"SERVICE ABOVE SELF"

Tune In Saturday Night

Saturday, March 8 is the Eighth Anniversary of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Its actual creation came within four days from President Roosevelt's inauguration in 1933, when a group of 70 farm leaders gathered in Washington and adopted an plan to relieve long suffering agriculture. On May 12, 1933, Congress ratified the AAA plan.

This March 8 the President will head a group of speakers celebrating the creation of the AAA, and they will be heard at 9 p. m. Central Standard Time from coast to coast, over one or more radio networks. Vice-President Henry A. Wallace, so long identified with the Agricultural program, and his successor at Secretary of Agriculture, Claude Wickard, will also be on the March 8th broadcast.

This observance of the creation of AAA is important to all Tennesseans. It is our most earnest hope that farmers and business men alike, at various meetings, at home or wherever they may be, spare sufficient time to hear our President and his associates. For they will not only review the accomplishments of American Agriculture, from near disaster to a near decade of recovery, but will talk of tomorrow, and the role of our farm population in a time when the future is clouded and our destiny is menaced by world confusion and conflict.

Tennessee's farmer today have better than 86 percent of the state's total cropland under the AAA Conservation practices. From 1936 thru 1940, our farmers have received over $58,000,000 in AAA benefit payments of various kinds. In 1940 alone Tennessee farmers under the AAA spread 738,000 tons of ground limestone; 87,000 tons of 16 percent phosphate, and 22,600 tons of triple superphosphate. Also in 1940 they ran 15,900,000 feet of terraces. They seeded 1,912,000 acres to legumes and grasses. And these figures barely touched the story of AAA.

The AAA affects two thirds of the people in Tennessee, directly or indirectly through its support of parity prices, contributions to improved farming and benefit payments the whole state has benefited.

WIND STORM CAUSES LOSS IN ADAMSVILLE

Several Building in Town Are Destroyed

OTHERS BADLY DAMAGED

No One Hurt Enough, However, To Require Any Medical Attention—200 in Theater At Time

By LESLIE HOUSTON

Special to The Commercial Appeal ADAMSVILLE, Tenn., March 4.—A wind storm which struck this little East McNairy County community at 9 o'clock Monday night destroyed several buildings and damaged at least two-thirds of others in the town.

No one was injured seriously enough to require medical attention.

Worst Storm In Years

It was the worst storm that has visited this section since a cyclone struck Shiloh Park, eight miles from here, 30 years ago.

Damage was estimated at $25,000. Among the buildings suffering the greatest damage were the Presbyterian church, which was destroyed; the high school building, the dwellings of E. S. Crowe, Custer Perkins, Clytus Singleton, Phelan Garner and J. D. Grant.

Power and telephone lines were blown down for more than a mile and service will not be fully restored before sometime Wednesday.

Some 200 persons viewing the film "Gone With The Wind" in the Dixie Theater narrowly escaped injury when the adjoining building was unroofed.

Red Cross On Job

H. T. Jordan, chairman of the McNairy County Chapter of the Red Cross, is supervising the work of finding temporary shelter for the homeless families.

TO THE PEOPLE OF COLLIERVILLE AND VICINITY

Today the Herald comes to you under new management, the undersigned having succeeded Mr. Ira M. Kimball, who has operated the paper for the past several years. I have purchased the publishing and job printing plant of the Herald, and am here to make my home among you. My wife and two daughters will join me at the close of the school session in Ripley, Mississippi.

Let me first express publicly my appreciation to those who have already extended a welcome to this stranger within your gates. I hope to not remain long a stranger. I am here to make a living and to cast my lot with the progressive people who are already engaged in promoting the best interests of Collierville and the surrounding territory. The right kind of newspaper serves a community in a peculiar sense, and there is no institution that can quite take its place. No other private enterprise "belongs to the public" as does the newspaper. The editor and owner wants to assure this town and community that the Herald is their newspaper. By this we mean that it is your servant in developing this town and surrounding communities. And, in a sense, your paper is what you make it.

I am here to join hands with the schools, the churches, all other organizations of the community in their efforts to advance the interests that lie close to the hearts of all progressive and right-minded citizens. And I want every individual to know that as man to man, the editor is here to work with every one who loves his community and its institutions, and is ready to prove that affection in action.

