

Helena National Forest Ranger Roll Call

History: The Elkhorn and Big Belt Forest Reserves were established in 1905 and the Helena Reserve in 1906. In 1908 the Elkhorns and north portion of the Big Belts were combined with the Helena Reserve. Eventually a portion of the Elkhorn range and the southern portion of the Helena was made a part of the Deerlodge. The Lincoln district was a late addition - coming from the public domain and adjacent forests to the north in the 1920s. Small boundary adjustments have been made over the years. The Helena District now is comprised of the area along the Continental Divide, the west side of the Elkhorns and the north end of the Big Belts. The Townsend District is made up of the east side of the Elkhorns, the southern portion of the Big Belts as well as the Dry range to the east of the Big Belts.
