking achievements of these chimpanzees. In time they learned to lift one box and place it upon another, then three were used when two were not high enough; and at last they built a structure of four boxes, marvelous alike for Its ingenuity and danger. It is interesting to compare the achievements of these chimpanzees with the efforts of children between 3 and 4 years of age.

A boy three years and four months old, with whom Professor Yerkes experimented, was unable to use two boxes to reach an object suspended from the ceiling. The object was placed at such a height as to be easily accessible if the child had put one box upon the other and climbed up. Neither fear of falling nor the size and weight of the boxes caused the failure. Some thirteen attempts were made without the child once seeing the only solution of the difficulty.-Edgar James Swift in Scribner's Magazine.

Her Uppishness Wasted

Reminds me of Seth Tumley, back in New England. Mrs. H. Uppe snubbed Seth every day for 30 years, and the loke was on her because Seth was in no wise unhappily affected by it-was not aware of it, in fact. He pulled one of the Uppe grandchildren out of the river one day and Mrs. Uppe went to him and humbly apologized for her snobbish treatment of him. "Always thought you treated me first rate," declared Seth, "Calclated you was just bein' natural, and I don't expect nothin; of nobody beyond that."-D. H. Talmadge in the Portland Oregonian.

Give Us a Pronoun

A pitfall in pronouns is when you are talking about two different people of the same sex. For instance: "He seized him by his throat, but he nt the same moment caught him by his hair."

It's a puzzle to know which is which. Robert Louis Stevenson once suggested an indirect pronoun to get over this difficulty and proposed "tu" for he, "tum" for him and "tus" for his as the indirect forms. Then his sentence would read: "He seized tum by tus throat, but tu at the same moment caught him by his hair."-London An-

Didn't Know How to Spell It

A small boy had been sent to a store with a long list of things he was to buy and bring home. After the clerk had done them all up the boy added, "And a package of saleratus." "But that isn't on the list," the clerk objected. "No matter," insisted the boy, "she told me to be sure and get saleratus." "Then why didn't she put it on the list?" queried the gro-

"Well," blurted out the boy, "if you must know, she didn't know how to spell it."—Brockton Enterprise.

Hurry, Mother! Even a fretful, peevish child loves the pleasant taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

ruined eyes

by neglect; they get red and sore and you let them go. Don't do it. Leonardi's Golden Eye

Leonardis Coden Eye
Lotion relieves soreness in one
dey. Cools, heals and strengthens.
LEONARDI'S
GOLDEN EYE LOTION MAKES WEAK EYES STRONG

STOP THAT ITCHING

Apply Blue Star Ointment to relieve Skin Irritations, Itching Skin or the Itch of Eczemic conditions, Tetter, Ringworm, Itching Toes, Poison Oak and as an Au-tiseptic Dressing for Old Sores, etc., Ask your Druggist for

BLUE STAR OINTMENT

FLORESTON SHAMPOO—Ideal for use in connection with Parker's Hair Balsam. Makes the hair soft and fluffy. 60 cents by mail or at drug-cists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

Overclothed for Tropics When it is hot in Singapore it's hot without any maybe, and when a Chinaman appears on the streets all bundled up in torrid weather there must be a reason. So thought the police when they investigated and found that the Chinaman was wearing nine suits of clothes while the thermometer continued to climb. Displaying the best Chinese brand of stoicism the man was arrested and charged with "fraudulent possession of clothing."

Saved From Octopus

Attacked by an octopus while swimming in Akarca harbor, New Zealand. T. Vangioni was saved when a friend dived in and beat the brute off with a club. Vangioni had dived deep when the octopus seized him and held him in its terrifying grip until beaten off. The man was on the point of collapse

Steam in Warfare Rear Admiral George Wallace Melville says that when the British admiral, Sir John B. Warren, ascended the Potomac in 1812 his expedition was reconnoitered by an American steamer.

One may not have love, but he doesn't have its troubles, either,

Makes Life Sweeter

Too much to eat-too rich a dictor too much smoking. Lots of things cause sour stomach, but one thing can correct it quickly. Phillips Milk of Magnesia will alkalinize the acid. Take a spoonful of this pleasant preparation, and the system is soon sweetened.

Phillips is always ready to relieve distress from over-eating; to check all acidity; or neutralize nicotine. Remember this for your own comfort; for the sake of those around you. Endorsed by physicians, but they always say Phillips. Don't buy something else and expect the same remults!

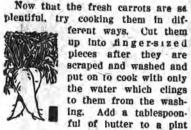

The KITCHEN CABINET

The moving finger writes, and having writ moves on,
Not all your plety nor wit, can lure it back to cancel half a line; Nor all your tears wash out one word of it.

—Omar Khayyam,

SEASONABLE DISHES

of carrots and put on the back of the range in a heavy aluminum dish tightly covered to cook until tender. Add salt, a bit of cayenne and a half teaspoonful of sugar when they are put on to cook.

Candied Carrots.-Cook carrots until partly tender in a tight dish with only enough moisture to steam. When nearly tender, remove to a baking dish and sprinkle with salt, pepper and plenty of sugar. Dot with bits of butter and brown in the oven.

Ice cream is such a wholesome dessert and so well liked that the expense only keeps the housewife from having it often. When prepared at home the expense is much lighter. The following is a recipe that anyone may feel is economical:

Junket Ice Cream .- Take one quart of milk, warm to lukewarm and mix well with two junket tablets dissolved in a tablespoonful of cold water, add one cupful of sugar, one-half tablespoonful of vanilla and a cupful of cream. Let stand in a warm room until firm in the freezer can. Then place the can in the ice and freeze slowly to a thick mush, then turn rapidly until hard. This kind of ice cream is easy to make, easy to digest and is healthful and nourishing.

Paprika Beets.-Cook small beets until tender. Drop into cold water and remove the skins. Slice or quarter. Arrange in a serving dish and pour over the following sauce: Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half tablespoonful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt and paprika. This amount of sauce will season one pint of beets.

Date .lce Cream.—Caramelize one cupful of sugar, add to one pint of scalded milk, stir until dissolved. Mix one tablespoonful of flour, one-eighth teaspoonful of salt and one-half cupful of sugar; stir until a smooth paste is formed with the scalded milk. Cook over hot water until the mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Pour the mixture over two slightly beaten eggs, one-half cupful of grapenuts, one teaspoonful of vanilla, a quart of thin cream and a pound of sliced dates. Cool and freeze. This will serve about a dozen large dishes.

Tasty Foods.

As salads are always a part of every day's menu, variety is always something to be looked for. Here are some suggestions worth using: Salad. - Cut up twothirds of a cupful of dates into small pieces and marinate with french dressing. Peel four seedless oranges. remove the pulp, leaving it in sections and the membrane in the center in one piece. Place a mound of dates in the center of a lettuce leaf, surround with sections of orange, radiating from the dates, adding more dressing if needed. Date and Cheese Salad .- Stuff dates with cream cheese which has been moistened to mix well with fruit juice or french dressing. Press a pecan meat into each date. Arrange the dates in the form of a star, using five. In the center place a ball of cheese.

Date, Cabbage and Pineapple Salad. -Soak three cupfuls of shredded cabbage in cold water until crisp. Drain thoroughly, add one cupful of diced pineapple, twelve sliced dates, and lettuce to line each plate. Serve with french dressing.

Tropical Snowballs .- Scoop out of firm ice cream two balls of ice cream, roll in coconut and place on chilled plates for each serving. Add any desired sauce and serve at once. Any leftover fruit sirups may be used for this sauce, or caramel, maple or chocolate sauce may be made.

Angels .- Take one-third of a cupful of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt; sift well, Mix one-half of a package of dates, one cupful of chopped nuts; add to the flour, mixing and stirring until well mixed. Beat two egg yolks, add three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of vanilla and the dry ingredients. When well blended add the stifflyheaten whites of the eggs. Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls two inches apart on well-oiled baking sheets. Bake 25 to 30 minutes. Remove from the pan with a spatula, cool, and place in tightly-covered tin box. This recipe makes 40 cookies, which keep well.

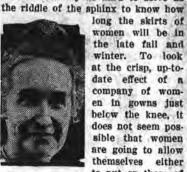

iced coffee is the only excuse for using cold coffee, and that should be poured off from the grounds and carefully strained while bot, then allowed

Nerie Maxwell

Dame Fashion Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

It is certainly as hard to solve as to put on those of Grace J. Austin. that subtly unbecoming length which old-time folk called "drozzly," or the genuinely hampering gowns which come down to the Recent showing in New York of an American designer's view of what he called a "smart autumn costume," was precisely not one inch longer than those we have grown accustomed to seeing everywhere. It was of the type often known as "spectator sports" dress; of homespun tweed, with a plaited skirt, jacket about to hip length of the same goods, yet given a new note by having deep pointed cuffs, almost to the elbow, of beaver fur. The loose, tuck-in blouse, finished with a knotted handkerchief scarf, was of a gay red hue. Velvet blouses are also making their appearance.

Dame Fashion was given of late what seemed to her quite an astonishing compliment. A young girl and her mother, from California, declared they gained more practical help from this column than from Hollywood! Part of that was probably just kindness, but after-all, there are more "just folks" in the world than there are movie stars. One thing is certain, that whether in East or West, "doctors disagree" about the styles. It will be declared, "the uneven hemline is disappearing," and in the next breath, that unevenness shows an in-

This disagreement need call for no discouragement, for it just gives room for a fine latitude of individual taste. If one chooses something just to suit, and a friend objects, simply declare. "I like it, and it is one of the season's modes." Whatever you have chosen, you will be safe in making that answer.

Such individuality is quite in accord with modern thought. Good orphanages no longer, in most cases, clothe their little girls in the gingham uniform which grew familiar to so many when the play "Daddy Longlegs" was in fashion. In a season of many polka dots, Dame Fashion would aver that she saw them from the size of a pin head, on and up to be as large as the heavy silver dollars now so seldom

Dame Fashion can remember distinctly a gray gown (with a polonaise!) which her mother wore when she herself was four years old. And because it was deeply trimmed with silk fringe, that has always seemed in her sub-conscious mind a most admirable trimming. More or less of fringe was used last fall and winter, and the word comes that it will adorn satin and Canton crepe dresses this w There is an alry swish to fringe that has a touch of the fluttering of wings. And of course anything angelic is highly appropriate to women!