Getting personal: of course the editor appreciates the present subscription list, and naturally we want our family of readers to grow as we go along. To advertisers we call your attention to the splendid medium you have in your community newspaper. Please remember that our shop is equipped for first class job printing, and we solicit your business, whether large or small. Bear in mind always, if you please, that we are here to serve. It will be our constant aim to serve you faithfully and to see that you get your money's worth in every transaction you engage in with us.

I extend to every one, whether you live here in town or in the outlying territory, a cordial invitation to visit us here in the shop. Please feel free to drop in at any time, bring a bit of news, a suggestion, or merely a how-do-you-do.

American Telephone and Telegraph Co. Expands

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. is carrying out an extensive program between Memphis, Tenn., and Decatur, Ala. This work consists of retransposing the wires, which will enable the Telephone Co. to install several J carrier systems. Foremen E. J. Stucky and R. A. Johnson with their crews of the 5th Division of St. Louis are now located in Collierville. They are carrying out the work in this section of the Decatur-Memphis Lines.

Collierville is indeed very fortunate in having these crews with their families locate here. Their stay will be very beneficial to our town in every respect, and we certainly hope that they shall enjoy being with us. Mr. and Mrs. Stucky are making their home with the Maurice Moore's; Mr. and Mrs. Johnson in the Stamps Apartments, others in town are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Hanlon, Mr. and Mrs. Heim, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Dodson, Mr. George Morrison, Mr. Tucker and Mr. Bufalo.

Santa Didn't Get It

Less than one-third of the money saved by individuals during 1940 under Christmas club plans operated by banks was actually used for Christmas purchases, a report by Christmas Club, Inc., shows. Most of the $365,000,000 saved by 7,500,000 club members went into permanent savings, payment of bills, taxes, insurance premiums, educational, travel and other contributions.

Becomes Publisher Of Collierville Paper

Tom Anderson

Who recently purchased The Collierville Herald, a weekly newspaper at Collierville, Tennessee, and took charge of the business there on Monday of this week. The Herald is an old established newspaper and was sold by Ira M. Kimball, the former owner, on account of ill health.

Mr. Anderson first became connected with the Southern Sentinel in August 1919, and with the exception of about six months spent in Tupelo, where he was employed by the Tupelo Journal, he has been with the Sentinel.

For a number of years, Mr. Anderson was head of the mechanical department and manager of the Sentinel office. He was connected with the Sentinel for a longer period of time than any other employee in the history of the paper, and it is interesting to note that while in the Sentinel office he made ready for the press more than eleven hundred editions of the paper, and mailed out and stamped the names of subscribers on more than three million copies of the Sentinel. The longest period that he was absent from his duties in the Sentinel office at any one time was three days.

Mr. Anderson served as a member of the Board of Aldermen of Ripley for several years, and was on the board when the present up-to-date water system was installed, and when plans were formulated for securing TVA power. He has been a member of the Board of Deacons of the Ripley Baptist church for a number of years.

His wife and two daughters, Misses Martha and Jean Anderson, will remain in Ripley until school closes, after which they will join him in Collierville.

His many friends in Tiptah county and other sections of the state wish him much success in his new location.

Southern Sentinel, Ripley, Miss.

SISTER OF LOCAL BUSINESS MAN DIES

The many friends of Mr. J. W. Skinner deeply sympathize with him and his family in the loss of his sister, Mrs. Jap Smith, of Tiptah county, Miss. Mr. and Mrs. Skinner and daughters, Misses Dora and Carmelia and Mrs. Neely Short attended the funeral and burial at Tiptahville on Wednesday.

W. H. King Returns Home From Hospital

W. H. King returned to his home in Forest Hill, Monday, after about ten days spent in the Methodist hospital in Memphis, where he went for treatment. While still confined to his bed, he is getting along nicely, and his friends hope he will soon be able to be out.

Mrs. Nat Dunn, Mrs. James Mann and Mrs. Howard Carrington were visitors in Memphis, Tuesday.

Former Residents Return To Collierville

Mr. and Mrs. John Neely and their daughters, Virginia, Marie and Hilda Sue Neely of Memphis, are moving back to Collierville after making their home in Memphis for two years. Their many friends here will welcome them.

