FACTS and FICTION

BEING

a little bit about anything
"Read not to contradict and confute, nor to find talk and discourse, but to weigh and consider."—Francis Bacon.
By Harry Williamson

And still the biggest story from the Orient is Gandhi. This little 96 pound weazened ascetic who whipped the entire British Empire with his passive resistance recently went on a journey through the heart of India to Ahmadabad.

In a third class compartment of the baggage car of the Indian train he sat cross legged on a cheap mattress. He carried with him his food, and tin utensils from which to eat.

At every station where the train stopped great crowds greeted the holy man, kissing the very ground under his feet. The train was often delayed, the officials having to push the throngs off the track in order to continue the journey. Princes, wealthy rajahs, Indian potentates, peasants, mothers with babies, and even the untouchable, rubbed elbows in an effort to see this unusual character whose only distinction seems to be the ability to do right.

A Chicago Tribune reporter thus describes the journey:

"As the thousands battered against his car at wayside stations during the night, the barriers of a 3,000 year old caste system were obliterated as if by magic. Filthy and perspiring sweepers rubbed sweating shoulders against excited Brahmin divines. Untouchables for once did not pollute the atmosphere of their betters by their presence. Corrupt merchant princes, proud nawabs and rajahs jostled the lowliest servants and the wild scene was enacted over and over in 50 towns."

Can you explain Gandhi? He is undoubtedly the most unusual character in the world today, and will no doubt become the leader of a united Indian religion when he dies.

The race is on! Reno is slated to lose its popularity as Hot Springs, Arkansas, makes its bid for those who have wrecked their matrimonial bark, and seek freedom from its ties. After ninety days in the Arkansas health resort one can now have their matrimonial troubles settled. But Hot Springs may not be able to steal the show. New Mexico's legislature is threatening to make Reon and Hot Springs both take notice by passing a divorce bill repelling far less than ninety days residence. Other states will doubtless follow.

Hats off to old South Carolina. She recently killed a movement to make it possible to get a divorce in that state. South Carolinians who become dissatisfied with their hook-ups are required to seek residences in other states. It is the only state, so far as we know, that does not grant divorces.

The Governor of Tennessee is out with a regular circular letter to all school principals warning them that the sub-committee on Ways and Means is about to reduce his budget by some $2,150,000. He insists that if this is done the school system of the state will suffer, and that an eight months school term will be impossible. This committee doubtless figures that during the past two years we lost six million dollars of which we have been informed—there is no telling how much has been lost of which we will never know—that we can cut the budget some two million dollars and by stopping the leaks have plenty to run the schools and do the other necessary work of the state.

Since early in January the signs of Spring have been appearing, but the one infallible sign is here—Baseball training has begun.

With 44 state legislatures in action, and one due to start in April, it is estimated that the activities of these law makers—that is, salaries, and expense of all kind—will cost the people of the various states about $15,000,000. That's a lot to pay for new laws when we have more than we know how to obey.

BASKET BALL LUNCHEON

NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

Foot Ball Players Included. Tickets Are Now on Sale.

The Annual Basket Ball Banquet which has become quite an institution in Collierville, will be held on next Tuesday evening, March 24th, at 7:30 o'clock in the High School Gym.

Although the entire program is not complete, an hour of entertainment, as well as a splendid meal, is in store for all who attend.

Miss Sue Powers, Mr. Percy McDonald Dr. Edwin Yancey Jr. and a number of other guests will be present. Aside from athletics, both Junior and Senior teams and the "footballers" and those representing the school in scholastic events will be present. Debaters, Orators, Speakers and Spellers will be invited along with the leaders in sports.

Tickets are now on sale by the students and at Harrell's Drug Store. For the benefit of the ladies in charge, all are requested to buy their tickets as early as possible, by Monday night at least.

SPRAYING NECESSARY TO PRODUCE QUALITY FRUITS.

Apples, peaches or grapes fit for marketing cannot be produced in Tennessee without systematic and thorough spraying, states Dr. C. D. Sherbakoff, Plant Pathologist of the U. T. Agricultural Experiment Station. As a rule, four sprayings a year are sufficient but these must be applied properly, he states.

