Dearest Mom and Dad,

*Isn't it wonderful? It's all over. Gee, it seemed as though it would never come to an end. But - at last, there's no more war!
I'm so glad Connie won't have to fight, he may not get home for a while, but he won't be in danger.*

*Last night,
I had 1 old fashioned. Mr.
Koerner gave them (drinks) to everyone. There was a lot of whoopie being made, but I didn't feel much like making "whoopie"; felt more like crying when I heard the news it was so wonderful and yet - thinking about those who won't come back makes you feel kind of serious.*

Mr. Kaerner gave the help pop, beer and liquor. and food. Everyone was in the help hall singing and making merry and soon — even the guests had come in and were having a nice time. A group of us went down to Vase's but there wasn't much doing there.

And — to top it all off. Mr. Kaerner said there should be no bunch hour and so, we didn't have to get to work until 11:00 & we were through by 1:30.
He's the only one around here who did that.

About my "blow-ups"
last Sunday. Mom & Daddy it's the first & only time I've acted that way around here. Guess I was just a little disappointed. Honestly I never argue or have had anyone mad at me. It was too — the way Mr.
Kaerner acted that made me mad kept on going in his car & didn't even stop to say what he wanted to.
As for his being mad. He won't be angry with me.
"Oev" didn't know what it was all about. If anyone is a crab around here — she is.
Honestly! The kids get so Disgusted with her sometimes.

You understand now.

Hope you and Dad can get down here to see me sometime soon. I miss you both.

Love you
Janet