Bolivar Dormitory Plans Revealed

Plans for the psychopathic ward dormitory building, one of two new structures to be erected immediately at the Western State Hospital at Bolivar, Tenn., were revealed last week.

The City of Memphis stands approximately one-half of the maintenance cost of the hospital, and a Memphis architect firm, J. Frazer Smith, Inc., is in charge of the project. The new dormitory building will cost about $300,000, and the other structure, a laundry building, about $75,000.

Supplementing the present dormitory, the new building will be connected to it by a two-story wing and will add 600 beds to the institution, bringing the total to 1000. Present equipment of the hospital is described as sufficient to care for that number.

The new dormitory will be of brick and structural concrete construction, four stories in height. It will be divided into small wards, each accommodating six to ten patients. Construction will be 100 per cent fire proof, with all metal trim and sheet asbestos covering the doors.

There will be eight "ward centers" where baths, dressing rooms, locker rooms, and clothing and linen for the patients will get assigned to separate parts of the building.

The structure includes new dining rooms and kitchens, which will be on the ground floor of the connecting wing. An innovation here will be that all patients, in two shifts of 500 each, will be served their meals in the dining room, cafeteria style. The present system is to carry the food to the different wards.

On the second floor of the connecting wing will be living quarters for the attendants, and the roof of the wing will be used as a sun deck. The ground between the two dormitory buildings will be converted into parks.

The building is designed to conform to the policy of treating the patients to cure them, rather than simply confining them. In the dormitory, however, there will be several confinement rooms for use in case of necessity.

Mr. Smith said work is under way on the building's foundation and the whole structure probably will be complete by October. Lee Construction Co. of Memphis is general contractor.

The laundry building is scheduled for completion in May. Its 75,000 cost includes complete new equipment, and it will replace the present outmoded laundry structures which are said to have become structurally unsound.

It will be of two-story reinforced concrete construction with brick exterior, and was designed to become a wing of a future larger building which is included in the eventual building program.

Mrs. Haynes Undergoes Operation

Mrs. Ford Haynes of Whitehaven, is recuperating from a minor operation she underwent at the Methodist Hospital in Memphis, last week. She is reported to be getting along nicely. Mrs. Haynes is the former Miss Jane Isbell.

Mrs. Osteen Ill

Mrs. William Osteen, of Millington, Tenn., was operated upon for acute appendicitis at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Osteen and their small son, were spending Sunday with Mrs. Osteen parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dudley, at their home on Poplar Pike, when she was taken ill. She was rushed to the hospital and operated upon immediately. Reports are that she is getting along nicely.

Debris, metal roofing, boards and household goods were scattered for more than one mile.

U.S. Gain Slowing Up But Not Tennessee's

During the decade 1930-1940
the population of the United States as a whole increased more slowly than in any previous period of ten years in United States history.
According to a recent press release in the 1940 census, the population of the United States in 19-40 was 131,669,275, an increase of only 8,894,239 over the 122,775,- 046 reported in 1930. This increase of approximately 7.2 per cent compares rather unfavorably with the increase of 16.1 per cent from 1920 to 1930, and is in fact less than one half as great as the increase shown in any decade since the first census of 1790.

This slowing up of the United States population growth may be attributed mainly to two causes: a declining birth rate and the almost complete cessation of immigration. Since both of these causes will probably become increasingly influential, it is expected that the country's population will reach a static point about 1970 or 1980.

The distribution of the increase during 1930-1940 is also significant. Six states actually lost population; but five of these North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma, are in the Dust Bowl area. The other state is Vermont, in the New England section. In general, industrial states of the East and Middle West showed the smallest gains in population, and states of the South and West (except for the Dust Bowl region) the largest.
For further information concerning national population changes, see the accompanying map.

While the country as a whole was falling far behind its rate of growth for the preceding decade, Tennessee almost held her own.
Her increase in population from 1930 to 1940 was 11.4 per cent, whereas the increase during the previous ten-year period was 11.9 per cent. Tennessee's total population, according to the final figures of the 1940 census, was 2,915,841, an increase of 299,285 over the 2,515,555 population reported in 1930. Only eleven states and the District of Columbia had a larger percentage gain for 1930-1940 than Tennessee's.

