FACTS and FICTION BEING

a little bit about anything
"Read not to contradict and confute, nor to find talk and discourse, but to weigh and consider."—Francis Bacon.

By Harry Williamson

Do we like football? The people of the United States paid not less than ten million dollars on Saturday, November 15th, to see the 175 major football games played on that date. The thirteen big games for which attendance figures were given were witnessed by 478,000 lovers of the pigskin sport. It is a low estimate to figure that $10,000 saw the other 162 games reported. Estimating an expense of about eight dollars per person, which is to include traveling expense, hotel bills and all others, we can easily run the total up to ten million. This does not include the millions that have been spent for coaches, equipment, stadiums, and other outlays. If the total were known, it would be staggering.

Five million seven hundred thousand dollars of State funds are now tied up in a group of defunct banks in Tennessee. County after county that have bonded themselves to the breaking point now find themselves penniless, and faced with disagreeable task of borrowing money with which to meet actual contract expenses.

Just what is our country coming to? Is it coming to the point that there is not enough honor to safeguard our funds? The reports as of September 25th showed these defunct banks in good condition. A group of financiers, including a Federal Reserve Bank agent, signed a statement not less than a week before the crash, stating that these institutions were solvent. Then came the break, and there is little telling what the results will be.

This may account for some of the speed on our highways:

"A little Ford shall lead them, All the way there and back, And nothing shall pass them going And nothing coming back."

Fine. The sun is not going to cool off, since it is decided that it is constantly being refueled. It is believed that the great source of our heat and light would burn out in about 15 trillion years—think of it, 15 trillion—if it were not constantly refueled. This refueling material, it is claimed, is a sort of radiant energy that assumes the forms of atoms and is attracted back to the sun. Pretty nice, isn't it? Well, anyway, it is mighty fine that Old Sol is not going to cool off after a mere 15 trillion years.

How efficient is the U. S. Air Mail service? During the last fiscal year it was planned to fly air mail 16,228,453. Planes were actually flown 14,939,469. This is ninety-four per cent perfect. This is a record unequalled by any other nation in the world.

How can you expect the United States to be a quiet and restful place in which to live? Before we get through cleaning up from one great political landslide, along comes another and nusses things up worse than ever.

It is said that President Hoover had difficulty wording his Thanksgiving proclamation. If he had called on the Democrats they would doubtless have suggested that we are very thankful that he has but two more years of his administration left.

The General Electric people have perfected a vacuum tube for the purpose of measuring the amount of heat radiated from the stars. They claim it will measure a hundredth of a millionth of a billionth. A tube like that might be worth something in some of these so-called steam-heated houses.

It is understood that Al Capone has offered to make a truce with the Chicago law enforcing powers. It seems that Al is willing to drop all his other rackets if they will give him free rein in the liquor business.

BAPTIST CHURCH MAKES PLANS FOR COMING YEAR'S WORK

The Baptist church, in a special meeting last Sunday, decided to put the work for the coming year on the same financial basis as the present year. The church also pledged by unanimous vote to cooperate and to work to hold up the Lord's cause.

The year just closing has been a successful year for the church. The church has operated on a cash basis and all bills have been paid punctually.

The Sunday school, under the wise leadership of the efficient superintendent, Boyd Pleasant, has had a successful year.

The young people's organizations have been a phenomenal success. The B. Y. P. U. of Collierville is one of the liveliest and most wide awake in the county.

The W. M. S. has made 100% gain over last year in membership, attendance, efficiency, offerings and Bible study. This auxiliary of the church is the missionary life of the church.

The church music, under the leadership of the faithful director, Miss Sadie Perkins, has made wonderful progress, and the church has a well organized choir which is giving good service and inspiration to the membership as a whole. Good congregational singing and special music are attractive features of every service.

The pastor seems to have a very strong grip on the membership, especially the younger people. He is a real live wire and much beloved by the church and the community.

B. Y. P. U. OFFICERS INSTALLED

Sunday evening, the officers elect of the J. P. Horton (Senior) Union were installed by the pastor.

They are as follows: Sadie McCandless, President; Elizabeth Piper, Vice President; Pauline Hart, Secretary; Frank Webb Piper, Group Captain, No. 1.

Ted Dawkins, Group Captain, No. 2; Ed Lee Ashford, Bible Study Leader; Martha Morton, Chorister.

Miss Sadie Perkins, counsellor of the Union, presented the officers, and while standing in a semi-circle, each spoke briefly of the duties of the office to which he or she had been elected. The pastor then delivered the charge and called on the group to promise to discharge faithfully the duties of the offices.

Katherine Burchett, ex-president, was installed as President Emeritus. The installation prayer was offered by the pastor.