Fruit growers in various sections of the state have despaired at times of controlling the codling moth pest, scab and other diseases through the use of sprays and have been on the point of abandoning their orchards. In such cases the growers either did not use the proper spray materials or did not apply them properly.

Extension Publication 113, "Spray Programs for Fruit Trees," gives detailed information regarding the proper spray material to use for the control of various diseases and pests with time and method of application.

Copies of this publication can be secured free of charge from County Agents or by writing the U. T. Agricultural Extension Service, Knoxville. Every fruit grower should have a copy of this publication.

Perhaps the Democrats had better make prohibition the main issue since no one expects the question to ever be settled, and if they drum up farm relief, unemployment, or a lot of other issues, they will be expected to make good on all promises. With prohibition they may talk to their hearts content and never do anything.

Our mild winter and scarcity of rainfall is accountable to a high pressure over the vicinity of Utah and Idaho, thus keeping the cold air from the arctic away from most of the United States. Now we wonder why "the high pressure" is there?

Can you imagine treating certain bone disease with real live maggots—or would it sound better to say "fly larvae"? At any rate Dr. William S. Boer has successfully treated 200 cases in this unusual way at Johns Hopkins Hospital. A Spanish American War veteran whom 79 operations, over a period of 30 years had failed to relieve was permanently cured in four months time.

"The 'living disinfectants' as Dr. Boer terms them, are applied every five days, when the wounds are dressed. They are penned in by a bandage of fine screen. Thus, affirms the Associated Press, 'the hungry scavengers, heads down, tails up' consume infected tissue and 'after about three applications' the appearance is 'pink and healthy' in contrast to the 'angry red' of untreated osteomyelitis."

Poor old Muscle Shoals! If it had as many votes as the American Legion, there would be no trouble in passing legislation for it. Those four million ex-soldiers certainly can influence Congress.

FARMERS ADVISED TO SOW CLOVERS FOR HAY AND SOIL BUILDING

In making their farm plans for 1931 farmers are again advised to stick to the Tennessee Extension program of "Clovers for corn, cotton, tobacco and potatoes; hay for livestock," "Lespedeza on idle crop acres" and Fertilizer for permanent pastures, which county agents have been advocating for several years, states J. C. McAmis, U. T. Extension farm management specialist.

In 1931 this program was adopted by 3,533 farms on 35,649 acres and found highly profitable in spite of the severe drouth. Other farmers can increase their farm incomes by this plan in 1931 in spite of the prospect of increased supplies of hay and lower market prices as compared with those of 1930, Mr. McAmis says.

Regardless of the outcome of next season's production and prices, every farm should plan to produce ample supplies of hay and pasture for the livestock to be fed in 1931.

It is sound farm policy to accumulate a surplus of good hay in years of large crops for use in years of short crops. Beyond this clovers may be left on the soil to improve it for cash crops.

MEN SLEEPING ON TRACKS AND BOYS AT PLAY ADD TO TRESPASSER DEATHS

Atlanta, Ga., March 20.—Of the 147 persons killed and 179 injured while trespassing on the tracks and trains of the Southern Railway System during 1930, the annual report of the Southern's Safety Bureau points out that in a number of instances trespassers killed were actually asleep on the tracks while there were several cases where boys from ten to fifteen years old met fatal or serious injuries while trying to swing moving freight trains. Trespassing on tracks resulted in 110 killed and 65 injured, while trespassing on trains caused 37 deaths and 114 injuries.

The deadly hazard of unauthorized use of railway property is again indicated by the figures for 1930 which show a decrease of only six in the number injured when compared with 1929. For the nine years, 1922 to 1930, inclusive, trespassers killed and injured on the property of the Southern have been as follows:

1922, 129 killed and 171 injured; 1923, 154 killed and 178 injured; 1924, 130 killed and 174 injured; 1925, 128 killed and 174 injured; 1926, 135 killed and 154 injured; 1927, 140 killed and 133 injured; 1928, 140 killed and 162 injured; 1929, 153 killed and 181 injured; 1930, 147 killed and 179 injured.