I DO NOT LIKE TO PRAY ALOUD

I do not like to pray aloud

With men and women in a crowd.

To me the Lord has eager ears

And always listens, always hears.

I sometimes wonder, when we kneel,

If God in heaven does not feel,

That half the spoken prayers that rise

Are merely meant to advertise.

It seems to me, I may be wrong,

That, when we wrestle loud and long

With Love that yearns to grant and give,

It is a burning lie we live.

When I desire to have a word

Alone with God, I can be heard

Without a single uttered phrase,

If my own heart within me prays.

My Father always understands,

He comes with blessings in His hand.

With loving wisdom, He bestows

The best for me, because He knows.

I choose to come without a word,

To come with faith I shall be heard.

With men and women in a crowd,

I do not like to pray aloud.

$1,000,000 IN TAXES

Last year the Tennessee beer industry paid to the State treasury more than $1,000,000 in taxes.

A substantial part of this tax, $407,148, was allocated to the support of the elementary and junior high schools of the State. The remainder was divided between the State, Counties and Cities for general purposes, including social welfare, public health service and old age pensions.

But for legal beer this one million dollars would have had to come from new or increased taxes—an added burden to the taxpayer.

In addition, the beer industry of the State provides 15,000 jobs for Tennesseans.

Through this Committee, our industry is cooperating with law-enforcement officials in the elimination of undesirable retail outlets — thereby promoting wholesome conditions and preserving beer's economic benefits to Tennessee.

You can help by patronizing only law-abiding retailers!

In the Wright Cyclone G-200 engine there are 5,497 parts, according to Guy W. Vaughan, president of the Curtiss-Wright corporation.

Sidewalk Trespassing

As the ownership of property on a street extends to the middle of the roadway, both sidewalk and the street are intended only as rights of way for the public, says Collier's. Thus the New York Supreme court has held that a man who stops on the sidewalk in front of another's house and shouts abusive and insulting language at him is a trespasser.

Something in This Name!

With the recent election of Charles E. Wilson as president of General Motors corporation, there are now three men with this name holding down key jobs in large American industries. The others: Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric company, and Charles E. Wilson, vice president of Worthington Pump & Machinery corporation.

Famous Leaning Tree

The Grizzly Giant, an enormous sequoia tree in Yosemite National park, is known as the leaning tree. It is 209 feet high and leans 18 3-10 feet off center, or approximately 4 degrees and 58 minutes. Research shows that it has been off center for centuries, but is in no danger of falling.

Award for Keeping Out of Court

V. Whitney, president of the American Arbitration association.

Tribute to Tobacco

Charles Kingsley's tribute to tobacco is as follows: "When all things were made, none was made better than tobacco; to be a lone man's companion, a bachelor's friend, a hungry man's food, a sad man's cordial, a wakeful man's sleep and a chilly man's fire. There's no herb like it under the canopy of heaven."

Statue on Capitol

Not so well known, perhaps, as the Statue of Liberty, the statue which crowns the dome of the nation's Capitol at Washington takes on great significance at this time. The statue is that of Freedom, armed with helmet, shield and sheathed sword. The bronze statue is 19½ feet high, weighs 15,000 pounds. It was set in place, 307½ feet above the esplanade, December 2, 1863. "Freedom" is the work of Thomas Crawford, an American artist. The original model is in the Smithsonian institution.

One of Its Kind

Los Angeles, Calif., lays claim to what is probably the only marriage clinic in this country, probably in the world. It is the Institute of Family Relations with Dr. Paul Popenoe, one of the first ranking social eugenicists in the nation, as general director. The institution is supported in part by generous donors who are interested in the promotion of social service. The institute is particularly proud of its premarital service, which is offered to those about to wed who want help in making their marriage a success. Every couple who have taken this service before marriage are still married, so far as is known.

HE HAD HIS NERVES;

THEY COST HIM $25

"I drank a little because I was nervous, judge. I didn't mean to get drunk again," Roscoe Morrell, 46, of Ripley, Tenn., said the other day when he appeared in City Court on a drunkenness charge placed against him an hour after two other counts of drunkenness had been dismissed by Judge Bateman the day before.