A boys' basketball team is being organized by the boys of this Union with Prof. John Hall Jacobs as the coach.

NEW CAR ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

The New 1931 Chevrolet Six is attracting much attention and favorable comment. In this New Six, Chevrolet and General Motors have used their combined resources to set a new and higher standard of value for the American motor car.

This new Chevrolet is a bigger car throughout—longer in wheelbase, larger in body size and more impressive in appearance. It is a better car in every way—finer in materials, improved in designs, and available at unusually low prices.

The Kelsey Chevrolet Company is expecting the first shipment of these new models this week and will be glad to have you call and see them whether you are planning to buy or not.

So far as the outside world is concerned it has been thought that he had free rein in all his activities.

15,000,000 men are said to be out of work in the world today. What has happened to cause the peoples of the world to so desperately demand for supplies that these millions of people are forced to quit work? Undoubtedly we are passing through a remarkable revolution, and much suffering will come as a result of the changing times. The machine age is doubtless responsible for some of this, and a lot of the trouble may be charged up to this: "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." We thought hard times, and hard times came.

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Millwood and son, Powell, of Raleigh, visited in the home of D. V. Hawthorne Tuesday and Wednesday.

Basket Ball Schedule

The senior league basketball schedule will open December 5th. The league will be composed of Collierville, Germantown, Whitehaven, Bartlett, Millington and Bolton—the six senior high schools—and the lovers of basketball may get ready for one of the hottest basketball contests ever seen in Shelby county. The schedule is given below.

DATE	TEAM	TEAM	PLACE

The open dates will be filled with outside of Shelby county teams—probably Munford and Somerville.

GEO. R. JAMES JUNIOR BASKET BALL TEAMS READY FOR FINALS

The Geo. R. James basketball teams, having won in the southern division, will next week begin the play-off with the Jeter boys and the Arlington girls for the county championship of junior high schools. Both of the James teams have won seven games without a loss, but the going is certain to be rougher the rest of the season. The play-off will be for the best two out of three games and fast games are assured.

FOOTBALL SEASON TO CLOSE

The game with Germantown on yesterday, and the game with Olive Branch, on the home field, on next Wednesday afternoon, will bring to a close the football season of 1930.

The Olive Branch team is one of the strongest high school teams in north Mississippi, and held our boys to a 31-to-0 score when we played them a few weeks ago. If the people of Collierville will come out and give the local boys some good support they promise that the score will not be so one-sided on the 25th.

This is the Thanksgiving game. Let's fill the Kelsey Lot. The boys need the support, and the ones who financed the team need the money. Come out and do your part.

HURRAH! SCHOOL HOLIDAYS

November is an ideal month for school children, as it is a month of holidays. The joy for the youngster is started with Armistice Day, the West Tennessee Teachers Association gives another day free from the cares of school, and along comes Thanksgiving with Thursday and Friday as holidays. So the boy and girls who love their holidays will welcome November.

Today is being observed as a holiday by the Shelby county, and other West Tennessee schools, on account of the West Tennessee Teachers Association which is meeting at Teachers College Friday and Saturday of this week. Collierville teachers are attending one hundred per cent.

School will dismiss for the Christmas holidays on December 23rd, and resume work on January 5th.

This announcement is made in order to give parents and teachers a chance to make their holiday plans.

BAPTIST W. M. S. HAS INTERESTING MEETING

On last Monday afternoon, the W. M. S. of the Collierville Baptist church was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Lila Robinson and Mrs. Charlie Jamerson in the home of Mrs. Sigrest.

The meeting was opened with a short devotional period presided over by the President, Mrs. J. E. McCandless who used as a basis of the service Psalm 37. Then followed the annual election of officers for the coming year. At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed by all present.

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Millwood and son, Powell, of Raleigh, visited in the home of D. V. Hawthorne Tuesday and Wednesday.

FOURTH GRADE CHILDREN PRESENT PLAYLET

A playlet, based on Longfellow's beautiful legend, Hiawatha, was given by the Fourth Grade children on Thursday morning at the chapel exercises. The stage was appropriately decorated with a wigwam, made of Indian blankets, and with forest scenery. The costumes were made almost entirely by the children themselves. Nokomis was represented by Grace Ward McFerrin; Hiawatha by Barbara Lowe; Iagoo by Herman Russell; Indian children by Frances Russell, Lila Sigrest, Ruth Fleming, Mary Bernice Northcross, Sue Ann Jones.