That brings to mind that as velvet became alry and announced itself as "fransparent," so satin crepe has taken to itself a lighter form, and of all names, chooses to be known as "angel's skin!"

(C), 1929, Western Newspaper Union.

Ensemble Coat Lining to Match With Blouse

Showing one of the fall ensemble costumes with a polka-dot lining that matches the blouse and the navy blue skirt made of the material of the coat The novelty of this costume is in be-ing able to wear the lining inside out or outside in. Two Charming Hats of Felt for Autumn Wear

The upper model is a close-fitting tan felt, trimmed with stitching. The lower one is a winsome hat for sports wear. It is of tan felt, trimmed with brown ribbon.

Colors and Fabrics on

Fashion List for Fall

Much interest centers in information about colors and fabrics which will be of leading importance this fall. The following, notes a fashion writer In the Detroit News, have been designated by both Parisian and American designers. COLORS-Black and dulled opaque tones are favored for daytime costumes and accessories. Black is foremost, being combined with off tones of white or a color. Brown with a bluish cast is second in chic and is especially good when combined with dark capucine, olive green, and yellow. Blue fox brown is a lighter tone which promises to be popular. Greens of a dark hue with slightly brownish cast and the new olive green are exceedingly smart. Blue with a greenish tinge is newer than the bright or purple blues. Gray blue with a steel cast is exclusive. Russet and dark capucine are two other exclusive colors. Then reds of a wine tone, plum ranging from red to blue hues and steel gray follow in importance.

FOR EVENING-White and day time colors lead. Again black is extremely good. Pale shades in blue and green as well as an apricot tone give promise of being fashionable Among the daytime shades that are good for evening-deep blue, the brown and green just mentioned and gray are to be seen.

INFORMAL WOOLENS - Tweeds continue to be smart but have changed in texture. Loosely woven, spongy textures which are both heavy and soft are new. Black tweed, basket weaves, diagonal tweeds, feather and wool fabrics and tweeds with nub effect will all be much seen.

FORMAL WOOLENS-Some fabrics dressler than tweed will be fashionably worn. Many semi-lustrous and closely shorn fabrics of broadcloth and suede-fabric type will be seen Wool crepes as soft and fine as silks and almost as sheer, light wool tweeds, a sheer jersey and a fine rep will be

SILKS-Daytime fabrics for fall in silks have heavy textures and dull surfaces. Flat crepe, silk faille crepe. satin with a dull finish and plain or patterned panne velvets will lead. For evening, silks are either stiff or supple according to the type of dress, Plain crepe or satin, printed crepes and satins, moire, taffetas and panne velvets are the favored mediums.

Two Inches to Be Added to Skirts, Says Paris

Whether the American woman of fashion will follow the edicts of Paris modistes wherever they lend is a matter that is seriously concerning New York's interpreters of the mode these days. For Paris says skirts are coming down in the autumn! The drop will not be radical-just an experiment with the knee line. Nevertheless it will be distinctly noticeable. Describing the early showing of autumn models, Marjorie Howard, European fashion editor of Harper's Bazar, writes: "While evening skirts remain long. or long in spots, daytime ones are trying hard to come down in the world also. Lelong, Louiseboulanger, Patou, Jane Regny, Goupy, all are bringing them down about two inches. "For formal afternoon gowns, long points or dipping backs are often shown, especially in thin materials. One might say that the more formal the occasion, the longer the skirt."

Uncovered Forehead to Be Popular Fall Mode

Have you wondered whether the trend for the uncovered forehead would carry over into fall in the hat collections? It seems that it will, and many of the very newest models are showing either high points at one side of the forehead or the entire forehead revealed in some manner.

Daddy's Evening Mary Graham Bonner

MOON AND FAIRYLAND

Now you shall hear of the fairles and of the ball they gave. "You've been grinning up there

lately," said the Queen of the Fairies, as she looked at Mr. Moon.

tell me why?"

won't you please

"That I will tell

"Mr. Moon is

you, and tell you

gladly," said Mr.

going to tell us why

circle in the

he has been grinning," said the Fairies, and they all came flying from here and there and gathered in a beautiful That I Will Tell

You." woods. "The children have all gone to bed with smiles on their faces," said Mr. Moon, "and the more I see of children smiling the more I grin.

"Usually children are smiling, and so usually I'm grinning.

"Lately it has been so easy to grin, There has been such happiness, such laughter, and such joy in the world of children. "It has been easy to grin, easy to smile, easy to laugh and chuckle all to myself," Mr. Moon continued. "I say we give a great ball tonight," said the Fairy Queen, "and scatter wishes all over the earth to the chil-

"A good idea, a brilliant idea, our lovely Fairy Queen has had a won-derful idea," they all shouted.

"We'll begin to dance right away," said the Fairy Queen. "Let the Fairles' Orchestra commence to play.

"Fairy Ybab, lead the music! "We are going to dance and to send wishes to the earth children."

So Fairy Ybab commenced leading the orchestra, and they played, and danced, and sang.

Mr. Moon grinned more than ever, and the Fairy Queen clapped her hands with delight.

It was a very gay, beautiful scene that night in Fairyland under good old Mr. Moon, and they were so happy that they sang this song:

e're so happy and gay, We sing and we play,
We can't miss a chance
To laugh and to dance. But children asleep, Please never, never weep, When you're wide awake, Please don't for our sake!"

So sang the fairies. Then the Fairy Queen got in the center of all the fairles, and waving her wand, she cried:

"Listen, Fairies, listen everyone!" Everyone listened, and they heard the trees singing and echo-

the fairies. "I wish," said the Fairy Queen. "that this song go straight to the the hearts of children, and that they will laugh and be happy and not pay attention to the horrid little things that may sometimes try to get in the way. they love each other, and they love present style of houses with corners. you, Mr. Moon, but they love the children of the earth and wish them all good wishes for evermore."

Asleep and Smiling.

"All happiness to all children," shouted the Fairles, and Mr. Moon

"I am peeking in lots of windows and the children are asleep, and smiling!"

Funny Game

If you are looking for a game that is a little different from those which you are in the habit of playing, here is one you will find amusing: Clear the middle part of a room as much as possible and then get two long bits of string. Place one string on the floor near each end of the room, allowing about 18 inches between the twine and the wall. Now, on one of the strings, place just as many marbles as there are players, putting these at equal distances apart. Each player has to get down on his hands and knees behind his marble. At a given signal the players start pushing the marbles across the floor with their noses.

The marbles must not be touched in any other way. The one who gets his marble onto the distant string first wins the game. Tongue Twisters to Try I saw six long slim slick saplings for sale. strong Stephen Stringer Strict, snared slickly six silky snakes. Sadie Setherway saw Sandy Spool ams soaped and shaving -The l'ath-

ATWATER KENT RADIO

HERE IT IS ... from the LEADER OF RADIO

New Screen-Grid, Electro-Dynamic BATTERY SET of course it's an Atwater Kent!

ZOU families who haven't electricity -who use batteries to run your radio -how you will relish the news that Atwater Kent has ready for you a completely new battery set with all the very latest proved improvements.

It, too, is Screen-Grid.

It, too, is Electro-Dynamic. It, Atwater Kent working without time too, has the power to leap across the map and bring in those far-off stations. It, too, has the depth and richness of tone, heretofore thought after state. possible only in house-current sets. , It's the modern battery set that

It comes from the same 32-acre factory built by the good - will of 2,550,000 owners of Atwater Kent Radio. It's made with the same painstaking care that keeps an

ON THE AIR-Atwater Kent Radio Hour, Sunday Evenings, 9:15 (Eastern Daylight Time), WEAF network of N. B. C. Atwater Kent Mid-Week Program, Thurs day Evenings, 10:00 (Eastern Daylight Time), WJZ network of N. B. C.

IN CABINETS

The best American cabinet makers -famous for sound design and erating to meet the demand for Atwater Kent Screen-Grid Radio in fine cabinets like these,

Idle Want to See Races

That they should be granted permission to attend all race meetings without charge was the demand made recently by the unemployed of Hamilton. Scotland, A delegation was sent by idle workers to the Hamilton city council, asking it to compel owners f the gate" to all unable to buy admission tickets. They also complained of living conditions of the poor, saying some people lived in dugouts where daylight bugs dropped on breakfast tables and destroyed part of the food.

Globe House Not Popular

Although it has commanded worldwide interest the globe-shaped house invented by a German has not been taken seriously in Germany. There has not been a single duplication of the one shown last year at the Dresden "Then will the fairies be happy, for exhibition, Germans preferring the

> Couldn't Help It Judge-Why did you strike your wife? Defendant-Well, yer honor, she's been studying how to develop a magnetic personality, and yesterday she walked past me when I had a hammer in my hand!

To Wash Clothes Clean You need the extra cleanliness that comes from washing clothes with 20 Mule Team Borax. While it aids the soap in loosening the dirt and whitening the clothes, it also sweetens and purifies,-Adv.

Yet to Come

Endurance contests in the air, on dance floors, on top of flag poles, most everywhere except, employers allege, at office desks.-Cincinnati Enquirer.

Lots of married men are glad that they at least have the privilege of thinking as they please.

IN COMPACT TABLE MODELS-For batteries, Model 67 Screen-Grid receiver. Uses 7 tubes ($ Screen-Grid). Without tubes. $77. For house-current operation, Model 55 Screen-Grid receiver. Uses 6 A. C. tubes (2 Screen-Grid) and 1 rectifying tube. Without tubes, $88. Electro-Dynamic table-model speaker, $34 > out for trouble. For months it's been tested-and tested-and tested again, on farm after farm, in state > you have been asking Atwater Kent to make. You can have it in the compact table model or your choice of fine cabinets designed and made by the leading furniture manufacturers of the country. And, best of all, you pay only a moderate price.

ATWATER KENT MANUFACTURING CO. A. Atwater Kent, Pres.