TOM PARKER WRITES FROM U. S. NAVAL TRAINING SCHOOL

U. S. N. T. S. Camp Barry, Great Lakes, Ill.

Editor Herald:
Will try and write you how we are getting along and some of our experiences here.

There are two sides to Camp Barry called "Paradise" and "Hades," or Man Side and Detention. We take our shots for typhoid, diphtheria and small pox, and worst of all two or three doses of salts daily. After our Company was filled, we served a week on K. P. (kitchen police) then we drill for two or three weeks, learn the Manual of Arms, Semiphere Code and 100 other questions. After this two weeks, we go to "Paradise." We have a movie every Saturday night, and every Monday night, a Company gives an entertainment for ones who are going over the Great Divide, (a big ditch that separates Hades and Paradise) to Paradise.

Each Company is made up of four cubicals, with a P. O. (Petty Officer) over each cubical which consists of 18 men. We have to keep this place "Spotless" and scrub our clothes. Civilians say the Navy makes a man of you, but sailors say the Navy makes women out of you. We sleep in hammocks, slung with a rope at each end, and it takes a cow boy to stay in one of them. Talk about bucking it has a bronco beat a mile. Two or three fellows fall out every night. I've only fallen once, but I wake at nights with the hammock swung side ways and have to shake for 15 minutes to get it back straight again.

Then across to Paradise. We all look forward to this move as it's so much easier over there. We have more liberty and more entertainment. We will soon take the Classification Test, which determines whether you go to Trade School or not. Records show that only 40 out of 100 pass. An example of the questions asked is, "Why is to what as bottom is to top?" If I pass I will go to San Diego, Cal., to the Radio School. If you have been through High school, after one year you may take an examination to go to Annapolis Academy.

We are looking forward to Wednesday when we go to Paradise. Then we will get our first 48 hours leave. We had a blizzard this week with two feet of snow. Give our regards to all our Collierville friends.

Yours truly,
Tom Parker

From time whence no man knoweth not to the contrary the producer of farm products has known that he has not received a fair price for his products. He has known that there is something wrong when he can not get a cost plus price for that which he sells, yet every thing which he buys he MUST pay a cost plus price for it. If the farmer buys a pair of shoes in Collierville or New York he must pay the merchant the cost of the shoes plus a fair profit. The merchant can not survive otherwise. Yet when the farmer sells, he sells for "WHAT WILL YOU GIVE ME" and this is generally less than it costs to produce.

We all know that this is what is wrong with farming, but finding a suitable remedy is a difficult proposition. The fruit growers association of California have saved that section by co-operation.

For the past few months the milk producers for Memphis have been holding meetings for the purpose of getting away from the "WHAT WILL YOU GIVE ME" price which they are getting for their milk.

Memphis can only be supplied with fresh milk from a small territory around Memphis.

The consumer of milk in Memphis is paying a BIG price for it--BUT the farmer nor the producer does not get it. He only gets "WHAT WILL YOU GIVE ME".

We are hoping the producers of milk will work out a system by which they may SELL their milk at a cost plus price, and they can if they will co-operate as the fruit growers of California have.

LOEW'S STATE.

Friday, March 20th, Loew's State presents "Honor Among Lovers" with Claudette Colbert and Fredric March and supported by Charles Ruggles and Ginger Rogers. The story is one whose modernity will appeal to many, especially in its every day theme and human interest. March is shown as a sophisticated and understanding young business man, whose personal philosophy outside of business hours is the secret of his success. His secretary, played by Miss Colbert, is also of a sympathetic nature to his moods and methods, and both are secretly in love with each other tho she refuses to allow herself to admit it, due principally to his reputation for gay living and philosophy. Soon she marries another and later regrets her action, but in this picture there is a code among lovers whereby having made a misstep they should see it thru honorably, and she tries to be there are exciting revelations in the society love tangle which makes it a gay and delightful feature.