WILL GIVE FREE OIL SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Mr. A. R. Kilpatrick, of the Brooks & Kilpatrick Garage on Poplar Pike, just east of Cherry Street, was in Collierville yesterday, and is announcing their Special Free Oil Offer for Saturday and Sunday, Nov 22 and 23. This popular garage is making many friends in this territory, maintaining a high standard of services and doing a general repair work. Mr. Kilpatrick has been managing the garage since last August and is making this special offer this week in appreciation of the business given him.

MT. PLEASANT

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McVey and son and Miss Nell Jowers of Germantown visited in the Jim Jowers home last week-end.

Rev. Mr. Tucker of Oxford will be on this charge for the coming year. We are glad to have him with us, and we enjoyed both his sermons of Sunday morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Dixon and children of Memphis spent Sunday in the Frank Jarvis home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Chandler spent several days last week with friends in Red Banks.

Wilson Bogard and children have been visiting relatives in Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chandler have rooms with Miss Ida Saunders.

Elbert McCandless, Joe Hale and son of Collierville were here Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hammond, Mrs. M. Carpenter, Mrs. T. D. Coopwood, Mrs. W. H. Person, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jowers, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hurdle, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bogard, Tom McCampbell, J. W. Ivy and W. H. Person were in Holly Springs last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Coopwood and sons have been visiting in the E. C. Coopwood home.

Mrs. T. D. Coopwood was in Memphis last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Howard and children, and Mrs. C. T. Luck and daughter, Vivian, spent Sunday in Forest Hill as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Parks and children of Whitehaven visited here several days last week.

The Ladies Missionary Society met Wednesday evening in the home of Miss Ida Saunders with Mrs. E. C. Chandler and Miss Maggie Jarvis as joint hostesses.

CORDOVA P.-T. A. TO SERVE THANKSGIVING DINNER

Following an annual custom, the Cordova P. T. A. will serve Thanksgiving dinner at the Cordova school building, Thursday, November 27th, from 11:00 to 2:00 o'clock. A glance at the menu, which is printed on another page, will assure you of a real "feet". Tickets are now on sale for this event.

CORDOVA

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Arrington, accompanied by their sister, Miss Adele Carl, spent last week-end in Fulton, Kentucky, with their father, Rev. Mr. Carl.

Mr. J. F. Schwaiger spent last week in St. Louis on a business trip concerning the Remington Typewriter Company.

After spending several weeks in Arkansas, Mr. and Mrs. Keaton have returned to their home here.

Douglas Hill of Memphis made a visit here with relatives last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bass Nichols left early Wednesday morning for their home in Dallas, Texas, and Miss Ella Nichols has returned to her home in Nashville.

Mrs. Bessie Rogers from Memphis was a guest Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rogers.

Mr. C. H. Harrell, and Mr. George from Bartlett motored to Nashville last Friday evening to see the Vanderbilt-Tennessee football game.

Mrs. W. T. Sanderlin and Miss Martha Sanderlin of Memphis visited Mrs. D. A. Webber last Saturday.

Mr. Hugh Humphreys and family visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Humphreys, last Sunday.

Mr. Arthur Lurry, of Nashville, as the guest of his sister, Miss Ora Lurry, last Sunday.

Miss Ora Lurry and brother visited their sister, Mrs. Clara McNeely, and family in Memphis last Monday.

Mrs. A. J. Miller spent Monday in Memphis.

Miss Mabel Yates was notified Monday that she had won a trip to Chicago as a reward for her canning and garden club work. Miss Margaret Schwam also won a trip to Knoxville. Mabel will leave the latter part of this month for Chicago, but Margaret will not go to Knoxville until next summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Yates spent Sunday in Rosemark as guests of Miss Mildred McCalla and Mr. and Mrs. McCalla.

Mrs. McCalla is spending a few days with friends here in Cordova.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ingram and Mrs. Marie Allen Hooper were visitors here last Sunday.

REV. E. W. HOOD AGAIN PASTOR OF LOCAL METHODIST CHURCH

The Methodist church and the community at large are very much gratified and delighted by the return of Rev. E. W. Hood as pastor of the local Methodist church of Collierville for the ensuing year.

Bro. Hood has only been with the charge one year, but his earnest and faithful work and his godly walk before the people has very much endeared him to the church and community. Bro. Hood is a strong preacher, an earnest and faithful pastor, and a great year is predicted for the church under his faithful and wise administration.

The past year has been a good one for the church, there having been twenty-five additions to the membership, fifteen by profession of faith and ten by letter. The Sunday school has shown a steady forward growth, both in attendance and interest. The Missionary Society has done good work and has accomplished much. The Young Peoples organizations are steadily going forward, and the outlook is most promising. All financial obligations for the past year have been met and a 10 per cent increase was paid in the Missionary Special Maintenance Fund.