4764 Wissahickon Ave. Philadelphia, Pa.

Electric Device That

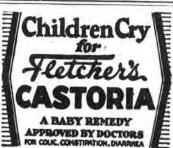

Warns of Eye Strain When does light get so dim you begin to strain your eyes? Human eyes cannot distinguish the exact point, but a supersensitive machine, designed to turn on lights in school

The light in the room falls upon a lens, under which is a photoelectric cell, that translates light variations into corresponding electrical variaexplains Popular Science Monthly. When the intensity decreases to a point where strain on the pupils' eyes may result, the "light monitor" automatically switches on the lights by means of an electric relay. It determines infallibly when the button should be pressed. An automatic time clock disconnects the apparatus during hours when the school is not in session.

Others Enjoy Your Vacation Among those who enjoy your vacation are those you have left behind to worry along without you for two or three weeks.-Danbury Evening News.

If you want a woman to take your advice pretend you are handing it to some one else.

It is the business of a business mon to see that his employees attend to his business

W. N. U., MEMPHIS, NO. 38-1929.

The Collierville Herald Published Every Friday at Collierville, Shelby Co. Tenn.

Walter H. Harris, Editor L. M. Hooper, Business Mgr.

Entered as second-class matter March 15th, 1929, at the Post Office at Collierville, Tenn. under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscriptions $1.50 per year payable in advance Advertising rates upon application

Friday, September 20 h,1929

Dear Mr. Editor--

Making my bow.

For several years I have secret ly cherished the hope that I might some time meet some good fairy whose vision was wide enough to love and lead into this game whosoever would love in re turn and have the patience to wait for the opportunity. Then it dawn ed on me that my ideas were rather hazy until I saw that here and now was here my opportunity. The Collierville Herald has he the privilege of being a really great and useful newspaper in that its owner may dedicate it to the service of his fellowmen, his town, his community and to these great and good and wise princi ples that have blessed the world for nineteen centuries.

occasion it might not be amiss for here goes; In every town we have home for a visit. alleys and streets that are very serviceable. But in the city of Memphis is an Alley [JP] who has week end at home. outgrown his name and the name "Highway" would be more fitting. We owe him our love and allegiance for his splendid efforts Very humbly, Reginald.

Do you read Your Herald or the other fellow's?

Young Rossville Bride Honored

The Young People's Society entertained Friday evening with a missellaneous shower in the home of Miss Louise Baird, honoring Mrs Harrell Jameson, a recent bride, Pink and white prepe paper and garden dowers were used in decoration. At the close of the shower a pink and while iced course was served. Silver weading bells were given as favors. The hostesses used a unique: manner for the honoree to receive her gifts. This being a miniature house, containing a wonderful ar ray of gifts and house and cintents were deeded to the bride. A number of contests were er j year during the evening, prizes oring awarded to Mesdames Saunders and Waller and Miss Gurkin. Sixty five guests enjoyed the event.

Rossville Notes

Miss Beatrice Rives is leaving Tuesday for Holly Spring , Miss. where she will be a student in the Junior College at that place.

Mc Jim Knox is seriously ill at his home two miles south of here, Mrs Herman Farty and Mrs J W Boyd are also on the sick list. Mrs J Wiggins was taken to the hospit I Monday after an attack

Wilson Bros.

PUBLIC HAULING

We Go Anywhere-Any Time,

Phone 160-W Hauling Milk a Specialty "Say it with Flowers"

Call Mrs. Delaney

Prescriptions and the Drugs

Drugs and Prescriptions must be of unvarying quality They must pos sess purity, potency and the essential remedial power. That is the type and character and class of drugs that we put into all prescriptions. There is no deviation from this high

Harrell Drug Co

"A Good Drug Store" Phone 20

of appendicitie.

Mr and Mrs Mackey and Mrs Burkam were recent visitors in At such a time and on such an the home of Mrs Tapscott Knox.

The Bairds spent Sunday with the beginner to make a bow to at Mies Garand Rogers on Popular least one of the old timers. So Pike, who accompanied them

Miss Louise Thomas who is teachi g in Moscow spent let

Willie Thomas of Rah, Miss. visited his parents Sunday,

Miss Lucy Stout of Memphis was the guest of Miss Louise Baird Friday.

Mies Mai Belle Rives who is a member of the faculty of Moscow High School reports that she I kes the work.

Only $1.50 per year. Have your own

Ridgeway Notes

Mr Henry of Memphis has purchased the McCaster place and will move out the first of Oct.

Mrs King has as her guest friends from Memphia.

Mrs Louise Duke is ili at the home of her daugnter Mrs Will Bedford in Memphis.

Mrs Morehouse visite 1 friends in Memphis Thursday.

Miss Rath Massey visited here

Mr Tiller is so much improved he is able to drive his truck.

Mrs Ramsey visited friends in Memphis last week.

Mrs Po and who spe t the sum. mer in California has returned

B n Cocke of M mplus visited here Sunday

Dr and Mrs Hedren have their daughter visiting them. Claude Smith visited his sister, Mrs Tiller Sunday. Mrs. Andrews has returned from

Mr Daugherty has returned to his home after spending som time with his brother E Slater, a lengthy visit in A abama.

For First Class Building of all kinds see, write or call

J. H. Morton

General Contractor

Williston, Tenn, Dr. Vance C. Roy OPTOMETRIST

901 Farnsworth Bldg. Memphis, Tern Will be at Dr McCall's Office in Collierville, every Saturday

Eyes Examined and Glasses Supplied

Mrs Cullen of Memphis vi it d ner daughter, Mrs Crone lest week

Subscribe NOW and he the Library Fond

Forest Hill Notes

Mrs Cacil Elliot provid data meeting of the Forest Hill Pa ent leachers Association at the chool Tuesday. The following chairman were appointed! Mr-J Bedford, child welfare, Mr. Frank Neil, publicity, Mrs Juhr Larkin, reception, Mrs R bert Cohn, legi-lation; Miss I a Jones sorabbyok, M - J C. L. lygiene and Mrs Jack Hick . h .. lth.

Mrs Olivia Shelton is Visiting her sister Mrs Bertler in M m .-

We are glad to ret r hat Ber sie Strong is improving after a severe attack of appendicitis.

Charlie Jones had as his guest Sunday his father and mother from Memphis.

Mrs Bob Allen is able to be out again after her auto accident.

Thelma Chishi re of Memphi spent the week end with Mrs JW Skinner.

Mr and Mrs Walter Short, Mrs V N Short and husband were Su day guest in th S ort home

Forest Hill community will pre sent two plays at the Mid South Fair Tuesday at 3 30 p. m.

Mrs Guirganus and baby have returned from Wiscorein after spending 2 months at their ccttage.

The Best Investment

For $1.50 you can secure the Collerville Herald one year, in which once each month for eight months. 'The Messenger' will appear, and you will give to the School Library.

BEAT MANY AN EGG

"Get married? Why, you don't

Plenty of ICE KEEPS FOOD GOOD

It is Real Econom v to use pen. to of ice during the summer o protect your find suffs.

Collierville Delivery To Tel 183 , High Mann Mgr.

A Reader of this Paper?

The Collierville Herald

and the High School

MESSENGER Library Fund Campaign BEGINS TODAY

and lasts Two Weeks-Ending, Friday, October 4th

The School Library Fund needs $150.00-For $1.50 you will get the Collierville Herald, containing the Messenger, for One Year and One Half the money goes to the Library Fund.

There will be two teams.

The Reds, with Orville Carrington, Captain

Lieuts Misses Alma Livingston, Ella Dudney and Katherine Burchett

The Blues, with Morris McGinnis, Captain,

Lieuts Misses Francis Piper, Sara Jones and Mary Looney

A Special Prize of

$5.00 in GOLD

will be given to the Team securing the Largest Number of Subscribers up to Noon next Thursday, Sept. 26th

HELP YOUR TEA

For a Delicious Sandwich a Lunch or a Dinner

The White Cafe

H. W, Schrader, Prop.

We Serve Fortunes Ice Cream

ARE YOU

Or Make any Repairs around the Place

If you are, then remember this: we can save you some money on any amount of any kind of Lumber or Building Material

We have the most complete assertment of the best Lumber, Shingles, Sash, Doors, Mouldings, Finish, Lime, Cement, Plaster, Hardware, Paint, Roofings, in fact everything you're likely to need to build with. Out stock is dry, well kept, and our prices are right. An estimate will convince you that we can save you some money.

A stock of Jellico and Red Ash Coals We Deliver Ask us

W. W. McGinnis Lumber Co. Collierville, Tenn,

> HINTON & HUTTON FUNERAL DIRECTORS

AMBULANCE SERVICE

PHONE 15

NIGHT PHONES, 137 & 177

No Woman Need Be A Drudge These Days

Electricity is so efficient and economical that no woman can afford to waste her time and energy in doing drudgery work in these modern

For a few cents an hour, Electricity will relieve her of labor in doing the washing, ironing, cleaning and cooking leaving more time for leisure and culture

The modern home is incomplete without adequate Electric Service.

> Consult your wiring contractor when you plan to build. He will give you good advice.

Memphis Power & Light Company

STOP and have a Sandwich

MAY POP INN

Roy Brooks, Prop. On Peplar Pike at White Station Making Their Way by the Way They are Made

Cayce Notes

Robert Milliron of Memphis pent the week end with home folks here.

Tom Jamerson wisa visitor in Memphis last week.

Mrs Carrie Jamerson spent Thursday with her mother Mrs E B Baldwin at Piperton.

Preston and Joseia Sloan, Mrs. Edd Farley and Mr and Mrs Wes ley Farley of Birton were herelast week,

Have the Herald with its homs news-subscribe NOW.,

Miss Nellie Harper of Memphisepent the ar kaili home folks he e, Van Brooks and wife went to Hotly Springs Tuesday. Van Balwin of Memphis was Miss McDermitt. a visitor herelast week.

Mrs. Ransom Williams visited in Byhalia last week Louis Jameson and Frank Doddridge of Memphis were here last week.

James Russell and sister of Collierville visited here recently. Jack Williams, wife and two relatives in Rossville. sons and Miss E ise Vick vi itad in Mt Pleasant Sunday. . .