The stage offers, Loew's "Ace" Vaudeville in "Gobs of Joy" another elaborate revue of gorgeous costume

LOEW'S PALACE

Saturday, March 21st, Loew's Palace offers "East Lynne", a drama that stirs the heart of humanity, featuring Ann Harding with Clive Brook and Conrad Nagel. The supporting cast includes David Torrence, O. P. Heggie, Flora Sheffield and others. You'll thrill to Ann Harding's beauty and the emotional sweep of her performance as Isabel--personification of delicate and adorable youth which is the finest role in this great star's widely acclaimed career. Opposite her are two favorites of the screen--one the dashing captain who wins Isabel's heart, the other the step husband whose pride is stronger than his devotion. Tears blotted Isabel's beautiful beauty, which seemed not worth while and her devotion thrown away. So she threw away her security in exchange for adventure, paid with her good name for a moment. Her youth was a dream of bright colors and East Lynne a sad awakening. "East Lynne" is the greatest morality picture ever produced.

LOEW'S STRAND.

Beginning Monday, March 23rd, Loew's Strand presents Charlie Chaplin in "City Lights". His most mature in three years. Charlie's latest proved to be the laugh sensation of the century in Memphis this past week and for that reason he is held over for another week's run. "City Lights" Chaplin hits a new note in screen entertainment. He plays on the funny bone and gently touches the heart strings. Charlie at one time enters the prize ring pushing leather to aid the little blind flower girl and at all times he is the blue-blood of the city streets. Don't dare miss it!

Duration of Twilight

Twilight ends when the sun is 18 degrees below the horizon. In low latitudes, because of the quickness with which the sun traverses the 18 degrees below the horizon, and because of the transparency of the atmosphere, there is little twilight. However, the higher the latitude the smaller the angle at which the sun's path meets the horizon, and hence the longer it takes the sun to sink the required distance.

USE YOUR FAMILY PHYSICIAN

A carpenter was once asked, "How is the best way to keep the rust off a saw?" His answer was, "My friend have you ever tried using it?"

The same is true of the human brain, to keep the rust off it must be used. Doctors are human and have brains just like yours. To be bright and alert they must be used.

Your physician has had special preparation and training to do a definite work. Supply him with the work and keep him bright.

Have you ever been ill? We dare say you have. And while you were racked with pain, consumed with fever, and overcome with nausea, we know you remembered those days when you were well and longed for them. While you were ill you wanted your doctor, but, well again you forgot him. Let us suggest that you go to him while well and arrange with him to keep you well. In this age many things can be done to prevent illness. Your doctor knows these and can and will counsel you and apply the preventative measures if you will allow him.

The hospitals of our land are full of patients suffering from preventable diseases. Why? Because the doctor was not taken into confidence early enough. Self diagnosis is a delusion and a snare. If the symptoms have not progressed to a great degree it takes an expert to read them and if they have the brain is sick and draws wrong conclusions.

Turn to one disease for an illustration and consider Tuberculosis. This can be detected in its early stages by those trained to find it and its ravages avoided. Are you going to wait until the harassing cough, the afternoon temperature, the loss of weight and strength, and the night sweats tell you something is wrong? If you do, you have waited too long.

Shall we go so far as to say that to suffer from a disease that could have been avoided is a sin? We may have gone too far but we do say that the negligence which allowed the disease to creep upon you is at least very reprehensible.

We have stated that we admire the specialist. He is very much needed. Yet are we using him rightly? Would it not be far better to have the family physician accompany his patient to the specialist and learn what it being done for the patient thereby being in a better position to pilot the case to a complete recovery? There are far too many partially recovered patients, all because of lack of co-operation.

You to whom we are speaking are in the rural districts removed from the environs of the specialist, and it behooves you to see that your family physician knows your condition that he may better serve you at home.

Who is going to see you in the night hours? You want a physician at hand, not one a hundred miles away, or even thirty miles away. Our plea then is that you see your physician while well that he may counsel you how to remain so. If unavoidable illness overtakes you and the expert knowledge of a specialist is necessary take your family physician with you to the specialist that he may see and know how to conduct your case at home. The best service calls for a close co-operation between the patient, the family physician and the specialist.