CORDOVA GIRLS WIN HONORS IN CANNING AND GARDEN WORK

Miss Mabel Yates and Miss Margaret Schwam are two Cordova girls whose work in canning and garden clubs has received recognition as was evidenced recently when Miss Yates was notified that she had won a trip to Chicago for her canning work, and Miss Schwam was told of her winning a trip to Knoxville for excellent work in the Garden Club. Miss Yates will leave the latter part of this month for Chicago, but Miss Schwam's trip is planned for next summer.

HEALTH COLUMN By Dr. Wallace P. Moore

The individualistic age has passed and an era of organized groups has replaced it.

Among the splendid groups for the uplift of the race is the Parent-Teacher's Organization. As the name signifies, it occupies that place between the teacher and the home. It extends its work to the community to improve the home; it familiarizes itself with the educational work in all branches of teaching—reaching out for the best and striving to make it better.

Today a new and mighty force has entered the educational field, viz: the Health Department. This Department is organized upon the unit plan. The State Department of Health cooperates, but the county department works out its problems according to their individual merits. As individuals formerly worked with individual, so now must group work with group, and so we approach the romance of the non-official group. The Parent-Teacher organizations need the Council guidance and demonstrating help of the official organization the County Health Department.

In turn, the County Health Department is impotent if it does not receive the endorsement, encouragement and aid of this powerful community force, the Parent-Teacher Association.

The activities of the Health Department may be roughly divided into environmental or sanitation and personal or hygienic, using the mass always as a unit.

The material thought of both the Parent-Teacher Association and the County Health Department to improve community sanitation and to enhance personal hygiene makes it necessary for a more perfect understanding. To get this understanding it is the desire of the County Health Department to have the Health Section of the P.-T. A. arrange definite meetings at the offices of the County Health Department at stated intervals for instruction in health matters.

Mrs. E. I. McKie arrived Sunday from her home in Glendale, Arizona, and is the guest of friends in this section. At this time she is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Norfleet.

Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Brooks and daughter, Miss Olivia, were shopping in Memphis Friday.

F. M. Sloan and Jess Sloan attended Court in Holly Springs Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert James and children from Memphis spent last week-end with her mother, Mrs. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Williams made a motor trip to Memphis Tuesday.

P. T. Sandlin has purchased a new Plymouth coupe.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams and children spent Sunday with relatives in Memphis.

Rev. E. F. Tucker will preach at New Salem Sunday at 11 o'clock. Every one is invited to attend.

Rev. J. P. Horton was called to Potts Camp, Miss., Sunday afternoon to conduct the funeral of Mr. J. H. Mintz, a prominent citizen of Marshall county.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICE TO BE HELD AT M. E. CHURCH

Churches of Collierville Will Unite in Worship Thursday Night

The people of Collierville and the entire territory are invited to attend the union Thanksgiving service to be held next Thursday night at 7:00 o'clock at the Methodist church, the Rev. E. M. Cowan, of the Presbyterian church, delivering the sermon, with special music given by all the choirs of the town. Have a good time during the day then attend this Thanksgiving service that evening.

FOREST HILL P.-T. A. MEETING

The Forest Hill P.-T. A. held the regular meeting at the school, Monday instead of Tuesday, Armistice Day, with a good attendance.

The meeting opened with Mrs. Cecil Elliot presiding, with minutes, roll call and treasurer's report being given.

Mrs. Frank Hungerford gave an account of the Beautification Group meeting held at the Council, and Mrs. W. H. King told of the work of the Health Group.

A Mothers' Study Circle was organized under the direction of Mrs. J. C. Larkin and the meeting will be held at 2 o'clock of the regular afternoon for the P.-T. A. meeting.

A Mothers' Chorus was also organized with Mrs. A. H. Holden as the leader and with Mrs. R. Richmond and Mrs. Frank Nell assisting. It was voted to buy a new stove for the kitchenette, and Mrs. E. E. Strong and Mrs. O. Shelton were appointed to make the purchase.

Mrs. Chas. Dean, President of the County Council, gave a very interesting report of the Convention, that was followed by Mrs. Cecil Elliot in an expression of appreciation to the Association for sending her as a delegate to the Convention at Nashville.

For our educational number, Miss Elsie Hopton, Supervisor of Nurses of the Board of Health, gave a brief outline of work done by the nurses in the county and asked the cooperation of the P.-T. A.

The meeting then adjourned to the kitchenette where delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses of the day, Mrs. C. M. Scott, Mrs. O. Shelton and Mrs. R. Richmond.

HERALD FORCE WILL OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY

The Editor and Editor-ess are planning to take the whole of Thanksgiving Day off. So these two plan to print the Herald Wednesday instead of Thursday as heretofore, and so they are asking that the correspondents send in their letters early in the week. PLEASE! Anyway, we are not going to work.

