

Jacque, &

It was great getting to know you a little at the seminar, and I hope that somehow we can become better acquainted in the future.
Just keep on doing God's will and may He bless your life in abundance and richly. I have much love for you as a sister in Christ.

Love, your brother
Mike Woodcock

JACQUIE JOY BAILEY

Jacque Joy, It's been fun having you around to discuss world problems with. Good luck in the future and all that just maybe I'll see you at church
if not, bye

WELCOME

TO SOFT MACHINE HEAVEN

There we were. Impregnated in a rubbery red substance that said, "Tradition," which we'd known before. The task, find a theme — an idea — with which we could live for the next nine months. Like all before us, we prayed for the safe, the conservative, the way that would harm no one and win us into the hearts of thousands of followers. And then someone said, "All right, this is it, boys."

"This is where we break the mold."

"Anything goes."

"From now on we are a free spirit, forgetting that which is behind us and loving, hating, cheering, booing, complimenting, criticizing, that which lies in front of us."

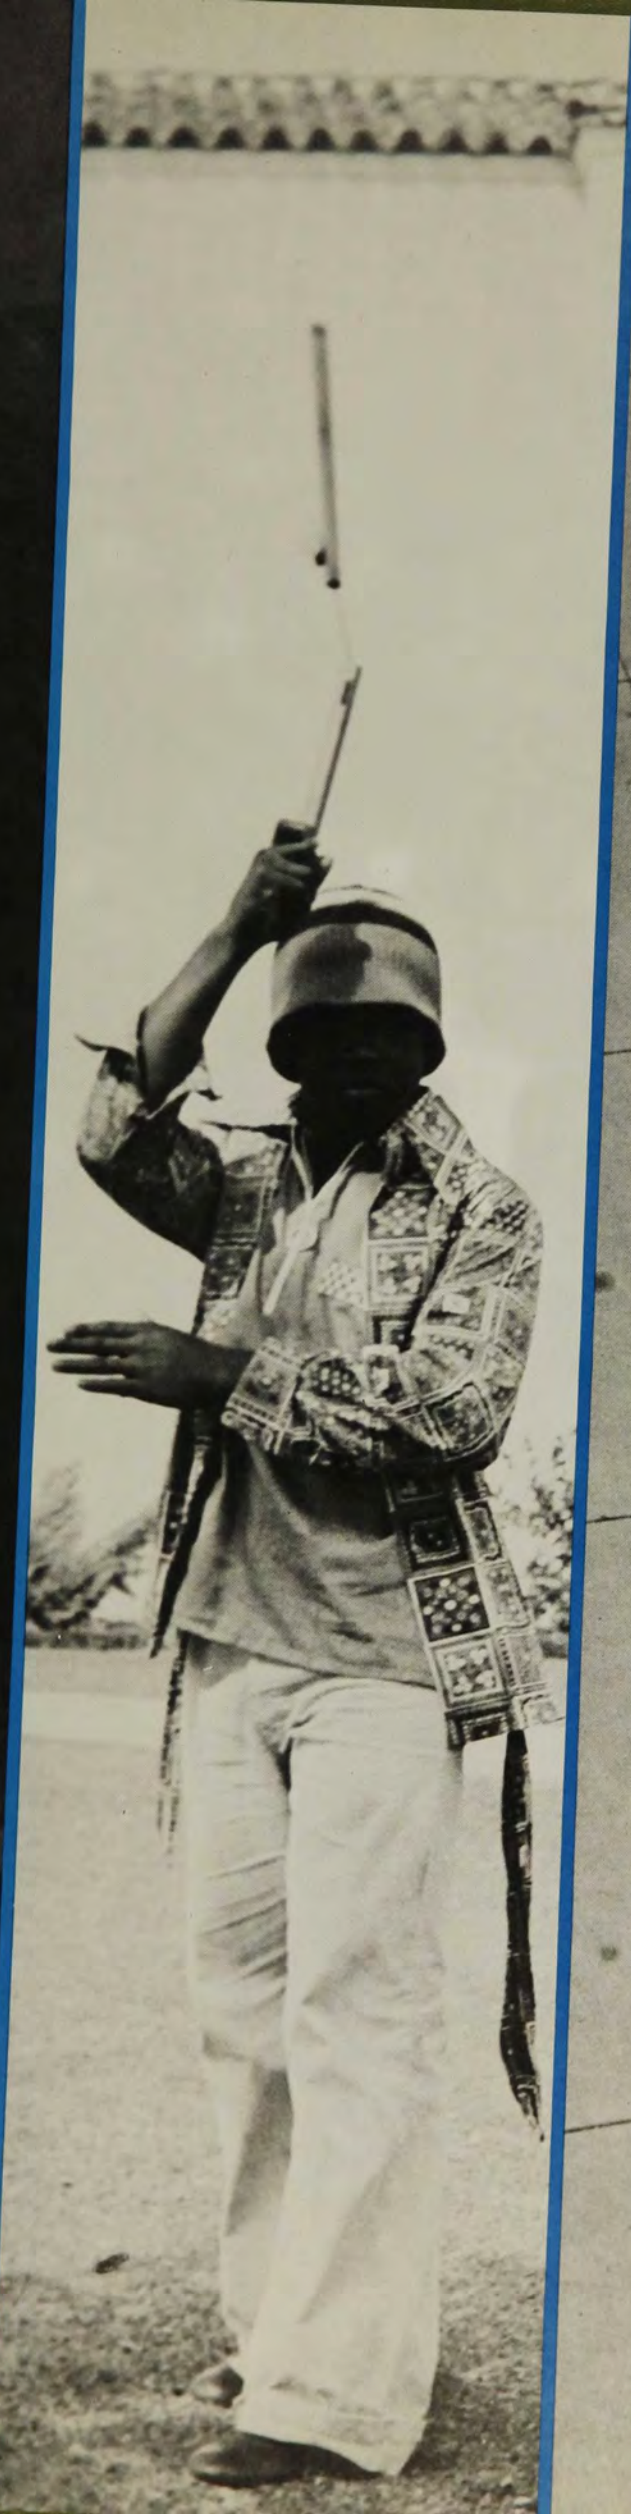

This is the new world.

Welcome to it.

I AM THAT I AM
FROM THE SUN,
AND PEOPLE ARE NOT MY MEASURE.

"What a tangled web we weave when first we practice to deceive"

— Sir Walter Scott