TOKIO SOY BEAN LEADS IN STATION TESTS

Comparative trials of the most promising varieties of soybeans made by the U. T. Agricultural Experiment Station disclose that the Tokio soybean comes closest to meeting a general demand for a variety that gives a heavy yield of both hay and seed states Director C. A. Mooers in Station Circular No. 35, which has just been issued.

It is non-lodging and fine-stemmed with an abundance of foliage produced above ground and its value for early planting for increased hay and seed production is indicated by results of experiments conducted at the Knoxville, Jackson and Columbia stations. Growers are advised to get the seed sown in April if possible.

The effect of liming upon soybean production has been demonstrated in numerous experiments conducted in various parts of the state by the station, a yield increase of from 25 to 50 percent often resulting. In such cases the foliage is a darker green, indicating a higher protein content with a corresponding greater feeding value. A marked response to phosphate and potash was also shown.

Detailed comparison of the Tokio soybean with other varieties as to yield per acre in the three sections of Tennessee, date, rate and depth of planting, etc., is made in Circular No. 35, which can be secured free of charge by writing the Tennessee Experiment Station, Knoxville.

What a Subscriber Thinks About It

"The improvement in the Herald and the absence of the gloomy look on the face of the man who is supposed to run the paper make it unnecessary to report that Mrs. Kathleen Harris—"the real boss"—has returned from Memphis after undergoing a major operation." (Editor's Note—Them's his very words.)

4-H Club Entertains

The Collierville 4-H Club entertained a large number of friends on last Tuesday evening at a St. Patrick's Day party in the school gym. As the guests arrived, they joined in a shamrock hunt, the gym being the meadow. Miss Louwanna Collins was the lucky one in finding the greatest number of four-leaf clovers and 4-H club emblems.

After the shamrock hunt the group was divided into two families—the Murphys and the Flannigans. Each family had a "ma" and a "pa", Pat and Mike, etc. Ma and Pa selected various members of their family to participate in the many interesting contests while the other members cheered from the sideline. A most interesting feature was a real old Irish battle in which the weapons were balloons. Points were given the winners of each contest. The climax of the evening came with the counting of the points to decide the winning family. After the awarding of the grand prize, a green silk hat, to the Murphys, delicious fruit punch was served.

Special guests were Miss Florence Coyle, Mrs. Dunn and Mr. John Hall Jacobs. About sixty guests attended. Miss Nellie Bryan, club sponsor, had charge of the entertainment with Miss Doris Strong, Paul Piper, Maynard Wingo and Willard Livingston assisting.

S. Everett.

The St. Patrick's Day idea was reflected in the favors and the delicious courses served, and all of the guests declared that they would be ready for another such luncheon on the next 17th of March.

Great Elizabethan Comedy

The vivacious comedy, "The Merry Wives of Windsor," was written by Shakespeare in 1599. Tradition has it that the play was composed by command of Queen Elizabeth, who wished to see her favorite character, Falstaff, in the situation of a lover. It has been one of the most popular of the Shakespearean comedies from the days of Elizabeth to the present time.

Nights are Sleepless for Acidity Victims!

Night after night of tossing on your bed—morning after morning of dragging yourself out more dead than alive, will soon put you "on the rocks". Nothing withers faster than a sleep-starved body! Yet many cases of sleeplessness are but cases of Acidity—an acid condition of the system.

Especially for Acidity
McKesson's Milk of Magnesia is especially effective for acidity. It contains 32 to 40 grains of Magnesium Hydroxide. This is considerably more than the United States Pharmacopoeia requires. It is so highly antacid that a tablespoonful in a little water neutralizes 10 times its volume in acid. Its mild laxative effect makes it efficient as an internal purifier. Once you try McKesson's you will realize there is a difference in milks of magnesia. Absence of earthy or chalky taste, makes it pleasant for young or old to take.

Makes this Sleep Test

Take a tablespoonful of McKesson's Milk of Magnesia in a little water before retiring for a few nights. See the results that soon show. Mark the improvement in digestion and the absence of old distress. Note how much less your nerves bother you and how much more soundly you sleep at night. A week tells the story. McKesson's Milk of Magnesia is more economical to use. The 8 oz. bottles cost only 25c and the 16 oz. bottles only 39c. Always ask for McKesson's by name.