WEEKLY SERMONETTE
 By Our Local Pastors

WATCHMAN, WHAT OF THE NIGHT?

The watchman said, "The morning cometh." Isa. 21: 11-12.

1. The outlook just now is somewhat gloomy. We have experienced an unusual year. Short crops, low prices, and general depression everywhere has cast this gloom over the country.

What shall we do? This question is to be answered by act, not by word. Let us remember that there is a God that lives and rules Heaven and earth. This God, our Heavenly Father, does not overlook one sparrow that falls to the ground and we are worth more than many sparrows.
 God is good, merciful and gracious.
 He works all things after the counsel of His will. We must trust God, use the will and brain that He has given us and judiciously use the means that He has provided.

2. "Sorrow is of the night but joy cometh in the morning." "They that trust in the Lord shall be as Mt. Zion which cannot be moved but abideth forever."

The night is dark and in our impatience it seems that the darkest hour is just before dawn. The morning is coming and with it joy
 "Judge not the Lord by this feeble sense,
 But trust Him for His Grace,
 For behind a frowning Providence
 He hides a smiling face."

HARRELL DRUG CO.

A TRIBUTE TO A GOOD MAN

When Dr. E. K. Leake died on November 11, 1930, Collierville lost a citizen whose usefulness in every way has never been, nor will ever be excelled by another man. This is a broad statement, but is made advisedly, for I do not believe it is possible for any one to do more for a community than did Dr. Leake in his long life among us.

A man's ability is generally measured by his success in his life's work, and in this, our friend was eminently successful. I do not believe that we fully realized that as competent a physician as could be found any where lived here among us. One of the most prominent physicians in the South, who had worked with Dr.
 Leake frequently, and who was competent to judge his ability, told me that our people were fortunate in having a man of Dr. Leake's skill as a doctor. While he was fully prepared for his profession, he also had that natural ability that is born in a man. I have just been thinking that if Dr. Leake had selected broader fields for his work, rather than living with his homefolks, today,
 perhaps our nation might be mourning the loss of a famous man, rather than a smaller, but more sincere circle of closer friends manifesting
 real grief on account of his death.

And after all, which is better? I believe Dr. Leake, himself, would say the latter.
 He was the highest type of country doctor. Somehow this title appeals to me strongly. One of the changes time is making in our living, which I do not believe is as good as the old way, is the passing,
 to some extent, of the general practitioner, whose place is being taken by the specialist. While Dr. Leake
 was, in a way, "a doctor in the old school," yet he kept fully abreast with the progress of his profession.

One of the familiar sights many will miss is Dr. Leake seated under a tree in front of his office reading a medical journal. Aside from his skill, he had a manner in the sick room
 that was unsurpassed. I have heard his patients say they began to feel better as soon as he entered their room. There was something about him that inspired confidence and made one believe that if it were possible to relieve the trouble Dr. Leake could and would do it. Also, it did not take him long to diagnose a disease and apply the remedy. I know many instances of cases where his promptness saved a life, but will mention only one. Many years ago, a boy of moderate means was brought here from the country with a cocklebur lodged far down in his windpipe. Dr. Leake carried him to Memphis where the doctors, though willing operate, wanted to wait and do the work before a Medical School Class. Dr. Leake was unwilling to wait, on account of the boy's suffering, so he brought him home, performed a successful operation himself, and perhaps saved a life that might have been lost if relief had been delayed.

An active physician has little time
 to devote to other things, and Dr.
 Leake was especially busy as he had a large practice, but he found plenty of time to devote to the upbuilding of our town and to help make it a better place in every way. He served as Mayor on three different occasions, retiring voluntarily each time.
 Frequently a man serves his town as Mayor a long time, sometimes for a longer period than did Dr. Leake,
 but it is seldom that a man is recalled to the office for three, or even two terms, and this is a strong proof that he is held in high esteem by his people. But whether Dr. Leake

was Mayor or not, he was always a leader in any movement for the betterment to our community. To him more than to any other man, is due the credit of our having an abundant supply of pure water. Before telephones were in general use, he established private lines to different parts of the county, often using a strand of the barb-wire on a fence as a part of the line. This would be considered very primitive now,
 but it answered the purpose then,
 and many sufferers received more prompt relief because they did not have to wait for a messenger to be sent for a doctor.