Blessed are those who have patience enough to wait for the place in the line, for theirs is always followed by another. Never first, never last. And then only to find that the direction has changed when they are second to the first. Enough? There's always room on the whip for one more lash. Pain? It always ends, leaving one known fact: Love between the ugly is the most beautiful love of all. Drops of philosophy cannot be escaped and so, while bombardment (a fairly long word) is tedious, subtlety (what?) is heaven. And so They and We and You and I pick up our Franz Kafka or our Rona Jaffe, listen to our Randy Newman or our Marc Bolan, cry to our pillow or to our Days of Our Lives, and dance the Hootchie-Koo. And who knows which is dark and which is light. Eclipse? No one will see this anyway. Monrovia (UPI) . . . "40,463 people were killed today when a gigantic pickle named Maurice went on a rampage, destroying three luxurious parking lots, Library Park, and the multi-million dollar Park Plaza. A mass funeral will be held for the dead at the Gilded Cage, Monday, November 19, 1974. The pickle is still at large . . . " Who can tell what is sick. Perhaps it is trite or ridiculous. Did they know that James Joyce wrote the longest sentence ever? Someone should have warned them.

IT ALL MEANS NOTHING AT ALL, BUT HOWLINGLY.
— DYLAN THOMAS

SO THIS IS THE OPENING . . .

Okay, so much for now. We'll turn the spotlight from the abstract and surreal and guide out of this nebulousness. It's no longer time to build flying machines. It's time to leave forced smiles and dearest loves and turn to the channeled and defined — the grouped of you.