H H Holland, wife and children and Mrs Chas Martin visited his sister here Sunday. PT Sandlin, wife and son were

n Collierville Sunday. Finis Kevil was in Holly Spring

Tuesday. S R Holland and wife of M. m. phis are visiting their daughter

Mr and Mra H B Ward and son of Memphis visited in the home of Mr Van Brooks Sunday.

Eojoy the home news each week subscribe to the Horald mantown spent the weekend here! with homefolk.

Masdames W F C an and Sam Harris an' son i e i 1 1 B put Assertion at Co. va!

C P McCandless and, P L Hale of Clarksdale were guests Sunday in the N M Carpenter home.

Jim Jowers' and wife were in Hilly Springs Wednesday.

Mrs A L Chandler spent Frilay with relatives in Forest Hill.

Mrs Coopw of and children and Mrs McCall and daughten went to Hally Springs Tuesday N M Carpenter, wife and chitdren were in Memphis Saturday. Miss Ethel Ballard has been visiting relatives in Memoria.

Do von appreciate these ndtes each .wwek? Then sub scrib for the Herald To-day. JOBo stweigh and wife of Mem phis spent the week end here.

Marj rie King, Mary Constance Hurdle and Leis Carpenter are taking music in Holly Springs of

Mesdames Etoile McCampbell, Wilson Bogard and Eugene Ash. ford shopped in Collierville last

N M Carpenter has just froished a large cow barn in Rossville for Julian Ray Boyd.

Mrs Laura Siunders has come home after an extended visit with Tim Tread well of Collierville was here Friday.

Wesley Crawley, Mrs H Hurdle and Miss Maggie Jarvis were in Memphia recently.

Mrs C C Confier and Mrs A E Chandler will entertain the Ep. worth League Friday night with a Backwards Party.

die a sport and help your Team win 'It'von take it atready, then send the Herald o a friend.

Selecting a Tie

"Why can't you please that guston-

"He wants a gray tie." "We have plenty of gray bles." "He wants a loud gray."

Between Two Perces Higgins Peewe seems such an evenly balanced fellow. Miss Imagene Jowers of Ger-1 the profiteers hold him up and at home his wife holds him down.

Perfect Service

"Can you recommend the insurance company with which you are insured against accidents?

"Rather! I have been insured ten years and never and an accident."

Strong-Grocery

Staple and Fancy Groceries

Free City Delivery

Phone 157

Auto Accidents!!

are sometimes caused from Brakes Failing to work—a Tire Blowing Out—Steering Gear becoming Loose. becoming Loose.

Keep Your Car Safe and Help Prevent Accidents.

Drive in and let us inspect your car-it may save YOU from An Accident and an expensive repair bill

W. LYNCH AUTO

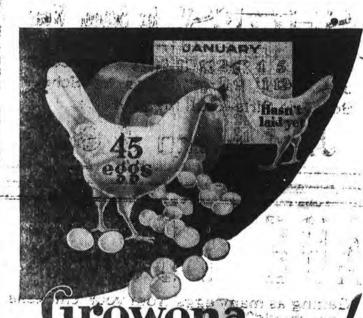

Money Bag?

That depends on how much you have saved. Most of us are negligent when it comes to being thrifty for we do not think of the future: Today is a good time to save with a budget, each week. In a short time, you'll be surprised how your account grows and it will be an incentive to save more.

The Peoples Bank

Capital and Surplus, $44,000.00

En anone

made the di

L AST year there were pullets that hadn't laid an egg up to January—nothing more than profit takers. There were others that averaged 45 eggs—in every way profit makers. Growena made the difference... Growena made the difference...
This year feed your pullets Growena and Intermediate Hen Chow to get taken fit for the job. You'll get the extra 45 eggs per pullet while others tre still paying out good money for the so-called "just as good" feeds...
Order Growena and Intermediate now. Feed to get the extra 45 eggs. You'll so be money ahead!

Phone 15

Collierville, Tenn.

Reduced Rates on all Railroads Worth coming 1,000 miles to see

Mid-South.

Southern Dairy Show National Cotton Show

Memphis

The South's Greatest Combined Dairy & Agricultural Exhibition

World - Star Auto Races Opening day Sat., Sept.28

TOM MIX & TONY in Person Closing day Sat., Oct. 5

Other Stellar Attractions Every Minute of Every Day

THE RETURN of ANTHONY TRENT

By WYNDHAM MARTYN

Copyright by Barse & Hopkins

WNU Service

CHAPTER XIV-Continued -28-

"It's worth a half-million dollars today," Trent went on. "There are many bigger stones worth half that, but none has the blue-white flame of this. It is too famous a dlamond to try to sell. You know that as well as His voice sank, "There's an old diamond-cutter who has done work for me at Zwanenburger street in Amsterdam. He would cut it in half for a price and forget all about it. If he did that no expert dare swear that he knew the stone. We ought to realize at least a bundred thousand aplece for each half. Think what that would mean to us. I could loaf about the world comfortably and you could go somewhere and find peace and freedom from the strain you are enduring now. What about it?"

She rose to her feet, her face color-

"You have been so good to me," she said quietly, "that I have come to think of you as the best man I have eve known, the most gentle and chivalrous. Perhaps because I so much wished to believe it, I thought you had in reality put your old life behind you as sincerely at I have done. And, too, I thought you believed in me."

"I do," he sald. She shook her head.

"No. If you had you could never have offered me that." She pointed to the scintillant temptation. "You have shown me I did not know you and that you thought me a hypocrite."

She realized that this was the most bitter moment of her life. Not until now had the consciousness of her love for Anthony Trent forced itself so strongly upon her. She had admired him at first for his skill and audacity, for the insolent coolness with which he had worked alone and laughed at authority. Then she had come to see the finer side of his complex character, the generosity which distinguished him and the absence of pettiness. These characteristics she saw now she had idealized until she had reared upon their structure an Anthony Trent who did not exist. The leopard had not changed its spots.

"You mean you won't use any of the money I can realize for you on this stone? Think well before you an-

"My mind was made up long ago. I need no time for consideration."

"Well," he said, after a pause, "if so, what will you do?"

"That I cannot say yet, definitely. Mrs. Kinney thinks she can get me work. I have some skill in fine sewing and the mending of old lace; it was taught me at my convent."

"How long will your eyes stand that strain?" he demanded. "The idea is ludicrous. You propose to pass the rest of your life as a working woman because of this silly prejudice. I can get you something better than sewing. 'Already I am too much in your debt to accept more." Gone was the pleasant intimacy of a few minutes earlier He could see almost a horror in her face. She regarded him as one who had seer the light for a little while and then, at adversity's first breath, gone back to the old and easier ways.

"Don't look at me like that," he said, "try to forget what I said." She shook her nead. "That would be impossible." She could not understand how in a moment such as this he could regard her with a whimsical smile. Had he no intuition to warn him that his defection had wounded her irremediably? That he should think her repentance only a matter of words showed her how ill she had judged

"If you have made up your mind," he said. "I suppose there is no more to be said."

"Nothing," she answered. "I cannot repay you for all you have done for me. I am afraid I shall never be able to do that. I am leaving here today. Good-by, Mr. Trent."

"Not tonight," he said earnestly, "please do me one favor. I am leav ing town tonight and shan't be back till Friday. Wait till then."

"I prefer to go tonight."

"If you won't do it as a favor I must put it in another way. I'm afraid it will sound rather brutal Mademoiselle Dupin, you are under certain obligations to me. Apparent ly they weigh rather heavily on your mind. You can repay me by remaining here until I return. At the outside it will be forty-eight hours. It is not much to ask, is it?"

"Very well," she answered, reluctantly, "I will wait forty-eight hours." She did not understand how he could still smile at her. What a nature of contradictions was his!

"One question before I go. You have told me several times that the federal authorities were still seeking you. Why particularly should they want you?" He held up the Nizam's diamond. "Because of this?"
"Yes," she answered. "Particularly because of that."

"But why?" he asked. "Because your government was greatly embarrassed by its loss. You do not know that before the United | cer of wide influence who had for States went into the war a certain illustrious royal personage who is, oddly enough, very popular here, made a secret visit in a battleship in order to hasten this country's entrance into the war. He was here as a secret guest of the government. Absolute secrecy was preserved. Only once did he leave his fast cruiser and come by night to meet official Washington. Yet that night the Nizam's diamond which he carried as his bringer of fortune, his talisman, his good tuck stone, was stolen. His own government thought it unwise to allow it to be known he was here and your own dare not advertise the loss. Now do you understand what a satisfaction It would be to catch the woman who took it?"

Evidently the memory of the affair was unpleasant.

"You will excuse me," she said, and ignored his outstretched hand. Her refusal to take it was not crudely done. Except that he divined her purpose he might have seen in the incident merely an oversight.

"Why don't you give me your hand?" he asked. "If any two people in this troubled world ought to be friends they are you and L"

"In the life I have chosen there will not be room for friendships like that. I shall work to forget."

"And I'm to be one of the forgot-

"I Shall Work to Forget."

ten. Somehow you give me the impression that I've disappointed you." "Disappointed!" she cried, her hands pressed against her beart, "if that were only the word."

Quickly she went from the room. Trent looked after her and he was shake nands. murmured as he walked down the stairway. Mrs. Kinney came to the side of the woman whose sobbing distressed her immeasurably. She had grown to experience sincere affection for this mysterious and lovely visitor. "What is it, my poor dear?" she whispered. "I did not know one's heart could break twice." Mademoiselle Dupin cried wildly.

For a long while the shrewd housekeeper had watched her visitor's increasing interest in Anthony Trent Of her employer's attitude Mrs. Kin ney was in no doubt whatever. She supposed there had been some dread ful quarrel which seemed tragic now but which would pass over as other storms end.

"It will be all right," she said, comforting her.

"Never, never in this life!" sobbed Mademoiselle Dupin.

Trent's destination was Washington and his mission to see a cabinet offi-so far out of the ordinary that he did not think he would have difficulty in recalling himself to Mr. Hill. Cabinet officers are not easy of access. From his room at the New Willard Trent sought to speak to him over the telephone. This proved to be impossible. The cabinet officer was protected from telephonic assaults by s private secretary whose manners were too brukque to suit Anthony merly been ambassador to the Court of St. James. Anthony Trent had met him in London under circumstances

The secretary after learning that Trent would not tell him why he desired to see Mr. Hill said it was idle to continue the conversation.