Dr. Leake's enthusiasm in the cause of Christianity was equal to his zeal in other lines. In fact, I believe it was even stronger. I am glad that I always granted a request
 he would sometimes make—that if the case was not urgent and the patient was not suffering, would it be all right to wait until church services he was attending or ready to attend were over. I am very liberal in my views concerning the various denominations. I believe that all true Christians are just traveling different roads to the same heaven.
 But I believe one should love his own church best, just as one should love his own family best, and, if any church ever had a loyal member, it was the Christian church around the corner from Dr. Leake's home which he helped establish many years ago,
 and which he faithfully supported in every way to the end of his life.

I have heard children refer to this building as "Dr. Leake's church," and I always thought it an appropriate name, and was a credit and a compliment, both to the church and to the Doctor.
 Since the death of my good friend
 I have been comparing his life with that of a man who lived in New Orleans some time ago. On account of his preparation and social standing,
 he could easily have had an exclusive practice among wealthy people, but in spite of the protests of his friends, he established his office on a side street where he treated all who came to him with equal care.
 His rooms were upstairs, and at the entrance of the stairway, was a sign giving his name with the words "Office Upstairs." After a long life devoted to suffering humanity, the Doctor died and the multitude of sincere mourners of all classes who attended his funeral showed the great loss the city had suffered. When a monument was being considered for his grave, it was suggested that the words "Office Upstairs" be used on it instead of some more fulsome eulogy. This was done, and today in the beautiful Crescent City visitors wonder at the meaning of the words until they learn the story.

I knew Dr. Leake intimately for many years and, without any hesitation whatever, I can truly say of him today that I believe his "Office is Upstairs." Need any more be said of a man?

NEGRO FARM MEETING

Monday Night, November 24th, 8:00
 P. M., Industrial Junior High School

All Negro farmers are urged to be present at the above meeting without fail.

The colored people do not fully realize the awful predicament which we are now facing. Much unrest is taking place among them. They are facing situations which they have never faced before, and the condition now is only the beginning of the worst which is to come. These and many other problems now confronting them will be discussed by farm experts at this meeting, to the end that we may fully understand the situation and adjust ourselves to same.

All interested landlords who have tenants are asked to be present at this meeting. We thank you for whatever cooperation you may give us in this matter.

Careful Laboratory Control Assures

OUTSTANDING SMOOTHNESS

Because it is scientifically designed and manufactured, "Standard" Improved Gasoline is outstanding among straight gasolines in its performance. This is due to its carefully worked out specifications and to the extreme care with which these specifications are adhered to in the manufacturing. Each step is under rigid engineering and laboratory control and is subjected to test after test and check after check—"initial" and "end" point—fractional balance—absolute minimum of sulphur—freedom from gum and other impurities, etc. Each still-run must be of the uniform high quality set for "Standard" Improved Gasoline—before it is shipped. This is the secret of the outstanding ease of starting, smooth delivery of power, dependable high mileage, purity, and all-around better performance that you get from "Standard" Improved Gasoline. GERMANTOWN

The people of the Germantown M. E. Church are glad to know that the Rev. Geo. W. Bell is to be their pastor another year. He has just completed a most successful year and the church has met all of its obligations.

Rev. Mr. Lindsay and Rev. Mr. Drake, former pastors of the Methodist church, made short visits in Germantown while in Memphis last week for the Annual Conference.

It is customary every Thanksgiving for the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches to serve dinner. This Thanksgiving, the Presbyterian will get the benefit of the dinner which will be served at the school building next Thursday. The Baptist ladies will have a bazaar at the school building on this date, also.

On Thursday afternoon of this week, the women of the Presbyterian church held a Bible Study class at the home of Mrs. Marvin Thompson.

Several of the young people of Germantown enjoyed a dance Friday night given by Miss Dora Robertson.

Basil and Neil Smith, sons of Mr. Preston Smith of Booth Station, were painfully cut and bruised Monday afternoon on their way from school when the car in which they were riding turned over and was completely wrecked.

Crawford-Hill

A wedding of exceptional interest was that of Miss Virginia Lee Crawford of Germantown and Mr. Roy Sink Hill of Rosemark, which was solemnized in the Methodist church of Germantown, with the pastor, Rev. Geo. W. Bell officiating at the impressive ring ceremony.

The services were read before an improvised altar of ferns, autumn leaves and baskets of chrysanthemums. Presiding the entrance of the wedding party, Miss Lucille Hill, sister of the bridegroom, sang "Oh Sweet Mystery of Life" with Mrs. Geo. W. Bell at the piano. A violin solo, "O Promise Me", played by Mr. Malcolm was followed by another vocal number, "I Love You Truly" by Miss Hill. Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus" was used for the processional and Mendelssohn's Wedding March as recessional. During the ceremony Mrs. Bell and Mr. Bryan softly rendered "Indian Love Call."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a going-away dress of chiffon of clematis blue with trimmings of silver. Her hat was of black lace and she carried a bouquet of sunburst roses. Miss Nannie Sue Gilchrist, as maid of honor, wore a frock of blue chiffon with trimmings of gold and hat of gold, and carried Pernet roses. Mr. A. M. Traylor of Memphis was best man. The ushers were Messrs. A. P. Foster of Germantown and Sam Anderson of Forest Hill.

