A RANGERS LAMENT

Twas five in the evening, the staff was all leaving
The boss had just jumped in his car.
His memo had said your finances are red so please get your work up to par.

They shed a sad tear cause they wanted a beer and
They thought of the long night ahead -----
The 6 rangers forlorn looked up from their forms,
And these are the words that they said.

CHORUS

Our mothers never told us the things a young ranger
should know,

About the ways of office work and how it grows and grows --- mostly grows.

Multiple use has taken our beauty and work plans have left t their sad scar.

So forget all your manuals and handbooks boys ----- Yell --- AND LET'S ALL ADJOURN TO THE BAR !!!!!!!