Half an hour later Trent came face to face with the secretary. He found him a big, overbearing youth who was holding his position during the recovery from an automobile accident of the real incumbent of the situation.

"I can't ask Mr. Hill to see you unless I know what it's about," he said bluntly.

"It is private business," Trent returned, "I cannot discuss it with you." "Then you won't discuss it with the chlef," said the other.

"I came from New York to see Mr. Hill and I'm going to see him. Also I am not going to satisfy your curl-

"He's dated ahead for three days." Trent looked about him. He was in an ante-room with a big davenport and some comfortable chairs.

"I shall pass the time agreeably enough," he said. "I have slept on the bard ground, and that davenport is luxury."

"You can't sleep here," the secre-tary cried. "I shan't allow it."

"I'm afraid you take yourself too seriously," said Trent lighting a cig-

The secretary knew that in less than an hour Mr. Hill would pass through the ante-room. In that case the victory would go to Trent.

"We'll see you tomorrow afternoon," he said. "At four."

"'We?" Trent retorted "I'm afraid I must deny myself the pleasure of your presence at the interview. ['Il remain here until four tomorrow." He had a shrewd idea that Mr. Hill must pass along sooner or later.

"Give me your card," said the secre tory scowling.

In two minutes he returned.

"Three-thirty tomorrow," he said crossly. "The chief will give you just two minutes."

"Try again," said Trent pleasantly, "What do you mean?" the other asked.

"I vaulted over this two-foot barrier and looked through the crack of the door. I saw you sit down, light a cigarette, read a letter through twice and then come back. You didn't even go into Mr Hill's room, Listen, I'm here to see Mr. Hill now. Go back there at once."

"I will not," said the other flushing. He saw the danger signal in the intruder's eyes The secretary was over bearing but he was not courageous. For a moment he thought Trent was about to leap the barrier.

"I'll give you twenty seconds," said Trent. "After that I shall surprise

"There's a man outside," said the secretary, speaking to the cabinet officer, fifteen seconds later, "who says you've got to see him. I don't like the looks of him at all. If I were you, sir. I'd have him thrown out."

"Only the President can say I've got' to see him," said Hill frowning. "I'm much too busy today anyway. What was the name?"

"I didn't get it," the secretary fled. "Can't you read?" snapped Mr. Hill. He took the card from the other's fingers. "Anthony Trent! Is he walting?"

"Yes, he wouldn't take a hint." The secretary was sullen.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Keys of Early Times Not Easy to Handle

stincts in man, which seem to develop early and to die hard even among the most advanced of nations, writes Louise Gordon-Stables in the London Daily Telegraph, must have produced In quite primitive stages of human evolution some form of lock for the safeguarding of valuables, and capable of being negotiated only by its owner. In several passages in the Old Testament we come across references to such contrivances, as, for instance, in the Song of Solomon, where we read, "My hands dropped with myrrh and my fingers with sweet-smelling myrrh upon the handles of the lock." And that the key proper to the Oriental lock was of great size and considerable weight is borne out by the lines: "And the keys of the House of David will I lay upon my shoulder." For these keys, fashloned of wood and studded at one end with Iron pegs to correspond with holes in the wooden lock, might, in the case of the door

The possessive and acquisitive in | of the city or of a public building, measure a couple of feet in length and were correspondingly heavy, so that a bunch of them would be carried most eastly slung at one's back, the cord threaded though holes in their other extremity, being held in front.

> Arbor Day Tree-planting festivals are probably as old as civilization. Sacred trees and groves, planted avenues and roadsides, shaded academic walks and memorial trees were common long before America was discovered. Arbor day, as such, however, is purely American in origin and grew out of conditions peculiar to the great plains of the West, a country practically treeless over much of its area, but supporting a flourishing agriculture and with a soil and climate well able to nourish tree growth. Arbor day origbraska in 1872.

Improved Uniform International

Sunday School Lesson '

Lesson for September 22

MALACHI FORETELLS A NEW DAY

GOLDEN TEXT—Behold, I send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me.

LESSON TEXT-Malachi 3:1-12. PRIMARY TOPIC—The Promise of od's Blessing.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Promise of

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP--Our Part in Bringing in a Better

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC-Preparing the Way of the Lord.

The subject of today's lesson is broader than the printed text. In order to teach this lesson effectively the entire book should be surveyed. The prophet pointed out the sins of a corrupt priesthood, mixed marriages. and failure to pay tithes.

i. The Rase Ingratitude of Israel

God approached them with the tender affirmation, "I have loved you." It was the burden of the prophet to declare this fact unto them (v. 1). So worldly were the people that they failed to discern God's good hand upon them. Israel's attitude toward God is shown in the skeptical question, "Wherein hast thou loved us" (v. 2)? Malachi answers this question by showing God's choice of Jacob and his passing by of Esau, his destruction of Edom and his saving of Israel.

11. God's Severe Indictment (1:6-2:17: 3:7-15) 1. Against the priests (1:6-2:9).

They were gullty of: (1) Profanity (1:6). Their profanity consisted in despising the name of God. To fall to honor God is to be profane. To use His name in any unreal way is to be thus guilty.

(2) Sacrilege (1:7, 8). Their sacrilegious act was in offering polluted bread and blemished sacrifices. To bring such offerings to an earthly ruler would be a gross insult. (3) Greed (1:10).

They were not willing to open the doors of God's house without pay (4) Weariness (1:12, 13). Because of the absence of love, the routine of priestly duties became irksome. God threatened them with severe punishment unless they would take His rebukes to heart. (5) Not teaching the law to the pedple (2:1-9). Those set apart to teach God's law to the people have a great responsibility and God will most as suredly demand an accounting.

2. Against the people (2:10-17; 3:7-

(1) For ungodly marriages (2:11 12). God's purpose in the prohibition of mixed marriages was that He might raise up a holy seed (v. 15). The marriage of the believer with the unbeliever today brings confusion into the fold of God and turns aside His

(2) For divorce (2:13-16). Divorce in Israel was the source of great sorrow-even the tears of the wronged women covering the altar (v. 13).

(3) r'ublic wrongs (3:5, 6). a Sorcery-magic arts cludes the practice of occult sciences. b. Adultery. This is a sin of wider extent than to the parties directly concerned. It is a canker which gnaws at the very heart of society. Unfalthfulness to the marriage relation should be regarded as a public

c. False swearing. d. Oppression of the hireling, widow and fatherless. e. Turning aside the stranger from his rights. (4) Withholding tithes (3:7-12). Fallure to pay tithes is robbery of God. His claim upon Israel was the tenth, plus free-will offerings. Our pers us (| Cor. 16:1). (5) Blasphemy (3:13-15). They openly spoke against God, saying that it was profiless to serve Him.

responsibility is to give as God pros-

III. The Awful Judgment Shall Befall the Nation (3:1-5: 4:1-6)

1. By whom executed (v. 1). It is to be done by the Lord. All judgment has been committed unto the Son of God (Ino. 5:22, 30, cf. Acts 17:30 81). When Christ comes in power and glory to render judgment. He will distinguish between the righteous and the wicked, rewarding them according to their deeds.

2. The time of (3:2-4:1).

It will be at the second coming of Christ, John the Baptist was the forerupper of His first coming. Elijah will be the forerunner of His second coming.

3. The result (3:3, 4, 16-18; 4:1, 2) For the righteous it will be a day of healing and salvation; for the wicked a duy of burning and destruc-

More Sorrow, More Joy The more sorrow the more loy. If we have loads of sorrow, then the Lord's power will turn them into tons of joy. Then the bitterer the trouble the sweeter the pleasures; the swing ing of the pendulum far to the left will cause it to go all the farther to the right. The remembrance of the grief shall beighten the flavor to the delight; and the brilliance of the diamond shall be the more clearly seen because of the black foll behind it,-Spurgeon.

MIMI

Kitchen Policemen

MAYBE you think I'm going to re-fer to the cop who comes around to the back door to make love to the gook and the apple pie. But that isn't the only kind of man you may stumble on in the kitchen.

Nor do I mean those poor dough boys who were set to the sink and made to clean the kitchen when they misbehaved in the army. The officers put them on kitchen police duty, but they couldn't make them love the frying pan or dishmop.

My idea of the man who does real duty in the kitchen is that of the fellow who does his share of housekeeping, as far as cooking is concerned. There are lots of men who have come to the realization that kitchen work is no picnic for a woman, and these enlightened men have begun to share the responsibilities of the gas range and dishpan.

With the old-style marriage, whichis rapidly growing extinct, there was a "division of labor," whereby the man worked from sun to sun, or from whistle to whistle, while woman's work was never done, because she wasn't running on scheduled time.

With the new marriage, the man finds it both possible and agreeable to do a certain amount of work in the shadow of the gas range. His wife may be doing her part in meeting household expenses with the L'Il pay envelope, so it's only fair for him to match her work with his. If she's in an office, he can be in a kitchen.

This arrangement changes the meaning of the rolling pin. Time was when this kitchen implement was only a sign of the wives' disapprovat. Now It means that men, too, have some interest in the place where their food is prepared.

Do you think that kitchen duty makes a man effeminate? I don't. It doesn't change a man when he does woman's work any more than it changes a woman when she does man's work. It's just a case of turn about is fair play.

I know of a man who is about as far from being effeminate as a man can be, judged by his body and brain. And yet that man takes his place at the sink, and isn't half bad when it comes to performing on the kitchen

He says he learned the trick in camp, where it was his job to get the breakfast. The family used to have strong coffee, soggy cereals, and robust muffins when he got the meal, but they liked the fun of seeing him play cook. Hall to the Chef!

Sweetheart Snatchers

GIRL friend of mine is almost heart broken because another girl, one with dark hair and ruddy complexion, has aken a man away from her. Gentlemen do not always prefer peroxide.

Of course, my girl friend was not engaged to the man, still tess married, so she has no comebuck in the courts. She has nothing but fears. Now the experience which joited the girl's heart gave me a little tap on the brain. It made me ask-Why?