The bride, the attractive and popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Crawford of Germantown, is a member of the faculty of Bolton High School. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Farley Hill of Rosemark.

Evans-Hungerford

Miss Ruth Nolle Hungerford, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Rice Hungerford, Sr., and Mr. James Montgomery Evans, of Dyersburg, were married Monday evening in the home of the bride in Germantown, with the Rev. Geo. W. Bell, pastor of the First Methodist church, presiding in the presence of a few close relatives of the two families.

The ceremony took place before an improvised altar of ferns and palms before which stood floor baskets of white chrysanthemums. The beautiful scene was illuminated by cathedral tapers burning in seven-branched ivory candelabra.

The bride was gowned in a traveling suit of monotone tweed with which she wore harmonizing accessories. Her flowers were gardenias and valley lilies in shoulder bouquet.

There were no wedding attendants and following the ceremony, a very informal reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Hungerford were assisted in receiving the guests by Mr. W. K. Evans, of Memphis, father of the bridegroom.

At a late hour, Mr. and Mrs. Evans left on their honeymoon to New Orleans and other southern points. Upon their return, they will make their home in Dyersburg where Mr. Evans is engaged in business.

Our Poultry Column

Edited by Prof. Frederic H. Stoneburn

Without charge, our readers may secure expert personal advice on poultry topics. Address inquiries to Southern Poultry Bureau, Box 118, Memphis, Tenn. State your problem fully; enclose stamped self-addressed envelope.

THE South's rapidly growing poultry industry is receiving national recognition. A recent letter from Mr. Reese V. Ricks, managing director of the International Baby Chick Association, contains the information that the next annual convention of that powerful and aggressive organization will be held in Louisville, Ky., during the week of August 3-7, 1931.

These Chick Association conventions have become high spots on the national poultry calendar. They are always attended by thousands of interested poultrymen who come from all parts of the United States and frequently from many foreign lands. There are association members in 45 states and six foreign countries.

It is a distinct compliment to the South to have this great organization select a Southern city as the site of its next big annual meeting and one is justified in predicting that a host of visitors will have their eyes opened to the poultry possibilities existing in this favored section.

AN ABUNDANCE of sunshine throughout most of the year is one of the advantages enjoyed by poultrymen operating in the South. Those who fail to make the most of this advantage accordingly. In sections where the climate conditions are less favorable poultrymen resort to expensive substitutes for direct sunlight, as the ultra-violet lamps and cod-liver oil.

The use of oil adds to the cost of the ration regardless of whether it is fed fresh from the can or is already incorporated in the feed purchased. Sunshine is free.

Laying hens need the direct rays of the sun throughout the fall and winter months if they are to remain in robust health and lay lots of eggs with firm shells. Sunshine also very greatly increases the hatchability of the eggs. The ultra-violet rays in the sunshine have a wonderfully beneficial effect upon these things.

THERE IS some argument as to the desirability of permitting the laying flock to run out of doors during the fall and winter but if it is kept confined some provision must be made to admit a flood of sunshine into the house or provide sun-parlors. The poultry extension specialist of Purdue University, Leon Todd, gives this advice:

"After the pullets have become accustomed to the new laying quarters they should be given access to the outdoors every afternoon. It is advisable to start this practice before the weather becomes severe. In that way the birds will become accustomed to the cold weather and will suffer no ill effects from going outdoors during the winter. The door of exit should be opened every afternoon regardless of the weather.

"The eggs should be gathered as soon as the birds are turned out at noon. This will prevent a large number of eggs from becoming soiled with mud and dirt tracked in by the birds. Many successful poultry raisers in Indiana place gravel or cinders in front of the laying house in order to provide a dry place for the birds when they are outdoors."

We all had a great big time and the competition was keen. And now everyone is already looking forward to the big Mid-Winter Show which is to come off in January at the Municipal Auditorium.

This Mid-Winter Show is the South's challenge to the world to show us many better rabbits than are produced in our sunny Southland. There was some discussion among breeders as to whether this show would be open to the world or be exclusively for the southern breeders. And the outcome was that the southern breeders threw out their chests and said bring on the entire world. And so it's open to the world. It will be stiff competition and a hot battle for supremacy.