"I dismissed two drunk charges against you yesterday because you promised me you'd not drink too much again," Judge Bateman said. "You're not playing fair—I'll have to fine you this time. It'll cost you $25 and costs, Roscoe."

Morrell was arrested three times on the charge in a 50-hour period.

82 MORE SELECTEES CALLED FOR SHELBY

March 21 Is Set As Date For Induction

MONTH'S QUOTA IS 126

Tennessee Was Asked for 800 Men On Fifth Call—92 Negroes Are Included In This County's Requirements

An unexpected call for 82 additional selectees to be inducted March 21 yesterday swelled Shelby County's March quota to 126 white men, the largest number called out in any month since passage of the Selective Service Act.

The call yesterday was sent out from state headquarters at Nashville, which late last month ordered 56 men to be inducted from Shelby on March 13. Tennessee is asked for 800 men on this, the fifth call.

Expected Heavy Call

Local draft board members, expecting a sharp increase this month in the number of men ordered to camp, were surprised last week when the March 13 call asked for only 46 men. The third call, the only one in February, had asked for 88 men. Opinion among the members is that "heavy" calls also will be made in

Food Map of Europe as of Today

The starvation areas of Europe can be seen at a glance, above. This map will now darken from month to month as, in many countries, the last remaining food stocks reach exhaustion.

New York (Special) — All Europe is on short rations. Only tiny Portugal still commands a normal food supply. Before the first of the next harvests can be reaped, five months must elapse. In some countries, remaining food stocks will have been exhausted long before, when conditions of slow starvation which already exist will become actual famine. Moreover, in several European countries the harvest covers only a few months consumption.

The above map has been drawn to bring the threatened areas into relief. As may be seen at a glance, the British Isles, Germany, Italy and the Balkans, although all on rations, are not in danger. But the little, western democracies, already dependent on overseas supplies and now cut off by the blockade, are already on a semi-starvation basis.

Darkest, immediate spots in the picture are Belgium and Poland (the latter because of war devastation and partitioning). Here, actual famine already prevails. People are dying of sheer hunger. But Spain, France,

April and May.

The 82 additional selectees will be called between March 21 and 28, along with 92 negroes, the Shelby County quota of 300 negroes to be called in Tennessee at that time.

Division of Call

The Shelby fifth call will be divided as follows:

Board Number	White	Negroes
1	3	5
2	2	5
3	2	4
4	4	5
5	8	16
6	8	13
7	10	5
8	12	5
9	10	9
10	7	10
11	8	10
12	8	5

The white men will be to Fort Ogelthorpe, Ga., induction center for Tennesseans on March 21, which the negroes will go there on the following day, headquarters announced.

Other Counties

The fifth call will take the following men from other West Tennessee counties:

Whites: Benton, 4 on March 25; Carroll, 7 on March 21; Dyer, 11, Fayette, 3, Gibson 12; Hardeman, 4, all on March 21; Hardin, 5 on March 25; Haywood, 3, Henderson, 5 on March 21; Henry, 7 and Houston 2 on March 25; Lake 3; Lauderdale 5; McNairy, 6 on March 25; Madison 10 and Obion 8, Tipton 6 and Weakley 8 on March 21.

Negroes: Carroll 2, March 24; Dyer 2, Crockett 2, Fayette 11, Gibson 5 on March 22; Hardeman, 4; Hardin 1, on March 24; Haywood 10 on March 21; Lake 3, Lauderdale 5 on March 22; McNairy 1 on March 24; Madison 12 and Obion 2, Tipton 6 on March 22, and Weakley 1 on March 24.

Mr. Bruce Overton, National Youth Administration State Director, and Miss Nola Quarles, N. Y. A. State Supervisor of Girl's Work, will discuss the mechanical and production work of young women employed by the National Youth Administration as it is directly related to the National Defense Program.

The discussion will be broadcast over Station WHBQ, Memphis, at 6:15 p. m. Monday, March 3, over the "United States Government Reports" program.

Participating in the three-way interview will be Mrs. Amy Brown Miles, State Director for the Office of Government Reports.
