Breaking New Ground

By: Norma Hardin

The day was a hot one. However, the heat didn't deter a huge gathering of people — teachers, students, administrators, county office personnel, aides, tutors, parents, and interested towns people. The occasion was something these people had waited for for several years, and they weren't going to miss it.

As I donned my hard hat, especially made for this special occasion, I was truly moved and touched. This was quite an honor. I stood with Mrs. Bates, our principal, and Mrs. Zullinger, one of the counselors, on this hot Thursday, August 23, 1990, in front of a brand new sign. That sign had been placed by CMI Construction Company and indicated that it was on the site of the new Immokalee Middle School. We were there along with county personnel and our county commissioner, Anne Goodnight, for the ground breaking of the new school. As we received our gold shovels, I realized a dream of several years was actually about to come true. Once those shovels of dirt were turned, construction would soon begin and we would see the huge piece of land at the corner of Immokalee Drive and North Ninth Street be transformed before our very eyes. And in December, 1991, we would be moving into a brand new building with all new equipment. Perhaps, we will be able to say the wait was worth it all.

IMS Students Make Music Video

WANTED:

Thousands of kids of all ages
Come to Naples Beach on SATURDAY, JANUARY 26, 9 AM!

Many Immokalee Middle School students accepted this invitation — with a little help from the buses and sponsors provided by the school — and went to Naples Beach to be in a music video. It is to be used on television as part of the celebration of the "Year of the Child" — 1991.