Then, too, a man I know, and detest, was boasting the other evening how he had cut another guy out. Man number one didn't really care for the girl he'd snatched, but he though it was such fun to rob his pal of his sweet patootle. Such a world, and-Why:

I suppose it's the way of the world. and it means that to have is not to hold. To be held in the back seat of the nuto doesn't mean that you'll remain as the life of that petting party. Now, why do men and women, who wouldn't think of shoplifting, indulge in this little crime of heart-picking?

Who steals my purse, as Shakespeare says, steals nothing but no old powderpuff, the fare home, and bargain counter banky. But who steals my sweetle lifts something that may not be able to get back at the next dance. For men are bard to grab in these days.

But, why? That's the question that bothers my bob and knocks the permanent out of a wave which isn't a week old yet. I can understand a girl's motives when she swipes the other Jane's Stendy, for girls have been taught to grah men. Just as kit tens are taught to hunt mice. Nature keeps telling the girl that she must find a mate. Well, here's a man who is holding some other girl's hand. What of 11? They aren't handcuffed together, are they? So grab that guy, and maybe there'll be a home in it for you. That's the way of the world where women are con-You see, women are economic and practical. They are bound to think of themselves and the race. So they keep their eyes open for the Visible Means of Support, which is men. That's their excuse for sweetle-snatching, love-lifting, and beart-picking, Men are not just the same, but they are naturally hunters who are waiting for the open season to roll around A man shoots a deer for the fun of it. not for venison. He likes to show his power, his superiority over other men. Women snatch hearts because they

in by the Bell Byndlests, Inc.)

Quick new The Wake-up Food Post Toasties Corn Flakes FOR ECONOMY. buy the family size package

The genuine Spanish "GOLD DIGGER" Compass, useful in locating hidden or buried Gold and Silver ONLY: Coins, jewelry, ores, etc., above or below ground. Simple to operate. Lasts a lifetime. SEND NO MONEY. P. coid and Silver ONLY: Coins, jewelry, ores, etc., above or below ground. Simple to operate. Lasts a lifetime. SEND NO MONEY. Pay Postman Special Introductory Price Delivered for Agent's Sample; $2.72 for Standard Type or $5.27 for Double Strength Type. No duty or additional postage. If not satisfied after Twenty-Four Hour Trial money refunded. Wonderful testimonials: many telling of finds. Beware imitations. Order immediately and JOIN TREASURE HUNT. Interesting proposition to agents. E. C. Bland, "Apartado 1426". Mexico City, Mexico.

Health Giving All Winter Long Marvelous Climate - Good Hotels - Tourist

Camps—Splendid Roads—Gorgeous Mountain Views. The wonderful desert resort of the West Write Cree & Chaffey alm Spring CALIFORNIA

Sulphur Found in Craters

Sulphur is being spouted by volcanoes of Chile, according to Don Juan M. Goikovic, a Montenegrin prospector, who claims to have found the richest deposit of pure sulphur in the world. Estimates have placed the quantity found at more than 2,000,000 tons. It is lodged in the slopes of six volcanoes. From the mouths of the craters, about 95 per cent pure sulphur continues to flow, according to the explorer. The find is the result of 30 years of exporation by Goikovic.

Razor 10,000 Years Old

A razor 10,000 years old has been found by a French archeologist in a sand quarry at Moutieres-les-Amiens. It was discovered in a Neolithic bed among a number of other implements.

Contagious? Seymour-I found out that Patricia has a fever blister.

Oswalt-How did you find it out? Seymour-I got it from her own lips. You can't convince a barber that long hair indicates genius.

FAMILY DOCTOR MADE MILLIONS OF FRIENDS

Fifteen years after his graduation, Dr. Caldwell became famous for a single prescription, which now, after forty years, is still making friends.

Today Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the world's most popular laxative. Millions of people never think of using anything else when they're constipated, headachy, bilious, feverish or weak; when breath is bad, tongue coated, or they're suffering from nausea, gas, or lack of appetite or energy.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made today according to the original formula, from herbs and other pure ingredients. It is pleasant-tasting; thorough in the most obstinate cases; gently effective for women and children. Above all, it represents a doctor's choice of what is safe for the bowels.

DRY COW FEEDING IS BIG PROBLEM

Condition of Individual Animal Governs Ration.

Rations and feeding practices suitable for dry cows depend somewhat on the condition of such cows at the close of their lactation periods. In the process of selection and breeding, a great many cows are so persistent in producing large quantities of milk that it is practically impossible to keep them in good flesh during the entire lactation period. This means that they are in poor condition at the close of the lactation period. Practical dairymen are agreed that such cows must have form six to eight weeks of rest following each lactation if they are to produce large quantities of milk year after year. The feeding of such cows during the dry period should be such as to enable them to regain the losses sustained in the previous lactation and before the onset of the demands of the succeeding lactation. The same principle of management is recommended for cows not capable of producing as much but in less degree, says Hoard's Dairyman.

No special ration is needed for dry cows. As in making rations for cows in milk, the roughage to be fed is the basis on which to compound grain mixtures. The condition of the individual cows governs the amount of grain to be fed. The needs of dry cows on good pasture are very easily met by a simple mixture composed of 300 pounds ground corn or ground barley or hominy feed, 300 pounds ground oats, 200 pounds bran, and 100 pounds linseed meal or cottonseed meal, or a mixed feed containing 30 per cent of digestible protein.

In winter feeding with silage and alfalfa hay available the addition of 50 pounds of the high protein feed to the mixture given is satisfactory. For silage and other legume hay add 100 pounds more of one of the high protein feeds. Silage and mixed hay should have the protein content of the grain mixture still further increased by the addition of 75 pounds high protein feed to the amount given for silage and legume hay, the total amount being 275 pounds.

Replace Broken Windows

Before Blustery Season Refore the blustery weather and fall rains set in all broken windows in the cow stable should be replaced. little time and a trifling outlay for glass and putty may be the means of preventing an outbreak of garget in the herd during the winter.

Inflammation in the udder is often caused by exposure to drafts. This may develop and encourage garget, a contagious disease which, if not checked may spread to other members of the herd, cutting milk production sharply. It may also cause the loss of quarters of udders which become badly infected.

Two or three years ago I visited a herd where a splendid cow was suffering from garget. Her stall was located near a window and a few days before she freshened one of the window panes had been broken. A cold east wind blew in on the cow all night with the result that a little swelling developed in the udder and some thick milk came from two quarters a few days later. Garget set in and after some time one quarter ceased to yield any milk and the other was not normal. The next time this row freshened she was sold for beef. This was an exorbitant price to pay for less than one square foot of glass.

Silo for One Cow Plan

Now in Vogue in Japan

What would our American farmers think of equipping their farms so that each cow would have her own silo? In Japan, they don't quite do this, but many farmers keeping one or two rows have a silo. The department of agriculture of Japan, reported in 1925, 4.381 siles of less than five tens each.

Now a cow needs about four tons of siluge per year so these less-thantive-ton siles could be classified as Individual silos, or one cow silos.

Another thing of interest concerning the silos of Japan is the fact that the vines of sweet potatoes come next to corn in material used for filling. All kinds of green, succulent forage and material grown on the farm are cut up and put into the silo where it is preserved and fed out during the winter season. Silos are making rapid progress in Japan according to the report, and are being widely used by the stock keepers.

Soy Beans and Corn

Soy beans alone do not make a satisfactory stage. It is best to combine them with corn in the proportion of two or three to one; that is, two or three loads of corn to one of soy beans. It is also best to mix the two as they are blown into the silo, rather than to put in a layer of beans and then a layer of corn. Mixing in this way you should be able to get a satisfactory silage. Soy beans infore the beans in the pods harden.

Horses and Mules in Better Demand

Much Practical Information for Breeders of Light and Work Stock.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) An increased demand and good prices for well-bred horses and mules. especially during the next few years, are forecast by J. O. Williams and S. R. Speelman, horse specialists of the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture. A report on the horse-breeding situation, just made public by these government specialists, gives the basis for their opinions and contains much practical information for breeders of light horses and work stock.

Proportion of Pure Breds. According to information received from 24 states having enrollment laws for stallions, jacks, or both, approximately 82 per cent of all stallions licensed in 1928 were pure bred, while 60.5 per cent of the jacks enrolled were in the same class. These figures show a gain over former years and are an encouraging feature of the report. There has been, however, a continued annual decrease in the total number of stallions and jacks licensed for public service in the 24 states. A reduction in the equine population of the country has also occurred; during the calendar year 1928, the decline amounted to about half a million horses and 85,000 mules. The authors of the report estimate that colt production is now only half as great as is needed to maintain our horse population at its present level. Among other salient comments on the situa-

Prices of horses have risen during the last two years, the rise being most pronounced in the Corn Belt and in states east of the Mississippi river. Draft horses with size and quality are in strong demand at good prices, and the demand for saddle horses is

tion, are the following:

nation-wide. Saddie horses and polo mounts are probably bringing higher prices now than at any time in history. Producers of work stock, doubtful of a recurrence in the demand for horses and mules, have been hesitant in resuming breeding operations. This has resulted in a present shortage of good work animals, and the scarcity probably will be more acute within the next few years.

Stallions and Jacks Needed. High-class stallions and jacks are not only scarce but are also of high average age and will soon need to be replaced by younger animals.

Prices of suitable replacement stock probably will be higher in the near future than at present. Mares as well as stallions and jacks should be selected with great care so as to assure offspring that will develop into sound animals of the desired type. The foregoing appraisal of the situation is supported by comments from state officials closely in touch with horse and mule breeding in the principal producing areas. The report contains a summary of stallion and jack enrollments by breeds for the calendar years 1926, 1927, and 1928, data on horse importations, and a list of state and national stallion registration board officials. The full report is available as a 12-page mimeographed pamphiet, which may be obtained by addressing the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Conservation of Labor in Filling Silo Profitable As silo-filling time draws near, many farmers in all parts of the country are preparing to follow a plan which differs greatly from silo filling in the days of the steam-powered rig and the large crew. It is the small crew plan now growing in pop u'arity.

The small crew plan is essentially labor saving. Only two men are necessary to fill. When the binder is equipped with a bundle elevator, two loads may be cut and put on the racks without the hard labor of pitching the bundles by hand. The loads are then drawn to the silo and run through the cutter as it takes only a minute to start the tractor which furnishes the belt power, or to turn the switch which starts an electric motor.