All breeders should be getting the stock into winter condition and be grooming them now for the winter show. Handle them daily so that they will not be cagy or nervous. Brush their coats daily with a hair brush to give that excellent glossy coat. If you are not feeding a ration which contains linseed oil meal, add a small amount to the feed you are feeding. It makes lovely slick fur. Use it carefully. Linseed oil meal should not exceed 2% of the ration.

We want to again remind you to see that the hutches are in good condition for the winter. Make sure that they are draft-proof and that there are no leaks in the roof.

Starting from October 1st, it is well to make special arrangement in your nest boxes by covering the bottom first with a sheet of newspaper and over this place a burlap bag which has been folded to conform to the bottom of the box. Tack the bag down so that it cannot be scratched up. This precaution will repay breeders many fold as it will prevent the babies which will be born from the middle of October into the winter from being chilled against the cold bottom of the nest.

The writer breeds continually in the very hottest and the bitterest cold weather successfully and is here giving you the precautions used by him for your benefit.

REMEMBER—Atlanta Winter Poultry Show, City Auditorium, Atlanta, Georgia, November 26, 27, 28 and 29. These dates fall in Thanksgiving week. The South's biggest exclusive poultry show; fine educational program; great displays of pigeons and rabbits. Attend it! (Copyright.)

Gold in Philippines
Gold has been found since the advent of Europeans in deposits of varying size in many corners of the Philippines; and before the Spaniards under Magellan visited the islands, the natives mined the metal. Gold bracelets and chains worn by the natives whetted the discoverers' interest in the islands, and after Spanish settlements were made, gold was regularly exported to Spain.

The bride was gowned in a model of green silk crepe with accessories of the same shade. Her attendant, Miss Beatrice Rives, was wearing a frock of brown with harmonizing accessories. Mr. Jimmy Crenshaw attended Mr. Tipler as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Tipler left by motor for a short bridal trip to points in southern Mississippi. Upon their return they will make their home in Grand Junction.

Maud Cowan Chapter, U. D. C., Entertains with Lovely Tea

The old South, with its proverbial hospitality, was pictured on Tuesday evening when the Maud Cowan Chapter, U. D. C. entertained with a "Plantation Tea" at "Green Gables," the home of Miss Bessie Strong, at Balley.

The cleverly written invitation prepared the guests for the carrying out of the idea of parties of former days. Edna Earle Strong, as the typical "mammy," gave a cordial welcome at the door. The chapter members, dressed in dainty frocks of the sixties, received in the spacious rooms, bright with glowing fires, a profusion of red and white blossoms and Confederate flags.

Mrs. Cecil Cox delightfully contributed a group of old Southern songs, with Mrs. W. B. Mebane at the piano. Miss Louise Nowlin, of Memphis, gave an enjoyable reading, and a group of four girls in costume, Virginia Neely, Marie Neely, Sara Karr Hinton and Elizabeth Carrington gave a stately dance of long ago.

Mrs. Thomas Miller Dean, the President, poured coffee in the dining room where the lace-covered was most attractive with a silver bowl of red and white chrysanthemums, its cake, bonbons and salted nuts in silver containers, favors of Confederate flags, and a soft glow from red candles in silver holders.

Those present, in addition to the chapter members were: Miss Mildred Cowan, in a white satin bridal dress of the far away past the Misses Nina Stamps, Rebecca Smythe, Mary Hill, Elizabeth Piper, Dorothy Glenn, Gertrude Arthur, Ada Strong, Edna Earl Strong, Gladys Dennis, Louise Nowlin, Sara Jones, Ella Dudley, Virginia Neely, Marie Neely, Sara Karr Hinton, Elizabeth Carrington, with Mesdames John Stamps, W. E. Robertson and B. M. Cowan.

Mrs. Harrell Entertains Louisa Bedford Chapter, U. D. C.

The Louisa Bedford Chapter, U. D. C., was entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Lena Harrell, with a goodly number in attendance. The President, Mrs. B. M. Cowan, presided at the business session at which time several important matters were discussed.

Mrs. E. F. Farley, Historian, presented the following program: Piano solo, Mrs. Walter H. Harris Vocal solo, Miss Dorothy Glenn "Surrender of Memphis," Mrs. Farley Piano solo, Mrs. Perry Piper "Death of Polly," the Beauvoir Mule," Mrs. Milton Mann "In Flanders Field," Miss Mildred Watkins "Buy a Poppy," Mrs. Farley

Following the program, Mrs. Harrell, assisted by Miss Mildred Cowan, served a delicious salad plate.

No Degrees in Honesty

"Honesty," said Uncle Eben, "is the best policy. A man dat robs a bank gets come up wif, same as one dat robs a chicken roost."—Washington Star.