Experiments at some of our state colleges and practical experience have proved that tramping is not necessary for keeping the silage and in many cases this job has been eliminated. Neither is it necessary to have a man at the feed table of the modern ensilage cutter.

Round Bin Capacity Is

Figured Quite Easily

To find the number of bushels of grain in a round or cylindrical field grain bin is a matter of simple figuring, according to Prof. Cap E. Miller, head of the department of agricultural economics, North Dakota Agricultural college.

The first step is to get the circumference or distance around the bin in feet. Then, square this figure and multiply the result by .07958. This will give the area in square feet. Now, multiply this area by the depth of grain in the bin and the result will be the number of cubic feet of grain in the bin. Multiply the num-ber of cubic feet by 8 or divide by 1½ for the number of bushels of grain in the circular bin.

"Shipping Fever" of Cattle Is Prevented

Protective Agent Quite Efficacious Against Disease

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Hemorrhagic-septicemia is a recently discovered protective agent against the disease known as hemorrhagic septicemia, which is so highly infectious among farm animals, particularly cattle and sheep The bureau of animal industry of the United States Department of Agriculture developed this aggressin. In a revised edition of Farmers' Bulletin 1018-F. Hemorrhagic Septicemia. "Shipping Fever" of Cattle, just published, Henry J. Washburn says, "Numerous experimental animals were vaccinated with this material and subsequently were given a severe artificial exposure together with some unvaccinated control animals. In these experiments all the vaccinated antmals remained healthy, while the unvaccinated ones developed fatal hemorrhagic-septicemia infections. This aggressin is a germ-free, sterile product. It is now manufactured under commercial conditions and is proving to be quite as efficacious in practice as it has proved experimentally."

The disease is known popularly as "shipping fever" of cattle. The bulletin describes the bacterium causing the disease, the symptoms and anatomical changes produced, and gives suggestions for diagnosis and for distinguishing the disease from other malignant maladies. It also gives directions for prevention and for the care of animals and premises during and after outbreaks of the disease. No effective medicinal treatment for infected animals is known, If the presence of the disease is suspected, the owner should call a competent veterinarian, who will advise as to protective measures and preventive treatment. The revised edition of Farmers' Bulletin 1018-F may be obtained free on application to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Storing Green Alfalfa

to Secure Best Results

"Brown hay" from alfalfa results when the alfalfa is put into the mow so green and tough that it heats and drives off the surplus water. At the same time it is discolored. During the process of fermentation the moisture driven off will condense on the top layer of hay and will spoil it as the top layer of silage is spoiled.

The top of such a mow may steam for three weeks or more after the hay is put in. Below the spoiled top layer, if the hay has been properly stored, there will be no mold. This brown hay is very palatable to stock and while there is a certain amount of loss from the fermentation, it is not serious if the hay has not been badly discolored.

When first-cutting alfalfa is nearly cured, but tough, and is likely to be rained on if not taken in, it is far better to take it in and make brown hay of it, than to leave it in the field to be damaged by rain. If put in this way, the hay should be exceptionally well stacked back into the hay mow, to break up the green bunches some times found. It should be packed and not left loose, unless there is space enough to spread a thin layer of the tough hay all over the mow. After fermentation starts, do not put other hay on top of it, or disturb it in any way. The use of salt on tough hay is often recommended and should be of value in reducing fermentation and mold .- C. J. Willard, Ohio State university.

Farm Notes

Warm dry weather is important when a good paint job is wanted.

Soy beans and cowpeas are egumes and will benefit soil some by raising them.

Alfalfa is a high profit crop. It ranks at the top of the list for meat and milk production.

A good, clean quality of alfalfa hay can be used quite satisfactorily for feeding work horses,

Alfaifa used as the roughage for work horses sometimes has a tendency to make them over laxative and soft in their muscles. The outstanding advantage of the combined harvester-thresher is that it saves time and labor and so considerably reduces the cost of harvesting the crop.

Wheat that is high in protein content is worth more than low protein wheat. Good farming is more certain to produce high protein wheat than poor farming.

Knowledge of the protein and the moisture content of wheat aids in determining the wheat to store, Wheat containing less than 13 per cent moisture can be stored safely.

The beneficial effects of early listing and plowing may be destroyed by permitting weeds and volunteer grain to grow on the land. The destruction of weeds and volunteer grain is frequently just as important as early plowing or listing.

DAMP FLOORS ARE MENACE TO FOWLS

Owners Who Tolerate Them Are Inviting Big Losses.

Damp floors in poultry houses are nexcusable, in the opinion of E. R. Gross, agricultural engineer at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment station. Poultrymen who tolerate them are inviting heavy losses in their flocks and a general reduction in the efficiency of the birds that survive.

A dry wooden floor may be made of two layers of boards with building paper between, the top layer to be a good grade of matched flooring, so that it may be kept clean. Many poultrymen find it desirable to keep the floor 12 to 18 inches above the ground and to leave the south foundation wall open for air circulation. The other sides should be closed tight to keep out cold winds.

For a dry concrete floor, either of two methods may be used. The first is as follows: Build the foundation walls; level the ground inside, do not remove any soil; fill in with 6 to 8 inches of coarse sand, gravel, or cinders; and place 31/2 to 4 inches of concrete floor on top. In this construction, be sure the foundations are high enough for the fill of cinders and the floor. This raised floor with insulating fill will be dry.

The other method is to lay a twocourse concrete floor with a layer of roofing paper between.

Sometimes the floor itself is not the cause of dampness. Then the remedy must be sought in a study of the care of the house ventilation, litter, or sunlight admitted.

Highly Concentrated

Foods Hurt Turkeys

The turkey has a rather large digestive system and long intestines, accompanied by an ever-present appetite, so that If birds are compelled to satisfy this appetite on highly concentrated foods, indigestion is almost certain to result.

If this is not Immediately relleved death will follow, and usually salts or, better still, castor oil will effect

Plenty of green food is essential to young turkeys, such as alfalfa (if quite tender), clover, lettuce, chopped onion tops and dandelion leaves. All green food supplied to turkeys should be cut a little way up from the ground to avoid black-head contamination that may chance to lurk in the soil.

Fertile Eggs Reason for Paltry Returns Nature intends the egg to hatch a chick. To get the best food results from eggs we have to defeat nature's purpose by producing infertile eggs. A fertile egg is just as good as an infertile one if it is used at once, but It won't hold up under summer market conditions.

Sell or confine the roosters as soon as the breeding season is over. The hens will lay just as well without the male in the flock. Using early hatched cockerels is a good breeding practice on the farms. Selling them as soon as your hatching senson is over saves a feed bill of from 90 cents to $1.50 each. If you have particularly valuable males, confine them.

Difficult to Decide

Sex of Young Poults

It is difficult to be absolutely sure of the sex of young turkey poults. The males will usually "shoot the red" and show development of the fleshy growth on the head a little sooner than the females, and they are also likely to grow more rapidly than the females. With the Bronze variety of turkeys the sex can also be detected by the plumage color as soon as they are well feathered. The breast of the females show the characteristic white tips to the breast feathers, while the males will show dark tips.

Changing Breeds

Several years ago it was common advice to avoid changing breeds of poultry. That was before the days of the large hatchery when poultrymen established a flock with a few settings of eggs, possibly bought at a high price, and then spent several years in developing their own flocks. A change meant starting all over In many cases birds of both breeds would be retained and soon a pure-bred flock became a flock of crosses followed by a flock of mongrels.

Birds Not Wanted

Most poultry keepers realize that there are two courses open to them in regard to unwanted males. One plan is to destroy them as soon as they can be distinguished; and the other is to feed them well right from the first day and so bring them to a fleshy condition. The latter practice is sound so far as the early cockerels are concerned, but very few poultry keepers approve of it for later broods. Some poultrymen do not healtate to can all surplus fowls.

A Cipher and a

Trained Mind

By H. IRVING KING (Copyright.)

ARTHUR CAMPBELL was a star reporter on a big New York daily, and he was in love with Ethel Crosby-who was in love with him. But Ethel's father was a rich financler who had no use for newspaper men. Although he had been a friend of Arthur's father in the days when the two had "broken into" Wall street together, he had no idea of letting his daughter marry his old friend's son.

"Oh, Arthur," Ethel was saying as the two sat alone in the back parlor of the old-fashioned Crosby mansion, "I am really afraid we shall have to elope-for I won't give you up, let father say what he will.

"He was talking to me today about ou," she went on, "and even went so far as almost to order me to forbid you the house. But I told him frankly that I should do no such thing. He called me an ungrateful and rebellious child and I cried, and he went off in a rage to the library. He's there now. He's got some business matter on his mind, I can see, and that makes him very unreasonable." "I don't see why your father should be so down on me," said Arthur, "I have a little money of my own and-I've a good mind to go upstairs and have it out with him."

"Do!" cried Ethel. "Matters can't be any worse than they are now."

"All right," replied Arthur, "here goes for the Rubicon!" Arthur went upstairs, knocked on the library door, which stood partly open, and entered Mr. Crosby looked up surprised and angry from the paper on the table before him which he had been contemplating with a puzzled frown, "Excuse my intrusion, Mr. Crosby," said Arthur, "but I gathered from Ethel that you might like to have a talk with me concerning my relations to your daughter. We are deeply in love, I have a small competence and have just been appointed Washington correspondent for my paper. My prospects are good, my character will bear investigation and, in short, I ask the hand of your daughter in marriage."

"You-you!" sputtered Crosby, "You penny-a-liner, you pauper! If you had gone into Wall street as your father

"I might have been squeezed by old Collingwood as my father was," interrupted Arthur. At the name of Collingwood Crosby paused reflectively and glanced at the paper on the table. His whole manner changed. "Yes," said he, "Collingwood did ruin your father and there (tapping the paper on the table) is the same hand reached out for me.'

Arthur glanced at the document. 'Cipher, sir?" he asked. "Yes," replied Crosby, "and I'd give something to read it." On the piece of paper Arthur saw the following:

(568.3; 28) $5: He gazed at it thoughtfully, then seemed to be struck with a sudden iden. "I think I can decode it for you, sir," said he. "You can? Go ahead and try, then, If you succeed-well, then we will talk of other matters." Arthur looked along the book shelves, took down a volume, drew a chair up to the table selected a pencil and a piece of blank paper, and set to work. Finally he handed the cipher message back to Crosby with letters written under the cryptic characters. The message now appeared as (568.3:28)85:

raidpgtuesday "Raid Peninsular and Galveston

Tuesday, will be?" cried Crosby, "The old villian. Well, we'll see about that I have you on the hip, William! Checkmate to Collingwood." By reading Collingwood's cipher Arthur had changed Crosby's despair into exulta-

"How did you do it?" asked Crosby when he bad calmed down a little. "Why, you see, sir," replied Arthur,

'a newspaper man has a trained mind (Crosby sniffed), accustomed to deductive reasoning. Your connecting the cipher message with Collingwood caused me rapidly to turn over in my mind everything connected with the occasion upon which I was sent to interview that eminent financier, and I recalled that on that occasion he was rending a volume of Poe's stories. Then I recollected that in Poe's story of 'The Gold Bug' there is a crypto gram containing the same characters which appear in the cipher message This gave me a clew. I found on your book shelves a copy of Poe's works. turned to 'The Gold Bug,' applied the cryptogram contained and explained therein to Collingwood's messageand you see the result. Very careless of Collingwood to appropriate a cipher instead of inventing one; but unless one has a trained mind he is apt to fail to detect It."

"Quite so," interrupted Crosby, "and your trained mind, I understand, is bent on having my daughter. Well, you have rendered me such an Immense service today that all I can say is-take her."

Better Weeds Than Nothing

It is not so much the being exempt from faults as the having overcome them, that is an advantage to us; it being with the follies of the mind as with the weeds of a field, which, if destroyed and consumed upon the place where they grow, earlich and improve it more than if none had ever sprung there.- Dean Swift

A DOZEN different things may cause a headache, but there's just one thing you need ever do to get relief. Bayer Aspirin is an absolute antidote for such pain. Keep it at the office. Have it handy in the home. Those subject to frequent or sudden headaches should carry Bayer Aspirin in the pockettin. Until you have used it for headaches, colds, neuralgia, etc., you've no idea how Bayer Aspirin can help. It means quick, complete relief to millions of men and women who use it every year. And it does not depress the heart.

For Barbed Wire Cuts Try HANFORD'S

Balsam of Myrrh All dealers are authorized to refund your money for the first bettle if not suited.

Drop in Eggs

A crate of fresh eggs dropped by parachute from a plane over the Los Angeles airport landed in safety and without the cracking of a shell. It was a 2,000 foot tumble, but it was made with the gentle grace of a butterfly lighting on a rose or a builfrog sliding into a sewer. Getting our breakfast out of the peavens is a reminder of the days when the Israelites snared their manna in the same miraculous fashion.

Keep Blankets Like New!

To keep blankets fresh and sweet always wash them with 20 Mule Team Borax and a mild soap. Avoid strong alkalis and harsh "washing compounds." A final Borax rinse leaves thein soft and fluffy .-- Adv.

Scarlet on the Bench

Scarlet was the "judicial color" throughout the Middle ages, and those dignitaries of the church who were entitled to sit as judges in England during the Thirteenth and Fourteenth centuries wore robes of that hue.

Immigration Restriction

Until 1819 no law was passed in congress which affected the immigrant. An act then adopted, though applying to all passengers, was it reality a law regulating immigration, because then nearly all passengers were immigrants.

Tried and True "I believe he admires his car more than he does his wife." "Well, she's not an exclusive model."

"When I was a young single girl I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because my mother did and she gave it to me. After I married I took it before my children were born and afterwards, and I have eight living children. I am now a grandmother and still take it and still recommend it when any one is tired and run-down."-Mrs. Alfred Iverson, St. Edwards, Nebraska.

-- There's Nothing Else on Our Mind

Standard Station, Rendering Standard Service and Featuring Standard Products.

Superior Service Station

H. W. COX, Manager

oung Misses We have the

They are made in both long and short sleeves, in Prints and Suitings, A choice variety of patterns and designs. In bright and charming colors-sizes from 7 to 14 years and priced at

Good Morning Diess

$1.00 and $2.00

Dry Goods Department

General Merchandise

Service

Quality

Phone 43

SHOES! for School Wear

Our stock of STAR BRAND SHOES is very com-plete—"Poll Partot" Shoes for School Boys and Cliris-a full range of sizes.

Getting as many eggs from your chickens as you should?

feeding your chickens properly to get Quantity Production of eggs?

Like to get more eggs from your chickens? Know whether or not you are feeding and housing your birds properly?

Like to have your birds called?

are you Self Satisfied and Willing to take "Haif a Loaf" when you could get a "Whole Loaf."

L. H. Prescott the Poultry Specialist, will be at the Collierville Cash Feed Store again on Sept. 26th and will be glad to go over your conditions with you. This Service is FREE for the asking. Phone 184.

LOCALS & PERSONALS

Mrs A Weinstein and Miss Finuie Weinstein motored to St Louis recently and visited Dr Sydney Weinstein, an nterne at the General Hospi tal there.

Miss Nomie Moore returned to her home in Salsbury after visiting Mrs Watkins. Misses Virginia Hughes

Send the Herald to triends and help the School. and Kathleen Ashtord with Messrs Farley and Owen visi ted Mrs A W Owen in Moscow, Sunday.

Mr and Mrs A L Hurdle sited their daughter, Gailor Wat,in Memphis, Sunday.

C H McCandless and Perry Hale of Clarkedale spent the sek end with Mrs J A Hale

That boy or girl of yours ment this week. to is away from home, will he Herald.

James Mann left Monday enter Sewanee College. Miss Ruth and Anne Russell left Tuesday to enter Grenada College, Grenada, Miss.

Puesday for Old Miss.

Miss Elizabeth Baker has returned to Centenary College; Columbia.

O. G. Dean has re-entered the University of Tenn

Among those attending the West Tenn, State College are Misses Ladye Cox, Dorothy ton of Memphis spent the Dean, Ida Pearl Mann, Mary week end with their parents Suggs, Elizabeth Piper, Mai here. Belle Rives, Elizabeth Thomas, Katherine Mai Dean for quotations. Lake Super-Linnie Sue Thomas, Mary ior Piling Co. Chicago, Ill. France Leake Mannie Neville, Willie Neville, Eva 68 acres, six-room house, go d James.

western are John B. Mc Baghes, Collierville, Tenn. Ferrin, Jr., Miss Martha Mc Ferrin and James Cowan.

Misses Dorothy Glenn and Rebecca Smythetett Tuesday for Ward Belmont.

James Taylor Jones has en tored the University of Ala.

to Cookville to T.P. I. Misses Ruth Craig and Olivia Brooks have entered the Miss State College for Women, Columbus, Miss.

Mrs. F. A. Coyle and daughter, Florence returned Saturday from Milligan where they feit Mattel Coyle to attend Milligan College.

Mack Looney leaves this week for University of Tenn. In Knowville. His major subject is Edulish and he is also taking a course in Liber

MEATS

In our New Market you will Find Just What You Want

Let Us Hein You Plan Your Sunday Dinner

Chas. Dean & Son

Arts. The Herald goes to him each week.

Miss Nina Stamps left this week for Raudolph-Macon College in Lynohburg. Va.

Miss Lilly Mae Leake left Sunday for Knoxville, where she will enter the University. Help

Mr and Mrs Kirkpatrick and daughters of Grand Junction were here Sunday. Subscribe to the Heraldand help YUUR School.

Mrs. Burchett, Loraine Burchett, Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Humphreys, and Mrs Bob Hughes were sightseeing in Memphis Sunday.

S. C. COMPOUND, for Cuts, Bruises, and Burns, Sold here at Fred Evans and White Cafe.

Mrs. J H lrby, Mrs E K Saffarans and Mrs JI K Swoope attended services at the Bellevue Baptist church in Memphis Sunday night.

Your

Mr and Mrs Winstou Jones and daughter Miss Sara moved into the Sigrest apart-

J H House, District Managwant home news. Send them er of the Press-Scimitar, was here Tuesday and a plesaant caller at this office.

leam

Mrs Frank Bryant and son Melvin, Mrs Sherlock Johnson and Mrs J.P Williams, Miss Doris Dudney left Jr. were in Memphis Monday

Don't worry your neighor—have your own Herald.

Chas. Evans, Claude Harris and N Moore were in Meinphis this week on Jury duty.

Mr and Mrs Frank Thorn-

We Buy Piling. Write

FOR RENT OR SALE; barn, tenant house. 1½ miles Those attending South- from town. Apply, W. F

The Best Investment

For $1.50 you can secure the Collierville Herald one year, in which once each month for eight months. The Messenger will ap-Warren McMahan has gone to the School Library.

> Immense Ocean Liners There are steamers on the Atlantic engaged in a heavy tourist traffic which are to large that if placed on end and stood up they would rise more than 200 feet higher than the Veliverth abyerance in New York

> > Complicated Relations

W. H. BOGGAN & CO.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE GINNERS COTTON AND COTTON SEED BUYERS

CAYCE. MISS.

SCHOOL SHOES now Ready at $2.50 to $4.00

Shoe-fitting is not simply a matter of putting a size 7 shoe on a size 7 foot, but is an art that requires close attention in the selection of correctly formed lasts, proper heel heights, and many other factors that must be considered in accomplishing a correct fit.

To those who entrust to us the responsibility of proper fitting we guarantee a satisfactory service.

Kelsey Brothers

INTERNATIONAL Mak Meat Hog Feed

Is a Balanced Ration and can be used as a complete Ration with splendid success

Are You Turning Feed into Profits?

International Jewel Egg Mash

Will Increase your Egg Production and keep Your Hens Laying

"We Have a Feed for Every Feeding Purpose" COLLIERVILLE CASH FEED STORE

"We Sell for Cash-Our Customers Get the Benefit" WE BUY CREAM

DANCE TONIGHT

Given by A. R. Hamner in the New Payilion. Good Music Best of Order